RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF THE CALCUTTA ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS (F.)

Calcutta, the 12th November 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Committee for the management of the Calcutta Zoological Gardens for the year 1887-88.

THE total income of the Gardens during the year under report, inclusive of the Government grant of Rs. 20,000, amounted to Rs. 45,279 against Rs. 47,541 in the previous year, while the expenditure rose from Rs. 40,650 to Rs. 43,992, this increase being due chiefly to the comparatively heavy outlay incurred in the purchase of several valuable animals from the menagerie of the late King of Oudh. Of the advance of Rs. 5,000 sanctioned by Government for this purpose, a portion only, viz. Rs. 1,487-11, was drawn, the greater part of the cost being defrayed from the ordinary resources at the disposal of the Committee.

2. The income derived from donations and subscriptions fell to Rs. 1,030 only as against Rs. 5,989 in 1886-87, when, however, the figure reached was, owing to the munificent gift of Rs. 5,000 made by the Nawab of Moorshedabad, unusually high. The entrance receipts amounted to Rs. 8,294 against Rs. 7,140 in the previous year, and the receipts from the other sources, detailed on the margin, aggregated Rs. 7,684 against Rs. 7,295 in 1886-87.

Rents, Rs. 2,226; carriages and horses, Rs. 556; boats and palkies, Rs. 627; and miscellaneous, inclusive of the percentage on the Fancy Fair and Fête collections, Rs. 4,275.

3. The establishment employed in the Gardens cost Rs. 9,809, or Rs 661 more than in the previous year; feeding, Rs. 9,335; purchase of animals, Rs. 5,211; transport of animals, Rs. 1,449; and construction and repair of buildings and roads, Rs. 13,527. The opening balance of the year was Rs. 6,891, and the closing balance Rs. 1,286.

4. The principal works undertaken during the year were the construction of a snake-pit and rockery at an expenditure of Rs. 2,000, the construction of a deer-kiosk costing Rs. 1,220, and the removal of the peafowl house from the former site, and its reconstruction in a more conspicuous part of the Gardens.

5. The number of visitors to the Gardens who paid entrance fees was 108,041 against 97,099 in the previous year, and against an average number of 127,313 for the six preceding years. These figures are exclusive of a large number of students and children under eight years of age, who were admitted into the Gardens during the year free of charge.

6. The most important additions made in the course of the year were an Indian and a Javan rhinoceros, two Bactrian camels, three Russian bears, a young clouded leopard, and an adult man-eating tiger. The leopard was presented by Mr. C. J. Soltoun, Assam, the man-eating tiger by His Highness the Maharajah of Gidhaur, and the remaining animals were obtained by purchase. Of the presentations made, there were 48 mammals, 79 birds, and four reptiles. As many as 131 presentations were made during the year, a very satisfactory indication of the continuance of public interest in the institution.

7. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the members of the Committee for their efficient management of the Gardens during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

DISTRESS IN KHOORDA.

THE following papers are published for general information.

No. 292TR, dated Darjeeling, the 7th November 1888.

From—P. NOLAN, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Dept.

WITH reference to the correspondence ending with your letter No. 70—7-8F, dated 18th October 1888, I am directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, copy of a letter, No. 1961R, without date, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, with enclosure, reporting on the administration of relief in the Khoorda sub-division for the fortnight ending 30th September 1888. The reports indicate that the condition of the people in the affected area improved during the period to which they relate, but that there was reason to apprehend a failure of the next rice crop. I am, however, to observe that there has been good rain during the last few days all over South Orissa, which has now extended also to Cuttack and Balasore. As the Lieutenant-Governor is about to visit Orissa, further comments are unnecessary.

No. 1961R, dated Cuttack, the October 1888.

From—C. F. WORSLEY, Esq., Commissioner of the Orissa Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

IN accordance with paragraph 9 of the Famine Code, I have the honour to submit copy of a report noted in the margin from the Collector of Pooree on the administration of relief in Khoorda sub-division for the fortnight ending 30th September 1888.

No. 6T, dated 18th October 1888.

2. There was a marked improvement in the condition of the people in the affected area during the fortnight under review, and at the present time the distress caused by the long drought in June and July may be said to be practically at an end. There are, however, a few sporadic cases of indigence, chiefly among children, in which some help is still required in the way of food.

3. From the 10th to the 19th instant, I was on tour with the Collector in Khoorda sub-division, and we visited portions of the three circles (Nos. I, II, and III) which have not yet been closed. From the appearance of the people I should have concluded that there had been nothing unusual in the season; and after passing through many villages and observing the well-built houses of the cultivating classes, and their gardens and enormous herds of cattle, I was able to understand how, in spite of short harvests in two successive years, and of the large losses of rice seedlings three months ago, they had needed so little assistance. The ryots of the Khoorda Estate are in fact as substantial a body of tenants as I have ever seen; and considering the low rents which they pay, it would be strange if their condition were otherwise than good. It was manifest to me that the recent distress must (as maintained all along by the local officers) have been confined almost entirely to the landless labourers. The resources of the cultivators, as described by Mr. Taylor (vide paragraph 4 of the Collector's report), are very different from those of an average Behar ryot in the rainy season.

4. In the course of my tour, I also visited Kalapathar village in the south-west corner of Banki Estate. Among the inhabitants of that village, I saw no signs of distress, but some 40 or 50 persons, mostly old men and women and young children of the aboriginal classes, were produced before me from neighbouring villages, who were greatly reduced and in need of charitable relief, which they were receiving. The total number of persons employed on improvement works or receiving charitable relief in Banki Estate was, I understood, less than a thousand, and I have not thought it necessary to call for fortnightly reports from the Collector of Cuttack.

5. Unfortunately, however, we have no sooner got rid of the consequences entailed by a failure of the July rains than we are threatened with another drought of a far more serious nature. The long break in the rains, or (as is feared by some) their premature cessation, is causing the utmost anxiety and alarm not only in each district of the division, but in many of the Tributary States. The sarad rice crop, which is the principal crop in Orissa, is generally backward this year, and requires the full average rainfall of October; but up to this date scarcely one-third of that average has fallen anywhere; while in many places there has been little or no rain at all. At Khoorda itself there has been only 0·57 against an average rainfall of 6·80 inches in October. From all I can learn, I believe that good rain within the next ten days will secure a fair crop, and that without rain the plant on the high lands, where not irrigated, will be lost. What proportion of the cultivation is low or irrigated land, or what outturn may be expected in the absence of rain, cannot now be estimated: but detailed enquiries on these points will be made from the beginning of next month if rain does not fall in the meantime.

6. The want of rain has not yet had much influence upon the prices of food-grains, and the extraordinary low price of mandia or marua, which ranges in Khoorda sub-division from 46 to 52½ seers per rupee, seems to show that there is plenty of cheap food to be purchased in the tracts where distress has recently been most felt.

7. I enclose a map showing the parts of Khoorda sub-division in which charitable relief was discontinued in the second half of September 1888.

No. 6T, dated Camp, Chandka, the 18th October 1888.

From—D. B. ALLEN, Esq., Officiating Collector of Pooree,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the report required by the Famine Code for the fortnight ending the 30th ultimo. Mr. Taylor's report for this period was submitted to me yesterday. He attributes the delay to his having had to wait for details of persons employed on some of the improvement works. I do not propose to forward this report in extenso, though it is a full and interesting one, as the diminution in distress alluded to in my last report continued during the fortnight under review.

2. During the fortnight I visited the South Chilka tracts, and every circle in the sub-division. The Inspectors of the Banpur and Rameswar Circles were sent back to their regular duties, and relief operations were entirely closed in the former and much restricted in the latter circle, which was put in charge of the Inspector of Police. With the exception of the Banpur Circle, the affected area has remained the same as before, but there has been a decided reduction in the portion of the population affected, and in the amount of relief that it has been necessary to afford.

3. The result of the cyclone of the 15th and 16th ultimo, which gave over six inches of rain at Khoorda, was decidedly beneficial. Mr. Taylor writes that "though a great many trees were uprooted in the north-east and north-west circles, the crops did not suffer except in the case of small areas of biali and mandia, which were ready for the sickle." Pân baris and household gardens were also somewhat injured; "but in all the other circles of Khoorda no damage worth speaking of was done by the cyclone. Everywhere on the estate the copious rainfall did incalculable good to the backward rice crops, and the improvement in the dhan all over the estate, and specially in the western circle, is far beyond what I could have believed possible. In no village do I think the loss will exceed 8 annas, and in a great many villages 12 to 16 annas crop may be looked for if we get some more rain during the current month." Unfortunately the rainfall during the current month has been unusually scanty, and unless rain falls generally within the next few days, the outturn estimated by Mr. Taylor will, I fear, prove to be excessive. The rain gauge at Khoorda registered the fall from the 15th to 30th at 7·52 inches, but at Banpur there was only 2·9 and in Chandka only 1·2 inches.

4. Speaking further of the general state of the affected tracts, Mr. Taylor writes: "As may be imagined, this favourable turn taken by the crops has greatly reduced the distress, not that the classes who are getting relief have any crops to gather, but the improved prospect has given confidence and heart to the people generally. The mahajan is now lending grain, and the purse strings of private charity have to some extent been loosened. Ryots will now give a handful of rice or some rice-water to their poorer neighbours, or employ them on pounding rice, thatching and other little jobs.

"Another thing which has affected the distressed classes favourably is that they all, as well as the substantial ryots and other residents, have some bari or garden land in their homesteads, and this year every bari has been literally crammed with vegetables and other articles of food, such as maize, mandia, jawar, &c. Since I have been at Khoorda, I have never observed so much garden cultivation as there is this year.

"The suan crop is over, but many persons have collected and kept a store, and chakunda sag (cassia-tara) is still available as a pot herb, though the leaves are now too old and not so nutritious as before. Some wild fruits, such as paniala (flacour tiaca ta phacta), &c., can also be gathered in the jungles, and with guavas and custard-apples supplement the food-supply.

"Another very important source of food-supply since the cyclone has been fish. Millions of little fishes of various species come from the tanks, jheels, nallas and rivers into all the paddy fields after heavy rains. These are fished for daily by all classes of the people, and even little children can catch a good feed of fish.

"The result of all this is very satisfactory, especially to the very poor, and there is a marked improvement in their physique. In villages where, when relief operations commenced, there were, say, 30 or 50 wretched creatures, mere skin and bone, there are now perhaps five or six, chiefly children, who still require some help in the way of food. In many villages no further gratuitous relief is necessary." The public health continues to be as good as usual at this season of the year.

5. The number of public works open in or near the affected tracts are reported by Mr. Taylor as follows:—

1. Khoorda and Kalapathar road .... 18 miles.
2. Bagmari and Bolegur road ... ... 16 „
3. Chandka to Sardeipur vid Khandgiri and Bhubaneswar ... 17 „
4. Tikatab and Kaduaberni road (new work) ... ... 6 „
5. Khoorda and Patnaika Road ... ... 8 „

Under the Khoorda Local Board from money advanced from the Improvement Fund.

6. Bhaliabari and Bengitangi village road ... ... 3 miles.
7. Kararmal and Bajpur village road ... ... 2 „

(b). Repairs and metalling along the whole length of the Cuttack and Ganjam Trunk Road, 73 miles, under the Executive Engineer, Pooree Division.

Repairs to the Kuakhai and Dya river embankments under the Executive Engineer, Pooree Division.

(c). Nil.

(d). Twelve petty works were opened by the Maharani of Pooree in the Ikhsajat villages of Rameswar and Tapang during the month of September, and 29 works under the Khas Mehal Improvement Fund have been opened in addition to the 110 works mentioned in Mr. Taylor's No. 531 of 8th ultimo.

6. Under clauses 4 and 5 of section 9 of the Famine Code, Mr. Taylor gives figures for this and the previous fortnight, which I now reproduce.

"Charitable Relief.

"(a). Persons relieved through Government agency for the fortnight ending 15th September 1888:—

	Men.	Women.	Children.	Total.
"North-east Circle ...	4,110	4,903	8,222	17,235

"Total ...	7,229	8,456	15,907	31,592
"Daily average ...	482	564	1,060	2,106

"For the fortnight ending 30th September 1888—

"North-east Circle ...	756	1,170	1,978	3,904
"North-west do. ...	395	750	1,330	2,475

"Total ...	2,814	4,143	7,810	14,767
"Daily average ...	188	276	521	985

"The very large reduction in the number of persons relieved during the second fortnight is due to the reductions made by circle officers under the orders received, to the rainfall of the 16th September, which gave ample field work all over the estate, to the increase to the poor of food-supply as noted in paragraphs 3 and 4, and to the number of works opened for those who could not before get work, and which enabled the stronger members of families to contribute towards the support of their families.

"The numbers given do not, however, represent the actual number of persons on the lists of charitable relief, but show the number of daily, weekly or half-monthly doles given. By dividing the figures by 3, an approximation will be obtained to the actual number of persons on the lists.

"(b). Persons relieved through private agency—

"Four hundred and seventy-eight families living in 14 villages of the Ikhsajat mehal were relieved by the agent of the Maharani of Pooree at a cost of Rs. 59-4-3 during the month of September 1888.

"The number of persons employed on works opened by the District Board during the last fortnight of September was 2,612 men, 439 women, and 704 children.

"The number of persons employed on works carried out by the Maharani of Pooree was 2,270 men and 179 children.

"Number of persons employed on khas mehal improvement work for the fortnight ending 15th September 1888:—

It will be seen that there was a satisfactory reduction during the last fortnight in the numbers receiving gratuitous relief, and I have satisfied myself by personal enquiries that all Circle Inspectors are now restricting the distribution of such relief to the minimum amount necessary to prevent death from starvation.

7. The number of persons employed on works is comparatively few. This is mainly due to the fact that up to the end of September field work for nearly all capable of labouring was available all over the sub-division, and the rate of wage paid on these works was as a rule fixed at a point that would not attract labourers, who could obtain ordinary work in the fields. In the South Chilka tracts the number of persons relieved gratuitously during the fortnight was only 87, while those on works were 1,038, of whom 17 were boys. Judging from the Inspectors' reports, I directed the close of operations in this area from the 1st instant, but the break in the rains will, I fear, necessitate the re-opening of relief works on a small scale. However, I am confident that Baboo B. M. Mukerjee will not incur any expenditure that is not absolutely essential for the purpose of saving life.

8. Under clause 6, Mr. Taylor writes: "Only Rs. 2-7 was paid to females at Jajarsingh for spinning cotton, Rs. 25 was advanced for cotton to Gobind Mangraj, and Rs. 21 was advanced to weavers for carrying on their trade." Nothing has been done at Satpara under this head.

9. Under clause 7, Mr. Taylor reports: "The stock of grain in the estate is sufficient, and the mahajans have been lending paddy and selling for cash, and from Banpur and Kuhuri there has been export of dhan to Ganjam at 10 and 11 rupees per bharan of 80—4-seer gunnies in former—and Rs. 23-8 per bharan of 8-seer gunnies in the latter place.

"The following prices for food-grains and salt prevailed in the several circles as reported by Circle Inspectors, canoongoes, and police during September. The figures given are in seers of 80 tolahs per rupee:—

South of the Chilka, stocks were sufficient and prices reasonable up to the end of the last month. Since then there has been a scarcity of grain in the markets, but measures are being taken to prevent any serious consequences arising from a failure of the local supplies.

10. The financial statement clause 8 is given by Mr. Taylor for the whole month of September, and as his figures for the last fortnight were apparently not quite accurate, I give a summary of his accounts for the whole month.

A.—Receipts—

Under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, the amount sanctioned was Rs. 90,000. Of this, Rs. 65,000 had been made over in previous months, and Rs. 20,000 in September. Under the Khas Mehal Improvement Fund of Rs. 28,372 sanctioned for Khoords, Rs. 15,000 had been drawn in previous months, and Rs. 5,000 in the month under review. Under gratuitous relief, Rs. 15,000 were sanctioned. The whole of that sum has been drawn by Mr. Taylor, but he probably will not require the full amount, and the balance will more than cover the small expenditure under this head by the Inspector of the South Chilka area. Of private subscriptions, there is no account, except the Rs. 1,000 advanced by the Maharani of Pooree, but no doubt a good deal of help has been given in a small way by the more substantial ryots to their poorer neighbours.

11. B.—Expenditure—

(a). On charitable relief, the actual expenditure up to the end of August has now been found to have been only Rs. 8,302. During the first fortnight of September, there was a further expenditure of Rs. 3,261, and during the second fortnight Rs. 1,487. This was distributed over the five circles of the sub-division as follows :—

	First fortnight. Rs. A. P.	Second fortnight. Rs. A. P.
North-east Circle	931 14 9	578 12 1½
North-west Do.	555 4 1	289 1 9
Western Do.	447 1 0	488 1 6
Rameswar Do.	399 10 0	165 0 0
Banpur Do.	927 9 9	16 11 0
	3,261 7 7	1,487 10 4½

(b). During the month of September, Rs. 3,338-1-6 was advanced for works by Circle Inspectors and Mr. Taylor. Rupees 412-10 was paid for old works on adjustment of accounts, and Rs. 204-13-6 was laid out in the purchase of tools.

Rupees 9,953 was advanced to 3,155 ryots during the month under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, of which Rs. 3,157 was advanced during the fortnight ending 30th September.

12. Besides the above a sum of about Rs. 1,000 has been expended as travelling allowance, carriage of grain, feed of elephants, &c., &c., of which the accounts have not yet been properly adjusted. In the Chilka tracts, the expenditure on gratuitous relief and works up to 30th September has amounted to only Rs. 675.

13. C.—Balance in hand—

(a) Gratuitous relief, Rs. 1,714-13-3½, of which Rs. 1,444-14-7½ are in the hands of Circle Inspectors, plus value of dhan and rice to be realized, say, Rs. 2,000.

(b) Improvement works, Rs. 5,077-2-4, of which Rs. 938-10-6 are in the hands of circle officers, and Rs. 8,372 not yet drawn—total Rs. 13,449-2-4.

14. As regards future requirements, Mr. Taylor now writes that "as the Commissioner has promised to sanction any sum really required for relief in excess of the Rs. 15,000 already received, I will not at present ask for more money, as I now hope that nearly all expenditure will be covered by the Rs. 15,000 originally granted." This is the view that I expressed in my last fortnightly report. Of course, if there be no more rain, there may be a fresh outbreak of distress, and no doubt there have been within the last few days grave apprehensions expressed all over the sub-division of the ultimate fate of the bulk of the winter paddy, but the crop is at present safe, and the distress of August and September is practically at an end. Whether we shall have a renewal of distress hereafter, time alone can show. So far prospects, though critical, cannot yet be described as alarming; but unless rain comes soon, we must anticipate a partial failure of the winter paddy crop. Meanwhile a plentiful crop of mandia is now coming into the market, and is being sold at a remarkably cheap rate. A good deal of high land has been sown down with kulthi, kalai, and other rubbi crops, and the fields, where an early rice crop has been harvested, are also being cultivated in many places for a second crop.

15. As regards deaths from starvation, further enquiries have shown that many of those originally reported as due to that cause were really not owing to the recent distress. I am having a statement prepared showing the result of enquiries made into each reported case of death from starvation, and, when complete, it will be forwarded to your office. A map is sent herewith.

13	Rungpur „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of amun rice continue bad everywhere except in the Kurigram sub-division, where they are fair. The sowing of cold-weather crops continues. Prices of food-grains rising.

BENGAL—concluded.
	Eastern Districts*—concld.
Chittagong Div. 22	Chittagong ...	...	Report not received.
Chittagong Div. 23	Noakholly Nov. 9, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rajasail paddy being reaped. Rain wanted for aman paddy. Sowing of rubbi crops commenced.
Chittagong Div. 24	Tipperah „ 8, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of standing crops still favourable, but a good shower of rain appears to be indispensably required to enable the dhan plants to come up strong in ear. Lands are being prepared for the cultivation of rubbi crops, and mustard seed and other seasonable crops are being sown here and there.
Chittagong Div. 25	Chittagong Hill Tracts. „ 6, '88	0·06	Weather—cloudy in the morning and evening throughout the week. Gathering of cotton commenced in some places; prospects not good. Paddy in low lands still flowering in some places; rain much wanted; prospects not good.
	Hill Tipperah „ 7, '88	Nil	Weather—not settled; cloudy. Chillies and tobacco being transplanted. Prospects of aman paddy, til and cotton fair.
BEHAR.
Patna Div. 26	Patna „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—days hot, mornings and evenings cool. Rubbi sowings progressing, but rain most urgently wanted. The Sub-divisional Officer of Behar reports that the paddy plants are being cut for fodder for cattle. Prices of food-grains rising.
Patna Div. 27	Gya „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—cool. About 8 annas of paddy crop destroyed for want of rain. Sowing of poppy is going on. Sowing of rubbi is being delayed for want of moisture in the soil.
Patna Div. 28	Shahabad „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—fair; mornings and evenings are cool. Paddy crop is fast withering for want of rain, except on canal-irrigated lands. Rubbi is being sown only on low lands; elsewhere sowing is practically stopped owing to absence of moisture. Prospects of this crop are gloomy. Sowing of poppy crop has commenced; prospects are reported to be unfavourable, and there will be difficulty in getting the full area sown in consequence of the want of moisture. Prices very high.
Patna Div. 29	Durbhanga „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—clear; getting cool. The high land rice crops in the north-western part of the Madhubani sub-division and some places in the Sudder sub-division are being cut for fodder. Rubbi sowings slowly going on where there is moisture in the land. Prices almost stationary.
Patna Div. 30	Muzufferpur „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—days hot; nights cool. Rubbi sowings progressing, but retarded in many places for want of sufficient moisture, and the young plants are suffering from the same cause. In parts of Sitamarhi paddy being cut for fodder. Prices rising. The price of common rice varies throughout the district from 11 to 14 seers, and of makai from 16 to 22 seers per rupee
Patna Div. 31	Sarun „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—warm generally; cloudy but no rain. Sowing of rubbi and poppy in full progress. Rain urgently wanted.
Patna Div. 32	Chumparun „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—cold. Paddy ripening. The upland crop, where irrigation was impossible, has failed. Rubbi sowings still in progress. Rain much wanted for poppy sowing.
Bhagulpore Div. 33	Monghyr „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable; getting cool. Paddy crop on high lands almost wholly gone in places, and rubbi sowings still retarded for want of rain. Price of rice going down a little.
Bhagulpore Div. 34	Bhagulpur „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—too cloudy and hot for the season. Owing to irrigation, the late rice in the Supool sub-division is coming on better than was expected, and may yet yield an outturn of 6 annas. Over the rest of the district it may be half an average crop, and is best in Madehpura. Rubbi sowings still very backward. Prices easier.
Bhagulpore Div. 35	Purneah „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—bright and clear and sun very powerful. Not a sign of the rain so long looked for and so much wanted. There is no improvement in the previous prospect that the outturn of the aghani crop will not exceed 8 annas in any part of the district, and will probably not exceed 4 or 5 annas in some parts. Common rice 11 to 14 seers per rupee.
Bhagulpore Div. 36	Maldah „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—cool and generally fine, but occasionally cloudy. The continued drought has greatly injured the prospects of the rice crops. In some parts they are being irrigated, but the outturn will not exceed 8 annas on the whole, and will probably be less. Prices are, however, easier, and common rice is now selling at an average of 17 seers per rupee. The prospects of spring crops are generally fair, but in some places these too have suffered for want of rain, and to a small extent from insects.
	Sonthal Perghs. „ 10, '88	0·16	Weather—winds variable; cloudy; clouds going off. The rice crops in Doomka, Deoghur and Jamtara will be very good; in Pakour and Godda fairly good; and in Rajmehal about 8 annas of rice sown on high land will suffer. Grubs are appearing in Rajmehal, and rubbi sowings need rain. Prices beginning to fall.
ORISSA.
Orissa Div. 38	Cuttack „ 9, '88	1·63	Weather—hot and cloudy at times. The rainfall during the week has benefitted the crops considerably and removed much of the apprehension which has hitherto prevailed. The high land paddy has suffered even as it is, but prospects are decidedly brighter, and prices shew a tendency to fall.
Orissa Div. 39	Pooree „ 8, '88	7·09	Weather—cloudy and rainy. The late rain has been favourable to the winter rice (late sarad) crop. No more rain is wanted for the present crop. Early laghu is being reaped in some places. Common rice 16 seers 14 chittacks per rupee in the Sudder sub-division, and 13 seers 12 chittacks in the Khoorda sub-division.
	Khoorda ...	5·48
Orissa Div. 40	Balasore „ 9, '88	0·11	Weather—hot and cloudy. There having been very little rain during the week, prospects of crops continue on the whole unfavourable, except within the jurisdictions of thanas Soroh and Chandbali, where a good fall is reported. Prices continue same as last week.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather and state and prospects of the crops.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
Chota Nagpore Div. 41	Hazaribagh Nov. 9, '88	Nil	Weather—rather unsettled, cloudy. Rain wanted for rabbi crops. Paddy on high lands being reaped. A 12-anna outturn of the entire crop expected.
42	Lohardugga „ 10, '88	0·06	Weather—cloudy. Slight rain during the week at head-quarters. It is badly needed for rabbi sowing. Prospect of winter paddy not favourable. Prices have a tendency to fall.
43	Singbhoom „ 9, '88	0·62	Weather—early part of week cloudy; rain on 6th and 7th; at present fine with sunshine. The two days' rain has benefited the rabbi crops and done no damage to the dhan, the prospects of which are as previously reported.
44	Manbhoom „ 10, '88	Nil	Weather—cloudy. Reaping of paddy going on. Probable outturn 6 to 12 annas. Crops damaged everywhere more or less for want of rain. Coarse new rice selling at 18 seers the rupee in the Purulia market.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER 1888.

OCTOBER is the month in which, as a rule, the south-west monsoon entirely retreats from the province of Bengal, and its place is taken by the north-east monsoon, which slowly and gradually establishes itself over the province. The south west monsoon, in its gradual retreat southwards, is followed by the northerly wind current, and over the area of interaction light and variable winds prevail. As this interaction in normal years takes place for a portion of the month over Bengal, winds over the province are usually light and variable; but as the south-west monsoon retreats over the Bay, conditions become favourable for the formation of cyclonic storms, and it is in October that the largest and fiercest cyclones are formed, for during this month most of the conditions are favourable for their production on an extensive scale These storms differ widely in different years in their nature and in their line of march, and they sometimes travel towards Bengal, and in other cases they cross the peninsula and pass into the Arabian Sea.

The general rainfall, due to the continuance of the south-west monsoon over Bengal, usually ceases during the first and second weeks in October, but even after this time local showers may fall. After the second week of October any rainfall which is brought up to Bengal is usually due to the formation and movement of cyclonic storms in the Bay, and it will evidently depend on the direction of their march and on the nature of such storms whether any rain at all is received in the latter half of October; and if any is received, the amounts will vary with the nature of the storm.

The rainfall of October in normal years is consequently due to two distinct causes, and as the second is, from its nature, an extremely variable and uncertain one, the average distribution of rainfall in October is decidedly more irregular than in the previous monsoon months, and also in any particular year its actual distribution may be of an extremely capricious character. The normal distribution of rainfall in October can therefore only be described with approximate accuracy. The average rainfall in Behar (with the exception of the Purneah and North Bhagulpore districts) and Chutia Nagpur (excluding the districts bordering on South-West Bengal) varies from two and a half to four inches. The amount is least in the Gya district. Rainfall varies from four to six inches in the case of the previously excepted districts, the western districts of Orissa, and the whole of Bengal, excluding the Julpigoree district, and a narrow strip extending along the coast and bounded on the north by a curved line running through Cuttack, Jajpore, Diamond Harbour, Port Canning, Chandpore and Chittagong. Over this long narrow area, the width of which varies from 20 to 60 miles, the average rainfall exceeds six inches.

The principal features to be considered, therefore, in the meteorology of October, are the date of the retreat of the south-west monsoon from the province, and the nature and the direction of movement of the cyclonic storms formed in the Bay

Meteorology of the month.—At the close of September weather in Bengal was similar to that which usually obtains at the close of the monsoon rains, and the monsoon current had to a great extent retired from the province at a date about ten days or a fortnight earlier than usual The period of transition when light and variable winds obtain in Bengal had also been remarkably short The rains proper, which are brought up by the usual south-west monsoon humid current, had thus practically ceased, and the usual heavy local showers which fall during the retreat of this current had been almost absent. For the last few days of September and at the commencement of October, winds in Bengal were northerly and north-westerly, and fine weather was generally reported. From the 1st of October, however, certain changes took place in the Bay which resulted in the formation of a cyclonic storm of moderate intensity The history of this storm is shortly as follows:—

Cyclonic storm of October 1st to 9th.—This storm appears to have formed some little distance to the south-west of Diamond Island on the 1st of October. On the morning of the 2nd it had not altered its position, but it had commenced to intensify rather rapidly. Again up to the morning of the 3rd it remained almost stationary, and the wind velocities at Diamond Island and on the South Burma coast showed that it was even at this time a storm of considerable intensity. On the morning of the 4th the storm was found to have moved in a north-westerly direction, and it was on this day about the middle of the Bay and to the west-north-west of Diamond Island. On the 5th the storm had advanced further in a north-westerly direction, and it was off the South Orissa coast to the east or east-south-east of Gopalpore. On the 6th the direction of the movement of the storm had changed, and it had commenced to recurve, and the centre was to the south of Saugor Island and to the east of False Point On this day the storm centre was probably not more than about 100 miles from land, and the intensity of the storm was apparently not greater than it had been when it was in the neighbourhood of Diamond Island. The usual history in the case of these storms is that they very rapidly increase in intensity as they advance up the Bay, but the subsequent history of the storm appears to show that this rapid intensification from some cause or other did not take place in this storm to the usual extent. Up to the morning of the 6th also the rate of movement of the storm had been exceedingly small, but from the time when the storm commenced to recurve and to move in a north-easterly direction, its movement became much more rapid, and the storm centre crossed the coast of the Sunderbuns almost midway between Saugor Island and Chittagong about midnight on the 6th, and on the morning of the 7th at 8 A.M. the storm was well to the north-east of Dacca. On the 8th the storm had probably passed into the hills to the north of Assam, and on the 9th it had quite broken up and disappeared. The storm was accompanied by very strong winds and very stormy weather at sea, particularly to the east and south of the centre, but as it crossed the coast it broke up very rapidly, giving very heavy rain and strong winds to the south-east of Bengal.

During the formation of the storm, and in its north-westerly advance towards the Orissa coast, rain showers were rather numerous in that district and in South-West and East Bengal. As a rule, these showers were not very heavy, but a few stations reported amounts of one and two inches. When, however, the storm commenced to pass inland the rainfall in the districts affected by it became particularly heavy, and thus on the 6th Bhola and Bauphal, in the Backergunge district, each received more than 10 inches, while Cox's Bazar and Kutubdia each received six inches, and at several stations falls of four and five inches were reported. On the 7th also amounts of five inches and above were received at Barrisal, Noakholly, Ramganj, Laksham and Durgapur, but from this date rainfall very rapidly diminished, and in fact almost ceased, over the province.

The inrush of moist winds following in the rear of the storm was very much less powerful than usual. In the case of most storms of this character, a wave of moist winds with moderate to heavy rainfall would have spread over the whole province, but unfortunately the heavy rainfall was confined strictly to the immediate path of the storm, and the effects of the storm scarcely reached North Bengal, and only the Julpigoree, Cooch Behar and Darjeeling hill districts and part of Purneah received rainfall due to the general disturbed conditions on about the 13th and 14th.

Following on the disappearance of this storm from about the middle of the month, a rapid increase in the barometric pressure took place over the province, and the distribution of pressure became such as to entirely change the conditions prevailing over Bengal and the Bay, and even at this early period the conditions became those which immediately precede the cold weather. The usual conditions in fact became almost reversed, and pressure became relatively high over Bengal and relatively low over the Bay. This was followed by the setting in of northerly winds, the winds being more or less westerly at the western stations, and north-easterly at the eastern stations. Temperature, therefore, fell. Humidity rapidly decreased, and the sky became lightly clouded, and up till the close of the month, except for disturbed conditions on the 28th and 29th in parts of Behar and Chutia Nagpur, which gave fairly general rain in South Bhagulpore, Sonthal Pergunnahs and Hazaribagh districts, and showers in Lohardugga, Manbhoom, Monghyr, Shahabad, Gya, Julpigoree and Darjeeling districts, weather was generally fine with passing clouds, and the whole province was practically rainless up till the 31st, when general rain commenced to fall over the greater part of Orissa.

The rainfall in Orissa at the close of the month was brought about by the formation of a severe cyclone in the Bay, which passed over Madras on the night of the 31st. The history of this severe storm, which has been previously given in the usual weekly reports, is as follows:—

Cyclone of October 29th to November 6th.—During the last week of October fine weather prevailed in Bengal and at the head of the Bay, and conditions were favourable for the north-east monsoon. In the centre and south of the Bay a moderate monsoon only was blowing, north-easterly winds being generally reported on the Madras coast, and moderate to heavy rain at most of the coast stations. Conditions were to a great extent unchanged on the 27th, except that winds on the Madras coast became more westerly, and the area of heaviest rainfall was transferred to Ceylon. On this day there were no signs whatever of the formation or existence of any storm in the Bay. On the 28th there was a considerable increase in the wind velocities at the stations in the east of the centre of the Bay, and pressure began to fall briskly along the Madras coast, but still there was no evidence of the existence of any depression in the Bay. Almost similar conditions continued on the 29th, and it is evident that a depression was forming to the west of the centre of the Bay, though the west coast stations still showed no signs of its existence. On the morning of the 30th, the wind directions on the Madras coast from Vizagapatam southwards formed part of a cyclonic circulation, while the Ceylon stations commenced to show a rather powerful indraught. The centre of the depression, as judged by the coast observations on this day, was some distance off the coast to the east or east north-east of Madras. During this day the storm rapidly intensified, and on the morning of the 31st October, it was a well-defined cyclonic storm, the centre of which was perhaps 80 or 100 miles to the east of Madras. The cyclone during the 31st continued to drift towards Madras; and the centre passed almost over that station at about 10 P.M. on this day, when a pressure slightly below 29 inches was recorded. The cyclone was an exceedingly fierce one, and must have done much damage, but the main force of the storm, so far as observations have been received, appears to have expended itself near Madras, and the central calm passed probably only a few miles to the south of that station. A severe gale of wind with high sea, however, prevailed along the whole of the west coast from Coconada southwards, though the storm does not appear to have made itself much felt as far south as Negapatam. The cyclone on striking the coast was apparently moving almost due westerly, and it rapidly advanced inland quite unbroken; and at 8 A.M. of the 1st November, the centre was not far from Cuddapah; while on the morning of the 2nd, the storm had advanced across the Peninsula, and the centre was crossing the west coast near Mangalore into the Indian Ocean. In its advance across the Peninsula, the storm gave cyclonic winds and very heavy rain, which disturbed conditions afterwards commenced to drift in a northerly condition.

The storm having passed out to sea near Mangalore, then continued its advance in a north-westerly direction. On the 3rd the centre was probably opposite the Bombay coast between Karwar and Goa On the 4th it was nearly opposite Bombay; on the 5th it had become very feeble, and was drifting towards the Kattiawar coast, and on the 6th it practically filled up and disappeared.

The disturbed conditions brought about by the storm were very general, and they affected the weather even as far as Orissa; and from the 30th and 31st rain showers became rather frequent, particularly in the southern districts of Pooree and Cuttack; but up to the close of the month the effects of the cyclone had not made themselves felt in any way in South Bengal beyond the fact that the sky had commenced to cloud over.

The principal points in the meteorology of October have, therefore, been the very early cessation of the south-west monsoon rains and the formation of two rather severe cyclones, one of which crossed the Sunderbuns, and the other which passed over Madras.

Pressure.—The variations of pressure during the month have been rather large. In the first instance, pressure fell rapidly in the south and south-east of the province in connection with the first cyclonic storm, and this storm having filled up, a very rapid rise of pressure took place; so that for the greater part of the remainder of the month it was above the normal. For the whole period, therefore, pressure has been in excess of the normal over the entire province, the average excess having been 0·046 inch. This excess was very evenly distributed. In Assam a mean excess of 0·04 inch has been registered.

Temperature.—The mean temperature of the whole month has not shown much variation from the normal. The largest variation is an excess of one degree in South Behar, but in other districts the variations are less than half a degree. In North Bengal, North Behar, and Chutia Nagpur temperatures have been in slight excess, and in East Bengal in slight defect; while Orissa and South-West Bengal show normal temperatures. For the whole province the average variation of the mean temperature of the month from the normal has only been an excess of a fifth of a degree. In Assam the mean temperature has been a tenth of a degree above the normal.

Rainfall.—Practically the only rainfall in the province has been that brought up at the commencement of the month by the cyclonic storm previously described. This gave the heaviest falls in the south-eastern and southern districts, and thus the stations in East Bengal received an average fall of 4·75 inches, or an amount nearly equal to the normal. In South-West Bengal and Orissa the falls have averaged only about one and-a-half inches, or from a third to a fourth the normal falls. In Chutia Nagpur an average fall of only one inch is recorded, or again about a third of the normal amount. In North Bengal the fall has averaged 0·77 inch, or about a sixth of the usual quantity, and in South Behar the fall has equalled 0·54 inch, or again about a sixth of the normal fall. Finally, North Behar has been practically rainless throughout the month. The rainfall generally in Bengal in October has thus been a mere fraction of the normal amount, and, further, the falls have been practically confined to the early part of the month, and thus the rain, in addition to being extremely deficient in amount, was not even well distributed as to time, and has certainly done less good than if it had been spread over a longer period.

The following table gives a comparison between the actual monthly and total rainfall and the normal rainfall of the province up to the end of October in the same form that has been employed in previous monthly abstracts of the present year. The figures represent the ratio of the rainfall of each month of the present year to the normal rainfall expressed as a percentage. The table thus gives a condensed summary of the rainfall data of the year for each meteorological division. The first ten columns give the percentage amount of rainfall received in each month, and the last column the percentage rainfall of the whole period from the 1st of January to the end of October.—

Meteorological Division.	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	July.	August.	September.	October.	Actual rainfall of first ten months of 1888 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.

Chutia Nagpur ...	235	104	5	94	39	30	128	134	81	34	93

The extreme lightness of the rainfall in October is clearly shown in the table, for, with the exception of East Bengal, which has recorded a fall of 88 per cent., all other districts show percentages of from 34 down to zero. Taking the various divisions as having an equal value in the calculation, the rainfall of the whole province may be said to have equalled 30 per cent. of the normal quantity.

Even though the province generally shows this extremely large defect, there are districts in which even an excess fall is registered. This is the case in South-East Bengal, where the precise line of march of the cyclonic storm is shown as an area of considerable excess rainfall. This area thus includes parts of the following districts:—Backergunge, Noakholly, Tipperah and Chittagong. Slight local excess falls have also been reported at Kishnaghur and Giridi. The greater part of the province, however, shows a defective fall of at least from 2 to 4 inches, and a considerable area shows defects of from 4 to 6 inches.

The following table gives full data of the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of October in all districts of the province. The figures are obtained in the manner explained in preceding monthly summaries. The first column gives the average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the actual weighted rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in the district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall to the normal district rainfall expressed as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third column in a slightly different form. It states by what percentage the actual rainfall varied in excess (+) or in defect (—) from the normal fall :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·8 lower and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period or the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as per-centage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The rainfall figures are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during which the stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Mean of 6 days.

for the week ending Friday, the of 9th November 1888.

CALCUTTA, the 13*th November* 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 9TH OF NOVEMBER 1888.

THE weather conditions during the previous week had become disturbed in the south of the province owing to a rather fierce cyclone which had formed in the south of the Bay, and which had passed over Madras. The storm had crossed the Peninsula in a westerly direction, and on the morning of the 2nd it was passing into the Indian Ocean near Mangalore. On leaving the land it appears to have travelled in a north-westerly direction, and on the 3rd the centre was probably opposite the coast between Karwar and Goa. On the 4th it had again advanced and was nearly opposite Bombay, though probably at some distance from land. On the 5th the storm had become decidedly more feeble, and was drifting towards the Kattiawar coast, and on the 6th it had practically filled up and had disappeared. This storm therefore had a life history of about 9 days, and its course was perhaps 1,200 or 1,300 miles long.

Following in the track of the storm, a heavy wave of rainfall set in along the Madras coast, and these disturbed conditions gradually drifted northwards along the coast. Rainfall set in over the south of Orissa on the 31st of October, and afterwards spread over the whole of this Division, and continued almost throughout the week, the falls being particularly heavy in the southern districts. At first it appeared highly probable that the wave of moisture-laden winds would continue to spread northwards into the southern and western districts of Bengal, but though the disturbed conditions were sufficiently developed to give heavily-clouded skies over the greater part of the province, and indeed to give almost overcast skies to the south-western districts for a considerable part of the present week, yet no general rainfall occurred, and only a few light and unimportant showers were reported on one or two days in the following districts:—Chittagong Hill Tracts, Noakholly, Dacca, Darjeeling Hills, Lohardugga, and Singbhoom, the falls being heaviest in the two last-named districts.

At the close of the week, however, these disturbed conditions were again gradually dispersing and retreating, and rainfall on the 9th was confined entirely to Orissa and to the districts of South-West Bengal, and it had also become very light. In the retreat, however, of the slightly-disturbed conditions more frequent showers were received, and on the 9th showers were rather numerous in South-West Bengal, the rainfall being almost general in the Hooghly, Beerbhoom, and Moorshedabad districts; while in the districts of 24-Pergunnahs, Bankoora, Nuddea and Satkhira local showers were received.

Pressure.—The pressure variations during the week have been particularly small, and from day to day the changes have scarcely exceeded one or two hundredths of an inch. For the first two days of the week pressure was increasing, there was then a slight fall, which lasted over about four days, and on the 9th pressure was again rising. The mean pressure for the week has been very slightly in excess of the normal at almost all stations, and for the whole province of Bengal the variation is an excess of 0·012 inch only. In Assam the mean pressure has been 0·019 inch in excess of the normal.

Temperature.—The temperature changes during the week have been rather irregular in the various districts, but temperature has not fallen to the extent usual at this season. The mean temperature has therefore been above the normal in all districts. The average excess in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur has been about one and-a-half degrees. In South-West Bengal, North Bengal, and Orissa the excess has equalled one degree, while in North Behar a defect of almost this amount has been registered. For the whole province, therefore, the general excess has averaged nearly one degree. In Assam a defect of nearly one degree is reported.

Rainfall.—The distribution of the rainfall of the past week has already been described, and it therefore only remains to give its general amount. For all practical purposes East and North Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur have been rainless. In South-West Bengal the general fall has averaged 0·21 inch, but the fall has been very unequally distributed. Jessore, Midnapore and South-West Midnapore and South 24-Pergunnahs have received no rain. In Jessore the fall has only averaged a hundredth of an inch. The 24-Pergunnahs, Howrah, Hooghly, Burdwan, and Nuddea districts average about a fifth of an inch. The Beerbhoom and West Burdwan districts average 0·36 inch and the Moorshedabad district 0·61 inch. In Orissa the general average fall has been no less than 1·58 inches, but at Pooree a fall of nearly six inches is reported, and at Khurdah one of 4·82 inches (up to the 6th). All the stations in Orissa have received moderate to heavy rain, the falls being heaviest in the Pooree and lightest in the Balasore district.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 9th of November 1888:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

A BRIEF summary of the principal results in connection with the mortuary statistics of the districts in Bengal for the month of August 1888, as presented in the statement appended to this memorandum, is subjoined:—

1. The deaths of 109,203 persons were registered in a population of 66,055,695, representing an annual casualty-rate of 19·80 per 1,000, against 20·64 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 24·96 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of 1887, indicating, as compared with the latter period, a large decrease in mortality.

2. The undermentioned districts furnished the highest proportions of deaths:—

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during four weeks ended 22nd September 1888.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—There was a decrease in the upwards, and an increase in the downwards coal traffic; the former was due to smaller demands from the public, and the latter to improved despatches to the Eastern Bengal State Railway, viâ the Jubilee Bridge.

Jute, raw.—This is a continuation of the increase in August.

Gunny.—This increase was due to a good demand for gunnies from Delhi and stations above.

Wheat.—Due to a rising market at home, and also to a good demand for local consumption.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—This is attributable to considerable despatches of rice having been made to up-country stations, principally in the Dinapore district, to meet demands caused by a partial failure of the rainy season makai or Indian-corn crop.

Oil.—This increase was chiefly in kerosine oil from Howrah to up country-stations.

Railway material, Foreign.—Due to despatches to Asansol for the Bengal-Nagpur Railway.

Seeds.—The increase was chiefly in linseed, mustard, castor and poppy seed; the former was despatched to Bombay solely from stations above Mirzapore, and the latter three for local consumption.

Stone.—Due chiefly to despatches from Mirzapore, Chunar and Pahara.

Potatoes.—This increase was almost entirely in hill potatoes grown in the neighbourhood of Naini Tal.

DECREASES.

Cotton.—The despatches consisted entirely of the old crop, and the decrease was due to the same reason as referred to in previous months.

Piece-goods, European.—This decrease may principally be ascribed to the Doorga Poojah holidays having taken place in September 1887, but they fell later in 1888.

Fruits, other kinds.—This was principally in betel-nuts from Howrah and Sealdah owing to absence of demand.

Grain and pulses.—

Other rain and spring crops.—The decreases in these staples were due to heavy upward despatches last year in response to demands in the North-West Provinces and Rajputana consequent on failure of crops, whereas this year there have not been the same requirements.

Brass and copper.—Due to absence of demand owing to enhanced prices.

Salt.—Due to limited demand and stock at the large centres having been sufficient to meet requirements.

Sugar and jaggree.—This decrease was chiefly at the sugar-despatching stations in the Dinapore district suffering from poor crops.

Ghee.—This is attributable to want of demand in the Calcutta market.

Increase.

	Tons.
Coal	143

This increase is due to greater demand for silk factories being worked on an extensive scale by steam power.

Cotton piece-goods—
(1) European	12

This is attributable to Junghipur piece-goods being carried this year by this way, the Murarai road being unfit for cart traffic.

Grains—
(5) Others	17

This increase is due to export of kalai owing to high market rate in other places.

Provisions—
(2) Dried fruits and nuts	15

This increase is due to export of cocoanuts for Doorgapujah.

Railway plant and rolling-stock	114

This increase is due to more materials carried during the month.

Oilseeds—
(2) Mustard and rape	17

This increase is due to greater import, the bazar being high.

Silk, raw—
(2) Indian	19

This increase is due to Junghipur silk being exported vid Azimganj, the Murarai road being unfit for cart traffic.

Decrease.

Cotton, raw	9

This decrease is due to dull market.

Grains—
(2) Rice	136

This decrease is due to less export from intermediate stations for low rates.

Oilseeds—
(6) Others	22

The decrease under this head is due to gooja seed not being imported this year.

Stone and lime	68

This was imported last year for building purposes, but there is no further demand this year, hence the decrease.

NOTIFICATION.

The 9th November 1888.—The following rules, framed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, with the sanction of Government, under section 19A of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, as amended by section 6 of Act I (B.C.) of 1883, for regulating the importation and sale of spirits manufactured in British India and imported by sea into Calcutta, and for the levy of Excise duty thereon, are published for general information:—

1. All spirit manufactured in British India and imported into Calcutta, whether imported by sea under bond or otherwise, shall be landed under Customs green boat-note and placed in the Custom-house godown, and will remain in the custody of the Collector of Customs until the importer, owner, or agent applies for its removal into the Excise godown.

2. Applications for removal shall be made in the usual bill-of-entry form, supported by the bill-of-lading or delivery order. The bill-of-entry will be made out "for removal into the Excise godown" instead of "into town" as at present, and the officer in charge of the Excise godown will give the Customs officer a receipt in full for the number of casks or packages received.

3. As soon as possible after the spirit has been received in the Excise godown, it will be tested and gauged by an officer appointed by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, and in the case of spirit landed under bond, the result will be communicated to the officer holding the bond in Madras or elsewhere.

4. Excise duty shall be levied by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue on all such spirit landed under bond, subject to a wastage allowance similar to that laid down in section 116 of the Sea Customs Act.

5. In the case of duty-paid spirit, if the Excise duty at the port of exportation is lower than the duty chargeable in Calcutta, the differential duty under section 151 of the Sea Customs Act will be levied by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue at such rate as the Local Government may from time to time, by notification in the local Gazette, fix.

6. Passes for the removal of the spirit from the Excise godown will be issued by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue in accordance with section 18 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878

7. AFRICA—EAST.

RED SEA—EASTERN SHORE.

Kamarán Bay—Reef off Southern Entrance.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (Notice to Mariners No. 318 of 1888) that information has been received through the Board of Trade that on the 1st August 1888 the British steam vessel Bussorah, when entering Kamarán Bay by the South Channel, struck on the southern side of the entrance:—

The bearings given for the position of the vessel when aground in 3 fathoms water, are as follows:—

Northern extreme of Ras-el Bayádh—N. 61¼° E.
Southern extreme of Ras-el Bayádh—S. 8¾° W.
South-west extreme of Kamarán Island—N. 47¼° W.

As the southern entrance to Kamarán Bay has previously been reported to be narrower than shown on the plan, it appears probable that the shore reef outside Ras-el Bayádh is wider than given on the chart, and Mariners should use caution in entering.

NOTE.—In the caution printed on chart No. 14, the word "not" is omitted from the second paragraph, which should run as follows:—When there is any wind the reefs are not easily seen.

(2). In the case of steam-ships carrying an apparatus for distilling fresh from salt water a supply equal to five-sevenths of a gallon per head per diem shall suffice.

(3). In Calcutta, Bombay, and Rangoon such water shall be obtained from the municipal pipes, and in Chittagong from the port water-works.

B.—Medical stores and other appliances and fittings for maintaining health, cleanliness and decency.

II.—(1). Every such ship shall have on board—

(a) if she carry a surgeon, a supply of medicines and surgical appliances as set forth in Schedule A hereunto annexed;

(b) if she do not carry a surgeon, a supply of medicines and appliances as set forth in Schedule B hereunto annexed, together with written or printed instructions for their use in a language which the commander or some other officer of the ship can read; provided that, if the ship is about to commence a "short voyage" only as defined by section 5 of the Act, the ship need only have on board the medicines and surgical appliances mentioned in Schedule C hereunto annexed.

(2). The medicines and surgical applicances above specified shall be supplied for the use of the passengers whenever circumstances so require; and if the medical officer, or, where there is none, the master of the ship, omits, when circumstances so require, to supply the same, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees.

III.—(1). Every such ship carrying more than one hundred passengers as defined in the Act shall have the following hospital accommodation, or the following materials for the construction of hospital accommodation, for the passengers:

A.—In the case of ships making long voyages.

(a) There shall be a permanent hospital set apart on the upper deck and fitted up either in the poop or deck-house. This hospital shall contain not more than six bunks, and shall have a superficial deck area of at least 144 feet and not less than 864 cubic feet of air space. It shall be lighted and ventilated to the satisfaction of the surveying officers, and shall be provided with a raised floor or platform at least four inches off the deck. Every permanent hospital must be made as secure as any other deck-house, and the roof must be well caulked and covered with painted canvas. In all such permanent hospitals, iron fittings are preferable to wood. No case of small-pox, cholera, yellow fever, or plague shall on any account be treated in the permanent hospital.

(b) To provide for the treatment of such cases of sickness as it may be considered desirable to separate (such as small-pox, cholera, yellow fever or plague), and for any general outbreak of sickness when the permanent hospital accommodation becomes insufficient, each ship shall carry the materials for the construction of a temporary hospital upon its upper deck. The part of the upper deck upon which such hospital shall be erected shall be pointed out and measured off by the surveying officers. The framework of the hospital may be either of iron (in pieces that can be easily fitted together) or of wooden spars or bamboos. The roof must be tented, and both that and the side walls must be made of stout canvas and be perfectly water-tight, due provision being at the same time made for ventilation. The superficial area of the floor shall be not less than 144 feet, and such floor shall be raised at least four inches from the deck. Sheet, iron is preferable as the material of the floor.

B.—In the case of ships making short voyages.

(c) Each ship shall carry the materials for the erection of a temporary hospital, as described in clause (b) above, for the treatment of cases of the kind referred to in the said clause, provided that the superficial area reserved for such hospital need not be more than 72 feet. This space must always be deducted from the area measured for passengers on board of such ships.

(2). The permanent hospital, in the case of ships provided with the same, shall be available at all times for the use of sick passengers (other than those suffering from small-pox cholera, yellow fever, or plague), and the temporary hospital shall always be erected at once and made available for the use of sick passengers whenever the circumstances as described above so require.

(3). If the master of any ship omits either to keep any hospital available for the use of sick passengers, or to erect a temporary hospital as required by this rule, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, and with a further fine of twenty rupees for every day after the first during which the omission continues.

IV.—(1) Every such ship shall be fitted with not less than two privies sufficiently screened from public view and readily accessible and available at all times for the use of the passengers, and with one more such privy for every 100 passengers, or part of that number, carried in excess of 100; but no privies shall be allowed in the between-decks.

(2). A proportion of such privies, in any case not less than one, if there be any females among the passengers, shall be set apart for the exclusive use of females, such proportion corresponding, as nearly as may be, to the proportion of female to male passengers.

V.—Every such ship shall be provided with, and have available for the use of the passengers, not less than two places for washing sufficiently screened from public view, whereof a full proportion, as described in Rule IV, shall be set apart exclusively for females. A sufficient number of hand-pumps shall also be provided for supplying sea-water for purposes of ablution.

VI.—On every such ship cattle shall be kept securely penned in, so as not to inconvenience the passengers.

VII.—(1). Every such ship shall be provided with not less than two cabooses or cooking ranges on deck, properly housed and covered, to which passengers shall have ready access at certain times in each day. The ranges shall be made of substantial plate-iron lined inside with bricks, and raised at least four inches from the deck, with an outlet or chimney at the top for the escape of smoke. Each range shall contain at least five cooking places, and an additional range shall be provided for every two hundred passengers carried in excess of one hundred. Cooking on board in the passengers' own stoves is prohibited, and any passenger so cooking or attempting to cook shall be punished with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

(2). The crew of the ship shall not be allowed to use the cooking ranges set apart for passengers during the period passengers are on board, but shall be provided with a separate cooking range.

(3). In the case of ships engaged in the coasting trade and carrying passengers on short voyages from port to port, who do not ordinarily cook food on board, the number of cooking ranges may be reduced to such number, not being less than two, as may seem adequate to the requirements of the passengers.

VIII.—The master of any ship omitting to keep any privy, washing place, or cooking range available for the use of the passengers, or any cattle securely penned in, or allowing the crew of the ship to use any cooking range set apart for passengers in breach of the foregoing rules, shall be punished with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, and when the breach is a continuing one with a further fine of twenty rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

CLAUSE (a).—Meetings.

1. If the Chairman is temporarily absent from his duties, or if the office of Chairman is temporarily vacant, the duties of the Chairman under these rules shall be performed by the Vice-Chairman.

2. Meeting shall be either ordinary or special.

3. An ordinary meeting of the Local Board shall be held on the first Saturday of every month after sunset; provided that, if the first Saturday of any month falls on a gazetted holiday, or if for any other reason it is deemed inconvenient, the Chairman may fix another day and hour for the ordinary meeting of the Board.

4. A special meeting of the Local Board may be called at any time by the Chairman. The Chairman shall be bound to call a special meeting on a requisition signed by one-fourth of the total number of members.

5. The subjects referred to in rule 65 of Part IV of the General Rules, and in section 29 of the Act, shall be dealt with at special meeting only.

6. All other subjects which come within the province of the Board may be dealt with at either ordinary or special meetings.

7. Meetings shall ordinarily be held at the office of the Local Board; provided that in any special case it may be held at such other place as the Chairman may determine.

8. The notice under rule 67 of the General Rules shall be forwarded to each member with a copy of the list of business to be transacted by post or by such other method as may be convenient; provided that a vernacular translation of the same shall be supplied to any member who does not understand English, and provided that, if a local newspaper be published at the head-quarters of the Local Board, the Board, by a resolution duly passed, may decide that the publication of such notice in the newspaper in question shall be sufficient.

9. Notices by motions, accompanied by verbatim drafts, must be sent to the Chairman, or, in case of there being a Secretary, to the Secretary, in time to be included in the list of business for next meeting. Notices received too late shall be inserted in the list of business of the next succeeding meeting.

10. A notice book shall be kept by the clerk, but when the Board has no clerk, by the Vice-Chairman of the Board, in which all notices of motions shall be entered. All such notices shall be stated and numbered as received by the Vice-Chairman.

Adjourned meetings.

11. An adjourned meeting is not competent to transact any business save that which the original meeting left unfinished.

12. An adjourned meeting, being merely a continuation of the original meeting, does not require any fresh notice.

CONDUCT OF PROCEEDINGS AT MEETINGS, &c.

CLAUSE—(b)—Order of business.

13. At ordinary meetings, the business shall be conducted in the following order:—

(a). The minutes of the last ordinary meeting, and of any special meeting held since, shall be read, and, if approved as correctly entered, shall be signed by the Chairman of such meeting.

(b). Business postponed from the last ordinary meeting shall be considered.

(c). A progress report of works shall be laid before the Board.

(c). Motions of which due notice has been given to be discussed.

14. At a special meeting, only the business for which the meeting was called shall be considered; provided that, with the consent of the majority of the members present, any other business may be considered.

15. In the event of any objection being raised to the manner in which any resolution has been recorded, the Chairman shall decide the question after reference to the original draft of the resolution; and if he finds the minute to be inaccurate, shall make the necessary correction in the minute book.

16. Unless by permission of the majority of the members, all subjects shall be discussed in the order in which they appear in the notice paper.

Of motions and amendments.

17. Every motion and amendment duly moved must be seconded, and until seconded no debate thereon can take place.

18. Every motion and amendment, after being reduced to writing under rule 74 of the General Rules shall be signed by the proposer and seconder before being put to the vote.

19. Every amendment shall be so worded as to be capable of making an intelligible sentence either alone or in its proper place in an original motion, as the case may be; provided that no amendment can merely negative the original motion.

20. After a motion has been moved and seconded, an amendment may be moved at any stage of the debate thereon.

21. On the discussion being concluded, in the event of several amendments having been proposed, the President shall put the last amendment to the vote first; if it is negatived, he shall put the last preceding amendment; and lastly the first amendment; and if all the amendments are lost, the original proposition shall be put to the vote.

22. When a motion or an amendment has been put and been declared by the President to be duly carried, no further proposals for amending the motion or amendment can be entertained.

Of the right to speak.

23. Every member shall ordinarily stand when addressing the meeting, provided that the Chairman may for any reason permit any member to sit while so doing.

24. The member who first addressed the meeting shall be entitled to be heard first, and should more than one member rise to address the meeting at the same time, the order of precedence shall be determined by the President.

25. Any member shall be at liberty to call the attention of the President to a point of order, even when a member is speaking. On a point of order being raised, the member addressing the meeting shall resume his seat until the question has been decided by the President. After the decision of the President, the same point of order cannot be raised again. Except as provided by this rule, no member shall interrupt a speaker in possession of the meeting.

26. Except as provided in the last preceding rule, no member shall speak except to move or second a motion or amendment, or to support or oppose a motion or amendment which has been duly moved and seconded.

27. A speaker who has exhausted his right to speak on an original motion, may speak on any amendment being moved, as that raises a new question.

28. The mover of a motion or amendment shall in all cases have a right of reply, but otherwise no member shall speak more than once on the same motion or amendment, unless in explanation of some part of his original speech.

Miscellaneous.

29. Unless more than one-half of the members of the Board consent by signing a requisition, no subject once finally disposed of can be considered within six months.

30. When any business, of which notice has not been given, is considered at a meeting, the decision recorded or resolution adopted at such meeting shall be of no effect unless and until confirmed at the next succeeding ordinary meeting, or at a special meeting called expressly for this purpose.

31. When a motion or amendment is put to the vote, the President or Secretary shall record against it, first, the names of members voting for it, and then names of those voting against it.

32. Voting by proxy is prohibited, and no member may vote upon any motion or amendment unless he be present in person at the time when it is put to the vote.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE TRIBUTARY STATES OF ORISSA FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

RESOLUTION.

POLITICAL.

Darjeeling, the 8th November 1888.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Administration of the Tributary States of Orissa for the year 1887-88.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1885-86 and 1886-87, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

Mr. C. T. Metcalfe, C.S.I., held charge of the office of Superintendent of the Tributary States from the beginning of the year to the 12th of August, when he went on privilege leave, and again from the 13th of November to the 12th of March, when he took furlough. Mr. Worsley was in charge during his absence Neither the Superintendent nor the Assistant Superintendent were able, from various causes, to make tours of any length. The Managers of Mohurbhunj, Dhenkanal, Baramba and Narsingpur and the Tehsildar of Angul made useful tours. In the Khondmals, Baboo Haradhone Ghose, the tehsildar, who had for some time been in bad health, died towards the end of January. He and Moonshee Mahomed Ali, who succeeded him temporarily, spent only 52 days on tour. The Rajah of Nilgiri having recovered the power of speech and reason was restored to the administration of his State in August 1887.

2. Weather and Crops.—The anxiety which the irregularity and deficiency of the rainfall in Orissa have caused this year makes the subject of the weather and crops during the year preceding of such interest at present that the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it desirable to reproduce here the excellent résumé of the facts contained in the report of the Superintendent:—

The year was marked generally by deficient rainfall, and there was consequently a partial failure of crops in most of the States. Rain gauges are kept and rainfall is recorded in Angul, Khondmals, Keonjhur, Mohurbhunj, Talcher, Dhenkanal, Daspalla, Narsingpur, and Runpur, and the statement given below shows the quantity of rain that fell in each of those places during each month of the year under report—

From the following table it will be seen that the total rainfall during the year under report was everywhere much less than that of the preceding year, and as a necessary consequence the crops were poor.

Name of Killah.	Total rainfall in inches and tenths.
	1886-87.	1887-88.
Angul	57·5	36·6
Khondmals	59·1	46·3
Daspalla	59·7	49·8
Talcher	48·6	39·9
Dhenkanal	77·8	48·7
Mohurbhunj	61·3	49 9
Runpur	63·5	35·8
Keonjhur	31·5	30 1
Narsingpur	.....	32·4

Dhenkanal, Pal Lehara, Keonjhur, Talcher, Angul, Athmalik, Khandpara, and Daspalla suffered most from shortness of rain, and the rice harvest in these States was considerably below the average. Narsingpur, Runpur, Nayagurh and Khondmals suffered less; while in Mohurbhunj, Nilgiri, Hindole, and Baramba the rains, though scanty, fell opportunely, and little loss was sustained. No reports have been received from Boad, Tigiria and Athgurh; but from enquiries it has been ascertained that in Boad the harvest was bad, and in Athgurh and Tigiria there had been average crops.

Ordinarily the Gurjat States produce a much larger quantity of the autumn and winter crops than is required for local consumption, and a greater part of the excess quantity is exported to Cuttack and other places of trade, but during the year of report there was no excess produce. The export of oilseeds and other cold-weather crops has greatly diminished, and rice has been for some time and still is being imported to some States from outside.

At one time there were serious apprehensions entertained of a scarcity, and measures of relief were advocated by the local officers of Angul and Dhenkanal. But the resources of the people, who are accustomed to the use of edible roots and jungle produce, aided by a good mango crop and constant importations of food-grains, have enabled them to tide over the worst months; and provided that the shortness of the early rains of this year is not followed by a failure of the later rains, I do not anticipate any change for the worse.

I give below a short account of the state of weather and crops in each State as far as is available—

The rainfall for 1883 to 1887 is given below—

Mohurbhunj.

	Inches.
1883	56·09
1884	61·99
1885	69·95
1886	64·24
1887	49·18

The rainfall of 1883 was the next lightest to that of 1887; but whereas in 1883 very serious damage to rice crops was caused, the rice harvest of 1887 was an average 12-anna one all over the State. In 1883 as well as in 1887 there was a total absence of rain from the middle to the end of October. In 1883 the rainfall for October was 0·02 inch; in October 1887 the rainfall up to 16th was 2·53 inches, and none fell during the rest of that month. Light showers, however, in November 1883 and 1887 sufficed to prevent an extensive failure of rice crops on high lands. The rubbee crops throughout Mohurbhunj did not exceed 12 annas except on alluvial tracts, where full crops are annually secured. There was a cyclone on the 25th and 26th May, during which 3·47 inches of rain fell, but no damage was done to the crops, though many trees were blown down and houses unthatched.

Nilgiri.

The rainfall of the year was 68·37 inches against 79·66 inches in the preceding year. The largest quantity of rain fell in May, and on the 25th and 26th of that month the effects of the cyclone were felt here as in Mohurbhunj. Much damage was done to houses and trees, but the crops sustained little injury. Towards the end of the season the fall of rain was very scanty, and the crops suffered to some extent, but a few well-distributed showers in October prevented any material loss. The Manager estimates the average outturn of the year at about 13 annas.

Dhenkanal.

The total rainfall was 48·75 inches against 77·89 of the preceding year, and an average fall of 60 to 63 inches in ordinary years. There were heavy falls of rain in May, which did not allow the cultivators sufficient intervals for ploughing and sowing. The sowings were delayed, and the transplantation of seedlings had not been completed when a break in the rains occurred in September. During September and October, the most critical time of the year, the rain was altogether insufficient, and a partial failure of crops necessarily ensued. The Manager has estimated the outturn of the late and early rice crops at not more than eight annas on the average. The rainfall of 2·07 inches in January last did a little good to some of the rubbee crops, but was injurious to oilseed and tobacco crops. The deficiency of rain at a time when it was most wanted not only injured the staple rice crop, but (through want of good moisture in the soil) also affected the rubbee crops, the outturn of which was below the average. In Dhenkanal sugarcane is cultivated to a large extent, and the outturn of this crop was an average one. During the last two years experiments were made in the cultivation of potatoes, and the results were promising.

Keonjhur.

The rainfall of the year was almost the same as that of the previous year, being 30·18 inches against 31·58, and, as in the preceding year, the autumn crop was a poor one.

Pal Lehara.

The rain commenced late in May. The falls during the months of June, July, and August were very deficient, and entirely ceased in September. Want of seasonable showers seriously damaged the paddy crop, which has been estimated at four annas only, while the outturn of rubbee and other miscellaneous crops is reported to have been eight annas on the average.

Talcher.

The total rainfall registered during the year was 39·97 inches against 48·6 of the previous year. The rains commenced late in June, and were insufficient in July, August, and September. The Chief of this State has estimated the outturn of the paddy crop at 10 annas on the average. The outturn of the rubbee crops, such as moong, biri, arhar, and kulthi, was good, and there was a bumper crop of sugarcane.

Angul.

The rainfall during the year was very scanty, being 36·62 inches against 57·59 of the preceding year. Want of timely showers in seven out of the ten pergunnahs comprised in the estate retarded agricultural operations, and the rice crop suffered severely in many places. The outturn of the beali or early rice crop was only two annas, and that of the saradh or late rice crop was not more than six or eight annas on the average. The rubbee as well as the oilseed crops of the year were similarly affected, and the outturn of these crops did not exceed four annas on the average. Applications for remissions of rent have been made, and are now under consideration.

In the neighbouring State of Athmalik the rainfall was also insufficient. There was no rain in the months of April, May, October, February, and March. The rainfall in June was insufficient for commencing agricultural operations. Copious rain fell during the month of July, and agricultural operations were pushed on with vigour; but owing to insufficient rain during the months of August, September, October, and November the crops yielded a poor outturn. The estimate of the rice harvest was only six annas, and the outturn of the rubbee and miscellaneous crops is reported to have been eight annas on the average.

Hindols.

The rainfall was not less than that of an ordinary year. The outturn of the rice crop has been estimated by the Rajah at 12 annas. The rubbee crop was an average one.

Baramba.

The weather during June, July, and the first half of August was very favourable for sowing, transplanting, and weeding the paddy crop; but owing to the absence of rain during the latter half of August and the first week of September, the early rice crop grown on high lands suffered for a time; but fortunately rain fell in the second week of September. During the latter half of September and the first fortnight of October there was a second long break in the rains. There arose then a general cry for water, and artificial irrigation, wherever possible, was largely resorted to; but subsequently rain fell in sufficient quantity towards the end of October, and the crops were saved. The outturn of the rice crop was 12 annas. The outturn of other crops is reported to have been good.

Narsingpur. The rainfall registered during the year was 32·57 inches. About two-thirds of the cultivated area of this Killah lie near the hills, and the remaining one-third is on the bank of the Mahanuddy river. The crops both on high and low lands promised well for some months, but owing to want of rain in October their good condition could not be maintained. Artificial irrigation, wherever possible, was adopted. The average outturn of the rice crop was about eight annas. The outturn of the cold-weather crops was also not more than eight annas on the average.

Runpur. The total rainfall during the year was 35·83 against 63·59 in 1886-87 and 45 97 in 1885-86. This quantity, though less than the average of the previous two years, fell at fairly seasonable times, and an average 10-anna rice crop was harvested. The rubbee crops were excellent with the exception of moong, which suffered for want of rain in December and January. The mango crop helped the people to a great extent.

Nayagurh. The rainfall was rather less than that of an ordinary year, but an average outturn of 10-anna crop was reaped. There were bumper crops of sugarcane, castor-oil seed and linseed, and mango.

Khandpara. There was no rain in April, May, and June, and the falls in July and August were insufficient. There were, however, heavy showers in September and October, a few light ones in November and December, but none during January, February, and March. Want of sufficient rain in July and August seriously damaged the crops, and the outturn of rice crop and also of the rubbee crops was only 6 annas on the average.

Daspalla. The total rainfall of the year was 49 89 against 59·78 of the preceding year. The want of seasonable rain injured the crops. The outturn of the rice crop was 8 annas on the average. The other crops almost failed, the average outturn being only 4 annas.

Khondmals. The total rainfall registered was 46·30 against 59·18 of the previous year. The rainfall was insufficient in June, and also in August and September, when rain is specially wanted for harrowing, weeding and transplanting operations. The result was that there was only an 8-anna crop against a full outturn in the preceding year.

The Gurjat States are hilly and undulating, and artificial means of irrigation are easily and cheaply provided by damming rivers and rivulets, and reserving the water that comes down from the hills and high lands In most of the prosperous States numerous reservoirs have been formed, and others are being daily added—some at the cost of the Chiefs and some at the cost of capitalists; but in Khondmals, where the residents are chiefly aborigines, and have not been in the habit of living by regular cultivation, no such reservoirs existed, and none have been formed by the Government since it has taken charge of the Mehal. Such reservoirs are needed not only for the crops, but for the supply of good drinking water, the want of which is everywhere felt, and is probably one of the causes of the unhealthiness of the place. I intend henceforth, with the sanction of Government, to devote a portion of the Khondmal Road Fund to the formation of such reservoirs, and will shortly submit separate proposals regarding the same.

3. Public Health, Vaccination, and Charitable Dispensaries.—Public health appears to have been fairly good. In Dhenkanal, Baramba, Narsingpur and Runpur, however, there were a good many cases of cholera. In Dhenkanal medicines were distributed to people in the affected tracts, but the mass of the people declined to use them, believing the disease had been sent by a certain goddess and could not be averted by any earthly power. The superstition of the people interferes greatly with the popularisation of vaccination. The number of operations reported, however, has greatly increased in Dhenkanal, Mohurbhunj, Narsingpur and Talcher. In the Khondmals the operations are said to have been mostly unsuccessful, and the cause of this should be enquired into, as there can be little hope of the prejudices of the people being overcome if their objections to vaccination are strengthened by seeing it frequently fail. A dispensary was opened at Bysinga in Dhenkanal, raising the number in the Tributary Mehals to 14.

4. Material Condition of the People.—The partial failure of the crops in some States in 1886-87 and the recurrence of short harvests in 1887-88 has caused some privation among the poorer classes, who were, however, as noticed above, saved from severe distress by an excellent mango crop and their habit of making use of jungle roots, fruits and leaves. The aboriginal tribes, as a rule, live on these jungle products for six months every year. Angul, Athmalik and Baramba are the only States in which the price of paddy and rice has risen considerably, while in some States, such as Mohurbhunj and Narsingpur, they have fallen in price. The great difference in prices between the different States, ranging from 13 seers of rice per rupee in Angul to 26 seers in the Khondmals, are due to the absence of cheap and easy communication; hence neighbouring tracts may show plenty in one district and privation almost amounting to famine in another. There is no change to note in the price of labour, for which there is little demand, except for agricultural work in which the labourers are employed by the year, receiving wages in cash or kind amounting to about Rs. 15 per annum, a share in the produce of the lands in which they are employed, and an advance of Rs. 10 or Rs. 20 repayable without interest on the expiry of the term of service.

5. Mines and Manufactures and Trade and Commerce.—The experimental washings for gold in Mohurbhunj proved a failure, the cost of the operations exceeding the value of the gold found. Owing to the short crops exports have fallen off, while, as noted above, in some cases it has been necessary to import food-grains. One of the chief articles of import is salt. Owing to its mode of conveyance on pack bullocks its price has always been high, but there has been a rise in Angul from Rs. 6 per maund in 1886-87 to Rs. 13-8 in the corresponding month of 1887-88, an almost prohibitory price into the cause of which the Superintendent is enquiring.

6. State of Public Feeling and Police.—In Pal Lahera the panic caused in April 1887 by the dacoit gang of Coles under Fonda and Buxu Cole has subsided, the dacoits having been dispersed or arrested. The two ringleaders were lately caught and sentenced to long terms of imprisonment. The excitement caused in Baramba and Narsingpur by the new Forest Regulation and Stamp Rules is said to have subsided. A further report as to the agency by which the Forest Rules are to be administered has been promised by the Superintendent. Since the beginning of 1887, the Police of Dhenkanal, Baramba, and Narsingpur have been placed under the supervision of the Assistant Superintendent of the Gurjat Police. The other States, excepting Tigiria, keep small bodies of police varying from 115 men costing Rs. 11,712 a year in Mohurbhunj to 12 men costing Rs. 318 in Pal Lahera. No information has been furnished by the Chiefs of Athgurh, Boad and Keonjhur. In Tigiria, police work is performed by a number of Pathan paiks who hold jagirs.

7. Administration of Justice.—The total number of civil and revenue cases decreased from 16,492 to 11,073, the decrease being most marked in the three Wards' estates of Baramba, Dhenkanal and Narsingpur, as shown in the table below:—

				1886-87.	1887-88.
Baramba	...	...	...	1,962	1,401
Dhenkanal	...	...	...	8,220	3,205
Narsingpur	...	...	...	804	479

In Baramba and Narsingpur the decrease is attributed to the introduction of court-fee stamps and to the completion of the record of rights in land in connection with the settlement of the States. In Dhenkanal the number of institutions was unusually large in 1886-87, in order to avoid the operation of rules of limitation introduced in that year and founded upon the Limitation Act of British India. These figures do not include the cases instituted and tried in the courts of the Tributary Chiefs. In Runpur the number of cases pending at the close of the year shows a decrease as compared with the previous year, but is still far too high, as 352 cases were pending on the 31st March 1888, while only 464 cases were instituted during the year. On the 31st March 1887 no less than 1,057 cases were pending. The total number of offences reported from the Tributary Mehals was 2,383 against 2,141 the year before. Out of 3,886 persons sent up, 1,212 were acquitted or discharged and 2,592 convicted. The increase is principally in Mohurbhunj, where the total number reported rose from 598 to 723, while the number reported under Chapter X of the Indian Penal Code alone rose from 25 to 105. Besides these, a number of criminal cases were brought to trial in the Courts of the Tributary Chiefs of various States. 35 out of 38 criminal appeals, heard by the Superintendent or Assistant Superintendent, were confirmed. Out of 117 civil, revenue and miscellaneous appeals, 43 were confirmed and 74 revised, remanded or altered. In Runpur most of the complaints have been directed against the Dewan's proceedings, there being a party opposed to him. In Keonjhur many complaints were made against the peshkar of the Atgurh sub-divisional office, who was supposed to have undue influence over the Maharaja and the late Manager, but these have ceased since the death of the latter and the appointment of his successor. Complaints are frequently made regarding the administration of Athgurh, Khandpara and Daspalla, though not so often as formerly.

8. Revenue.—In Angul the current demand for 1887-88 came to Rs. 52,168-3-1; land revenue has risen since 1882-83 from Rs. 32,641-7-7½ to Rs. 34,352-1; excise from Rs. 1,244 to Rs. 2,007-14; sale proceeds of opium have increased from Rs. 2,496 in 1883-84 to Rs. 5,920, and the forest revenue from Rs. 287-4 to Rs. 4,206-9-8. The Court-fees and Stamp Acts were introduced in December 1885, and the sale proceeds of stamps amounted to Rs. 2,847-13-4 in 1887-88. The collections of land revenue are in arrear Rs. 19,677-12-4. This is entirely due to the bad crops gathered during the last two years. The assessment is so light that in previous years there were practically no balances of uncollected revenue; in 1885-86 for instance the balance was Rs. 14-12-6, and Rs. 4,626-7-9 were collected in advance. Survey operations have been commenced preliminary to a fresh settlement which is expected to lead to a considerable increase of revenue. In the Khondmals no land revenue is paid. The Khonds voluntarily agreed in 1874 to pay three annas per plough towards a road fund, Government promising to contribute an equal sum. The road fund shows a balance of Rs. 11,679-2-3, while the receipts during the past year came to Rs. 3,873-0-3. The Superintendent expects that the whole balance will be utilised during the next two or three years, as several important works are in contemplation.

Mohurbhunj, which is the largest of the Tributary States, came under the management of this Government after the death of the Maharaja in 1882. The current demand for 1882-83 came to Rs. 2,03,231-15-6 only against Rs. 3,72,390-15-6½ in 1887-88. Land revenue has increased from Rs. 1,62,091-1-1 to Rs. 2,03,696-5-9, mainly owing to enhanced assessments in those pergunnahs where a fresh settlement has been made. The proceedings are not yet complete, and a considerable further increase to the revenue under this head is assured. The forest revenue for 1887-88 came to Rs. 32,009-7-11½. The demand for 1883-84 amounted to Rs. 15,908-2-5, and by the falling in of leases fell in 1885-86 to Rs. 9,640-9-5. The increase since then is due to the enhancement of the house rate for fuel and wood from two to six annas per house, and the additional revenue gained from making the tussor industry a source of income. The excise demand has risen to Rs. 9,540-9, against Rs. 4,600-1-3 in 1886-87, though the number of shops was the same in both years. A further report on this increase will be called for. Special stamps were introduced in January 1887, and the sale proceeds in 1887-88 amounted to Rs. 7,365-3. Since the estate has been under Government, Rs. 2,52,139-9-7 have been spent on public works, Rs. 61,100 were invested in 1886-87 and 1887-88 in Government promissory notes, and Rs. 63,082-11-3½ have been spent on the settlement department. Of this sum Rs. 31,756-6-7 were spent in 1887-88. The settlement proceedings have been completed in all but eleven pergunnahs, and are expected to give on completion a considerable increase of revenue. The receipts for 1887-88 came to Rs. 4,38,061-3-5, and the expenditure to Rs. 3,19,741-13, leaving a balance in hand of Rs. 1,18,319-6-5 at the close of the year. The actual cash balance at the credit of the State in the several treasuries was Rs 1,35,730-2-10, and does not appear in the accounts, as hitherto in the Manager's office balances in the sub-treasuries were not taken into account until remitted to the Baripada treasury. The mistake has been pointed out to the Manager.

The Dhenkanal State has been under Government since 1877. A fresh settlement has been made since then, and the operations, which are now almost complete, have cost the State Rs. 55,367-6-3, and have added Rs. 19,241-2-11 to the land revenue. Since 1882-83, Rs. 1,61,223-8-5½ have been spent on public works, and Rs. 1,01,397-3-4 invested in Government promissory notes (deducting price of notes sold in 1886-87), besides Rs. 13,881-12-8 lent to Narsingpur. Excise receipts have risen to Rs. 5,678-5-1 from Rs. 2,689-2-3 in 1882-83 and Rs. 2,064-13-3 in 1883-84. This figure was only exceeded in 1885-86, when the demand amounted to Rs. 5,922-3-9. The total receipts in 1887-88, including deposits and advances, amounted to Rs. 1,80,830-7-6. The total amount available, including the cash balance at the commencement of the year, was Rs. 1,92,137-12-5. The total expenditure was Rs. 1,74,714-9-11.

Baramba came under the management of the Superintendent in July 1881. The State was at that time about Rs. 28,000 in debt. The debt has been paid off, and the revenue has been raised from Rs. 22,805-8-11½ in 1882-83 to Rs. 31,500-13-11 in 1887-88, though a number of cesses have been abolished. The land revenue demand has risen from Rs. 14,347-13-11½ to Rs. 21,165-14-10, a resettlement having been made at a cost of Rs. 11,817-7-7½. A small sum, Rs. 3,171, has been invested in Government securities, and Rs. 19,450-2-3½ have been spent on public works. The police force has been strengthened, and the annual expenditure on it raised to Rs. 1,870-10-5 from Rs. 325-15-9 in 1882-83. The year 1887-88 opened with a cash balance of Rs. 8,254-9-1; receipts including cash recoveries or adjustments of advances and deposits amounted to Rs. 40,207-3-11. The total expenditure came to Rs. 41,091-13-9, leaving a cash balance at the close of the year of Rs. 7,369-15-3.

The Narsingpur State was taken under the management of the Superintendent in December 1884 on the death of the Rajah, who left a minor son. He left his State Rs. 15,000 in debt on loans at a very exorbitant rate of interest. A loan was effected from the Dhenkanal State to pay these off, and this has now been discharged in full. The revenue of the State has increased from Rs 27,803-2-5 in 1884-85 to Rs. 31,376-4-4. The land revenue demand has risen from Rs. 24,573 to Rs. 27,165, and opium fees from Rs. 50 to Rs. 1,077. Rs. 1,595-8-4 is now received from forest revenue. The police force has been strengthened and the annual expenditure on it raised from Rs. 678-5-3 to Rs. 1,449-5-1.

9. Survey.—In Angul the preliminary survey operations preparatory to the settlement are not yet complete. In Mohurbhunj four pergunnahs were resettled with a net increase of revenue amounting to Rs. 23,337. The settlement operations are now proceeding in ten pergunnahs. In Bamunghati the question of rates has not yet been decided. In Killah Nilgiri 94 out of 272 villages have been measured; and as they contain the largest portion of cultivated land, half the work of measurement is considered to be complete. In Dhenkanal it only remains to enquire into the validity and extent of rent-free tenures. In Baramba and Narsingpur the preparation of records was all that remained to be done at the close of the year 1887-88.

10. Registration.—The Chiefs of some of the States have opened registration offices on the model of the offices in India. The system is not altogether new in the Gurjats, as it has been customary for the people from time immemorial, when contemplating some future disposal of property, or the creation of rights by adoption, to make presents to the Chief of their State, and to obtain his recognition of the transaction. It has now for the first time been systematised, and in the States under direct management rules have been laid down regarding the rates of fees on compulsory registration. The system is as yet in its infancy, and in the States under Government management only 130 documents were registered, on which fees amounting to Rs. 131 were levied. The Chiefs of Athmalik, Daspalla, Khandpara, Nyagurh, Nilgiri and Runpur register documents in their offices, but no rules have been laid down as to the fees to be levied. It is stated that 258 documents were registered, and fees levied (the figures for Khandpara are not available) amounting to Rs. 308-6-9. In last year's report it was stated that such documents were registered in Talcher also, but no mention is made of that State this year. The fees levied in Khandpara, two annas per rupee of the consideration money on deeds of conveyance, and one anna per rupee on the value of bonds, appear to be excessive, and any tendency on the part of the Chiefs to use registration as a convenient method of imposing oppressive taxation must be watched.

11. Stamps.—The Stamp and Court-fees Acts were introduced into Angul in 1885, and led at first to a great reduction in the number of suits. Litigation is now, however, again increasing, and the total value of stamps sold has risen from Rs. 1,714 in 1886-87 to Rs. 2,085-14. Special stamps were introduced in August 1886 into Mohurbhunj, Dhenkanal, Baramba and Narsingpur. The sales have risen from Rs. 2,462-12-3 in 1886-87 to Rs. 11,055-4-6. The increase has been greatest in Mohurbhunj, where the sales rose from Rs. 1,299-5 in 1886-87 to Rs. 7,365-3. The expenditure incurred during the year in the four States amounts to Rs. 3,961-12-2. The very large expenditure compared with the income is due to the fact that a large quantity of stamp and plain paper was purchased and paid for during the year, leaving stamps to the value of Rs. 40,112-8 in stock on the 31st March 1888. In Nilgiri, the Manager levies court-fees in cash according to a table of rates prepared by him, and stated to be as a rule lower than those in force in British territory. He attributes the falling off in income from Rs. 1,524-12 to Rs. 748-5-6 to the fact that rules of limitation having been introduced in 1886-87, there was an abnormal number of institutions in that year. As the Superintendent points out, the levy of court-fees in cash gives opportunities for fraud, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with him that such innovations should not be made in the Gurjat Mehals without the approval of Government.

12. Excise.—In Angul all shops for the sale of excisable articles were as heretofore sold by auction to the highest bidder, excepting outstills which were licensed to three abkars for a period of three years. The collections came to Rs. 2,007-14 against Rs. 1,998-7 in 1886-87. The reduction in the number of outstills from 470 to 12 in the Khondmals has formed the subject of separate correspondence. In Mohurbhunj the excise revenue demand rose from Rs. 4,600-1-3 to Rs. 9,540-9. The largest increase was under still-head duty, which rose from Rs. 1,475-14 to Rs. 4,978-14-6. In Dhenkanal the demand rose from Rs. 4,219-12-1 to Rs. 5,678, of which all but Rs. 124-3-11 were collected. The demand in Baramba rose from Rs. 600 to Rs. 774-5-4, there being a considerable increase under the head of madat, ganja, and country liquor, while under the head of opium there was a fall of Rs 108-8. One opium shop had to be closed, as it was within three miles of the Banki opium shop in the Cuttack district. In Narsingpur the demand rose from Rs. 1,021-2-6 to Rs. 1,253-9, while Rs. 926-2-3 were collected, including the outstandings from the previous year, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs 711-6-9, far too large a sum considering the smallness of the demand. The demand for the States of Runpur, Nilgiri, Khandpara, Daspalla, Hindole, Athmalik, and Talcher came to Rs. 5,766-4-0, while there was a balance at the close of the year of Rs. 2,031-3-2. Including collections on account of previous years, Rs. 4,790-15 was collected. The demand for 1886-87 was Rs. 4,730-13. No figures are given for the excise shops in Keonjhur, Tigiria, Athgurh, and Boad. A report regarding the best means of discouraging or suppressing the cultivation of ganja in the Tributary States is now before Government.

13. Roads and Communications.—The two provincial roads from Cuttack to Sambalpore form the highways of commerce within the Tributary States. They are at present in certain portions impassable during heavy rains, but could, the Superintendent remarks, be metalled or covered with sand and bridged at no great expense, so as to be passable throughout the year. Mr. Metcalfe took in hand a new line to Angul, and the Cuttack District Board and the Boad and Dhenkanal States have completed their portions of the road, but the Chief of Athgurh has as yet done very little. Mr. Worsley states that all that remains to be done by him would cost only Rs. 1,500. The importance of completing the work in his own interests should be impressed on him. The Public Works Department will be asked to consider the question of taking over this road in place of the Government road now existing. It will also be asked to consider the suggestions of the Superintendent as to improving portion of the roads at present impassable at certain times of the year. In Angul Rs. 1,259 were spent on repairs to roads out of the 10 per cent. grant for public improvements, which amounted to Rs. 2,757. In the Khondmals a short cut is under construction from Chamunda on the Sonepur road to the Khondmals. A scheme of public works to be taken in hand within the limits of funds now available is in course of preparation. Rs 4,297-14-7 were expended from the fund during the year under report. In the Wards' States and in Runpur and Talcher some activity has been shown in the construction of local roads. The Lieutenant-Governor fully agrees with the Superintendent in his remarks regarding metalling roads in the native States now administered by us. The great object to be aimed at in constructing roads should be to open out the country so far as funds are available, and the construction of metalled roads delays this, owing to the great initial expenditure required and the very heavy expense of keeping them in repair. It is more doubtful as to how far the expenditure of money on bridging should be discountenanced. A properly-constructed bridge requires practically no repairs, so that the work once done involves no further expenditure on the keep up. Bridging is, however, very expensive, and the only safe rule appears to be that bridges should be constructed when funds permit, where without them traffic would suffer much interruption, but not otherwise. Nilgiri is reported to be much in want of roads, and the Chief of that State should be urged to attend to this subject.

14. Education.—The number of schools was 1,255 with 16,619 pupils, against 1,023 schools and 15,771 pupils in 1886-87 as stated in last year's report. The figures, however, for last year are not reliable, and it is possible that the apparent increase in the number of schools is incorrect. There were six girls' schools against three the year before, and 149 girls attended these against 94 in 1886-87. The number of girls attending boys' schools fell from 311 to 248. It is satisfactory to note that 1,603 children of the aboriginal races attended against 1,495 the previous year. The payment-by-result system is now in force excepting in Athgurh, Tigiria, Athmalik, Boad, Daspalla, Khandpara and Nayagurh, where the schools now existing are entirely supported by the people. As opportunity offers, the Chiefs of these States should be advised to assist in the education of their people. The total expenditure of the year on education amounted to Rs. 67,117, of which Rs. 7,796 was paid by Government.

15. Postal Communications.—The present arrangements under which the Chiefs contribute to the maintenance of post-offices are not altogether satisfactory, and are now under the consideration of Government.

16. Forest Conservancy.—Two hundred and eighty square miles in area are reserved in Angul. Grazing is allowed from June to November in scrub and bamboo jungles in localities approved of by the divisional officers. Fees are levied for forest produce. The receipts were Rs. 8,882-0-5 and the total expenditure Rs. 15,742-0-3. In the Khondmals the felling of trees for sale has been prohibited. In Dhenkanal dead and fallen trees are removed and sold, while the cutting of standing green trees is not allowed, and the Superintendent has under consideration the proper conservancy of the forests. In Baramba and Narsingpur a house-rate is levied for the privilege of taking firewood and building materials from the forests. The question of the management of these forests is under consideration. In Mohurbhunj the forests are under the direct administration of the Manager, and the total demand was Rs. 37,993. The revenue was almost doubled during the past year owing partly to revised assessments and partly to the duty now levied on tussur. In Athmalik, Khandpara, Daspalla, Hindole, Pal Lehara, Talcher, Nilgiri and Runpur, measures of various kinds have been taken to protect the forests.

The Report on the Administration of the Tributary and Political States of the Chota Nagpore Division for the year 1887-88.

The Reports for 1885-86 and 1886-87, and the Resolutions recorded thereon.

The Annual Report is submitted by Mr. C. C. Stevens, who was in charge of the Chota Nagpore Division throughout the year. With the permission of the Lieutenant-Governor he made no tour in the Tributary States, every part of which he had visited during the two preceding years. The Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom visited Bonai during his cold-weather tour, where he dealt with various complaints by and against the Chief of the State. He found the Chief to be extremely unpopular, and the people desirous of British rule, which they see to have greatly benefited a portion of the State called the Korea Pehat, under our management since 1879. The discontent culminated in June last in some serious disturbances among the Gond settlers in Bonai, which have been dealt with in separate orders.

2. Except in Gangpore the rainfall was insufficient and badly distributed, and crops were generally under the average. In parts of Gangpore the outturn of rubbi was good, and the season was favourable for the cultivation of sugar-cane. Prices rose in Kharsowan; but as the Railway afforded ample employment, there was no distress.

3. The general health of the people was fairly good. In Sirgooja there were 719 deaths from cholera and 139 from small-pox. In Udaipore an outbreak of small-pox is reported to have been stamped out in about two months, two vaccinators having been sent to the locality. There were 36,784 vaccination operations against 24,300 last year. Of this number, 3,598 were performed in Changbhakar, where there have never previously been any. Cattle-disease was again very prevalent in Sirgooja, where 13,799 deaths are reported. The Commissioner explains that these do not represent the losses of that State alone, as immense herds come up to graze from neighbouring and more thickly-populated districts. Even so, the figures are very unsatisfactory, and some effort should be made to ascertain the causes of the excessive mortality.

4. If the figures are accurate, education, which has always been very backward, has retrograded during the year under review. The number of patshalas has fallen from 58 to 52, and the number of pupils from 1,530 to 1,293. The falling off in Seraikella alone is from 23 to 14 patshalas with 629 pupils as against 875 in 1886-87. No remarks are made in the report on this very unsatisfactory state of things.

5. Of 21 persons committed to the Sessions, 12 were convicted and 9 acquitted; in 1886-87 the corresponding figures were 20 convictions and 4 acquittals. In one of these cases a man accused an old woman of being a witch and not leaving his family alone: she replied she would eat him up too, whereupon he struck her with a pestle, killing her. In Sirjooga there were 36 extortion cases against 1 the year before, all committed by a gang of Lohars who systematically levied black-mail. The Commissioner has lately sentenced five members of the gang to terms of imprisonment varying from 1½ to 6 years. In Jushpore thefts increased from 18 cases with 44 persons to 33 cases with 106 persons. In Gangpore 22 cases of house-breaking were reported, and 77 persons were suspected. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 5 cases and 10 persons. The fines imposed rose from Rs. 1,982 to Rs. 2,803, and Rs. 2,217 were realised against Rs. 1,510 the year before. Any tendency to impose fines, as a source of revenue, instead of inflicting severer sentences, must be watched and checked. There were 22 escapes among 604 prisoners, showing very great laxity in discipline. Of these escapes, 13 took place in Sirgooja alone, where there were 10 in 1886-87. The Commissioner is requested to see if nothing can be done to improve matters in this respect. The number of civil suits and cases of execution of decrees have increased slightly. There appears to be some mistake in paragraph 32 of the Report, as the statement that litigation has on the whole decreased is directly opposed to the figures. As in previous years, there were comparatively few execution cases excepting in Seraikella and Khursowan.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS FRONTIER FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

RESOLUTION.

POLITICAL.

Darjeeling, the 17th November 1888.

READ—

Letter from the Commissioner of Chittagong, No. 415HT—VI-7, dated the 15th June 1888, forwarding the Report on the Administration of the Chittagong Hill Tracts Frontier for the year 1887-88.

During the past year there were three raids made by the tribes beyond the frontier, two of which were more serious than any which have occurred since 1872. The first was an attempted attack on the village of the widow of a chief named Vanoya, on the 27th January 1888, by a party of Northern Howlongs. A guard had been posted in the village at the Rani's request, and as the village sentries were on the alert, the enemy retired, killing a villager whom they met on their way back.

2. The second raid was committed on the 3rd February 1888. The camp of Lieutenant Stewart, who was employed on survey duty within the Hill Tracts district, was attacked by Howsata Shendoos, and he was killed along with his two European soldiers and a native sepoy. The camp was taken by surprise, and the remainder of the guard appear to have been seized with a panic, and to have fled without attempting resistance.

3. In the third case an attack was made on the village of Rowajah Prenkyne situated on the Chima Khal, in the south of the Hill Tracts, on the 15th February 1888, by Southern Shendoos; 4 men were killed and 2 wounded, one of whom has since died, while 23 persons were carried off as captives. These raids were committed on the north, centre and south of our line, and the Commissioner of Chittagong and the Deputy Commissioner of the Chittagong Hill Tracts recommended that an expedition should be sent to prevent the perpetration of the outrages which, in their opinion, show clearly that the memory of the punishment inflicted in 1871-72 had faded from the minds of the tribes. Failing an expedition, the Commissioner recommended that the frontier guards should be considerably strengthened, and at least three new posts held in force. The Government of India has since decided against undertaking the punishment of these outrages during the coming season, but a force of 250 sepoys has been despatched to the Hill Tracts to act as a reserve.

4. No durbar was held owing to the disturbed state of the trans-frontier tribes.

5. There has been a great development of the frontier trade owing partly to the opening of the Demagri Bazar to the tribes of Northern Howlongs. 3,841 Lushais resorted to the Demagri Bazar against 4,902 during 1886-87. The number fell off greatly from June to September. The Deputy Commissioner cannot explain the reason, but thinks that possibly it was due to the state of the crops.

6. With the exception of Sirthay, all the frontier posts were occupied. The frontier force performed their arduous duties in a satisfactory manner, though there was a large number of casualties chiefly under the heads of discharges and transfers, as the up-country element in the force is rapidly disappearing and being replaced by hillmen. A sum of Rs. 33,145-6-7 was expended in provisioning the frontier force. The wastage of provisions was excessive, and the Commissioner will ask the District Superintendent of Police to look more closely after this.

7. The coolie corps is not yet a success; the Commissioner's special report on the subject is awaited. All efforts to obtain scouts failed, notwithstanding the high wages offered. A cart road from Peshki Surrah to upper Burkal was commenced; also a portion of the road from Poletye to Pyramid hill. The work on the latter was stopped owing to the workmen absconding after the raid in which Lieutenant Stewart was killed, and after that only the men of the coolie corps could be got to work on it. The same cause interfered with the survey of the Ruma and Rangamati road. One party under Captain Shakespear proceeded up to Ohipum No. 3, and, after surveying about 21 miles, was recalled on the death of Lieutenant Stewart. A second party under Lieutenant Stewart surveyed about 20 miles before his death.

8. Some of the Lushai Chiefs, living under the protection of the Government at Sirthay, having constantly refused to give coolies for carriage of provisions, though they owed large sums to Government on account of advances, were warned several times, and as this had no effect, the Deputy Commissioner was at last obliged to attach and sell their property for the realization of their advances.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS FOR THE YEAR 1887.

RESOLUTION.

MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 13th November 1888.

READ—

Report on the Calcutta Medical Institutions for the year 1887.

Read also—

The Report for the year 1886 and the Resolution recorded on it.

The year under report was unusually healthy in Calcutta. The death-rate fell from 26·42 per mille in 1886 to 25·34, the lowest on record during the last twelve years. In Howrah the recorded death-rate was 17·55, against 22·63 in 1886, and in the Suburbs 42·17, against 40·51. There was a decrease in mortality in Calcutta under all heads excepting Other causes.

2. The following table shows the extent to which the public resorted to the hospitals during the past two years :—

* Reckoned on cases treated, exclusive of ophthalmic cases.

3. Compared with the figures of the previous year, the total number of in-door patients shows a decrease of 1,296, while the total number of out-door patients rose from 240,380 to 241,064. It is remarkable that the total attendance at the hospitals was larger during the last two years than in 1884 and 1885, when the death-rate among the general population was much higher, showing that the attendance at the hospitals bears no direct relation to the death-rate among the general population. The attendance at the hospitals has shown a tendency to increase, while the mortality in the town has been steadily decreasing. The Inspector-General also shows that the mortality of the population during the years 1886 and 1887 from certain diseases, such as fever, diarrhœa and dysentery, does not correspond with the hospital attendance due to the same diseases during those years. With a view to throwing some light on this matter, he proposes that the death-rate in the different localities from which each hospital derives its patients should be shown in the mortuary table at the first page of the report. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of this proposal.

4. Of the 263,849 patients treated in the different institutions, 157,269 were adult males, 41,217 were females, and 65,003 were children. There was a large increase in the number of children treated in the General Hospital, where one of the female wards has been set apart for them. It is satisfactory to notice that out of 281 children treated in this hospital only 17 died. The statistics according to race were 7,540 Europeans, 29,116 Eurasians, 91,975 Mahomedans, 125,668 Hindus, and 9,550 other races. There was a considerable falling off in the number of Europeans who sought relief in the hospitals, probably due to the smaller number of sailors who visited the port.

5. The total death rate for all the Calcutta Hospitals, excluding the Eye Infirmary, is 116 per mille, the same as in 1886, and lower than in any other year since 1880. The very high death-rates in the Campbell Hospital and the Howrah General Hospital are attributed to the large number of destitute and moribund patients annually admitted to those institutions. Though the death-rates are higher than in 1886, they are lower than in any other previous year since 1881.

6. The number of admissions from dysentery rose from 1,601 in 1886 to 1,703, but there were only 447 deaths, against 455 the year before. There were 612 admissions for cholera, which in 341 cases proved fatal. Mortality among the European patients treated for this disease was greater in the General Hospital than in the Medical College. The Inspector-General remarks "that this difference is not likely to be due to any particular mode of treatment, but probably to the more virulent character of disease among the class of patients admitted into the General Hospital." The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that there were no cases of cholera among the patients under treatment in the General Hospital—a result which is attributed by Dr. Birch to the precautions adopted to secure the purity of the water and to the establishment of a dairy within the college compound for the supply of milk and butter to the patients. The decrease in the number of cases of small-pox during the last two years points to the conclusion that the operations of the Vaccination Department have of late been very successful in the town, but the Inspector-General is of opinion that without further experience it is impossible to say whether it is due to this cause alone. In order to effect the complete segregation of small-pox patients, it has been decided in future to admit such patients only to the Campbell Hospital, and for this purpose sanction has been accorded to the construction of a separate ward at a cost of Rs. 50,000. The total number of cases of enteric fever treated in all the hospitals was 13. Of these, 11 were admitted to the Presidency General Hospital and 2 into the Howrah Hospital. Both the cases admitted to the Howrah Hospital and 3 of those admitted to the General Hospital proved fatal. The above figures seem to show that Calcutta enjoys comparative immunity from this disease, and this, Dr. Hilson thinks, may perhaps be attributed to the purity of the water-supply. Cerebro-spinal fever shows 4 cases, all fatal, admitted into the Campbell Hospital, and 13 admissions with four deaths in the Mayo Hospital. The disease has also been present of late years in the Alipore Jail, and deserves special attention.

7. There were 2,672 admissions to the voluntary lock-hospitals for venereal diseases, against 2,113 in 1886. The number of in-door patients shows a slight diminution, being 458 against 484 in the previous year. Of the total number of in-door patients, 28 were Europeans and 430 natives. The total number of admissions for venereal diseases in all the institutions was 14,492, against 13,860 in 1886. Of these, 1,494 were Europeans and 12,798 natives. The Inspector-General proposes to abridge and remodel the statement showing the number of venereal diseases. He should in future submit a separate report on the subject, which is one that can be most conveniently dealt with by itself.

8. The number of important operations performed during the year was 1,468, against 1,561 in the previous year. Of these, 81 only proved fatal, or 50·81 per mille, against 64·07 in 1886. Dr. Hilson's remarks on the necessity of affording larger scope to the Assistant Surgeons, both at the Medical College Hospital and also at the Campbell Hospital, for performing important operations, deserve the careful consideration of the officers in charge of those institutions. The number of surgical operations performed at the Howrah Hospital seems to be much below what might be expected at such a well-equipped institution. The Inspector-General notes that in the Chandney Dispensary attached to the Mayo Hospital, it is reported that 52 out of 66 major operations were dislocations. This he refuses to believe, and states he has no hesitation in saying that the record of these cases is erroneous. He is requested to inquire and report specially on the whole management of this dispensary.

9. In the Eden Hospital, which is devoted entirely to midwifery and diseases of women, 1,607 patients were treated during the year, against 1,641 in the previous year. Of these, 946 were Europeans and 661 natives. The daily average of both classes was 67·8, against 74·1 in 1886. There were 39 deaths among the Europeans and 58 among the natives, against 28 and 40 respectively in the previous year. The number of confinement cases treated was 439, with 25 deaths, against 445 in the previous year, and 17 deaths. The above figures show a diminution in the number of cases admitted, and an increase in the number of deaths due to the prevalence of septicæmia in the hospital, which has caused no less than 15 deaths. Dr. Harvey remarks that he believes all precautions to prevent the recurrence of this cause will be fruitless until better arrangements are made for the washing of soiled bedding and linen. The erection of a steam laundry has been sanctioned with a view to providing the requisite arrangements.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the nurses employed in the hospitals continue to afford satisfaction, and that the superintendence exercised by the ladies of the Clewer Sisterhood is recognized in the reports of the medical officers of the different institutions as of the greatest value. The Honorary Secretary of the Hospital Nurses' Institution reported that the nurses employed in the Canning Hospital attended 54 cases of illness, in addition to their work at the hospital, and have earned for the institution a sum of Rs. 7,011 in fees. The dhais also attended nine cases in native families. Two passed females of the North-Western Provinces Branch of Lady Dufferin's Fund have been sent to the Eden Hospital to be trained in midwifery.

11. The total invested capital of the institutions rose from Rs. 5,49,300 to Rs 5,80,200. The increase appertains to the Medical College Hospital, Mayo Hospital, Ezra Hospital, and the Howrah General Hospital. The total income during the year, including opening balance, amounted to Rs. 4,45,839. Of this sum, Rs. 2,53,419 were contributed by Government. The total expenditure fell from Rs. 4,37,671 to Rs. 3,99,069. The decrease falls mainly under the heads of diet, miscellaneous charges and buildings and repairs. Dieting expenses decreased considerably in the Medical, Presidency, and Campbell Hospitals, owing to the smaller number of patients. There was also a considerable reduction in the miscellaneous charges in the Medical and Presidency Hospitals. The increased expenditure on establishment in the Presidency Hospital was due to the opening of a contagious diseases ward, and to the entertainment of extra establishments for cholera and small-pox cases.

12. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Hilson for his practical and useful report.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE LEGAL AFFAIRS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

JUDICIAL.

READ—

The Report on the Legal Affairs of the Government of Bengal for the year 1887-88.

The Reports for the two preceding years and the orders of Government thereon.

The Legal Remembrancer has curtailed his report considerably in compliance with the orders of Government conveyed in No. 743J, dated the 21st February 1888.

2. The following statement shows the result of Government litigation in all the Civil Courts of Bengal during the year 1887-88 as compared with the two previous years:—

CASES.

		1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.
Before the High Court.
Appeals	Decided in favour of Government	28	30	118
	Ditto against Government	4	77	3
	Compromised, remanded or withdrawn	305	2	1
	Total	337	109	122
	Percentage in favour of Government	87½	28	97½
Before the Lower Courts.
Appeals	Decided in favour of Government	29	25	62
	Ditto against Government	17	7	13
	Compromised, remanded or withdrawn	...	17	5
	Total	46	49	80
	Percentage in favour of Government	63	78	82½
Original cases	Decided in favour of Government	519	687	344
	Ditto against Government	71	83	56
	Compromised, remanded or withdrawn	35	123	83
	Total	625	893	483
	Percentage in favour of Government	88	89	86
Total	Decided in favour of Government	576	742	524
	Ditto against Government	92	167	72
	Compromised, remanded, or withdrawn	340	142	89
	Total	1,008	1,051	685
	Percentage in favour of Government	86½	81½	88

The result of litigation last year was generally more favourable to Government than in the two previous years, except in Courts of first instance, where the falling off is very slight. Of the 56 cases decided against Government in the Courts of first instance, 21 were land acquisition suits, in which the Judge awarded compensation in excess of what had been offered by the Deputy Collectors. Eight out of 13 cases decided against Government in the lower appellate courts were also land acquisition cases. The very favourable results in the High Court are due to the fact that 99 appeals, preferred by the Midnapore khas mehal ryots against the late settlement assessments, were dismissed.

3. The Legal Remembrancer has apparently misunderstood the remarks contained in paragraph 2 of last year's Resolution, in which he was asked to submit a special report on two points—(1) the means to be adopted to secure a more careful examination of the probabilities of success before engaging in litigation; (2) the possibility of keeping a stricter watch over the progress of cases when instituted. In his report he deals only with the result of cases before the High Court, and asserts that the result of litigation there often depends on, and is determined by, "the ill-conduct of the Lower Courts and various technicalities quite irrespective of the justice of the position taken up." The Lieutenant-Governor had, however, in view all the cases specifically noticed in the report, whether decided by Courts of first instance or Appellate Courts, and his remarks did not refer exclusively to the figures showing the result of appeals to the High Court. It was clear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on a perusal of the summary of various cases decided against Government, given by the Legal Remembrancer in his report for 1886-87, that some of these cases should never have been brought into Court by Government, and that others should not have been defended by the Government, and he asked the Legal Remembrancer for his suggestions on the subject to be contained in a special report. This, however, has not yet been received, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it will be submitted at an early date.

4. The figures in the margin show the result of the litigation in which the Court of Wards was concerned in 1887-88 and the two preceding years. The decrease in the number of cases is due to two large estates having passed out of the hands of the Court of Wards. The percentage decided in favour of the Court of Wards, though slightly better than 1886-87, is still very low, owing to the fact that 90 appeals preferred by the Manager of the Dighaputea Estate, without reference to the Legal Remembrancer, were rejected. In the Courts of first instance the percentage of cases decided in favour of the Court of Wards was 89⅔, but here also a considerable portion of the cases decided against the Court came from the Dighaputea Estate. The attention of the Revenue Department will be called to the matter, as the Manager does not appear to have been justified in instituting the appeals.

	1885-86. Rs.	1886-87. Rs.	1887-88. Rs.
Decided in favour of Court of Wards	1,115	1,034	707
Decided against Court of Wards	159	310	185
Compromised, remanded or withdrawn	44	91	68
Percentage in favour of Court of Wards	87½	77	79½

5. The following table shows the amount of Government decrees recovered during 1886-87, as compared with the amounts recovered during the two previous years:—

			1885-86. Rs.	1886-87. Rs.	1887-88. Rs.
Amount under realization	...	...	6,26,182	50,449	48,884
Realized during the year	...	...	12,338	13,367	11,389
Percentage of recovery	...	...	2	26½	23½

As was stated in last year's Resolution, excluding the Canning decrees which were ultimately remitted, the percentage realized in 1885-86 was 27½, Calculated in the same way, the percentage for 1884-85 was 33.

6. The following table shows the amount of Wards' decrees recovered during the last three years:—

			1885-86. Rs.	1886-87. Rs.	1887-88. Rs.
Amount under realization	...	...	9,37,524	11,07,579	13,20,600
Realized during the year	...	...	1,69,179	1,63,806	2,59,312
Percentage of recovery	...	...	18	14¾	19¾

The largest outstanding balances are against the Burdwan Raj, Dighaputea and Tikari Estates, and most of the decrees are said to be outstanding from long before the estate came under the Court of Wards. The percentage of collections is somewhat better than last year, but is still very unsatisfactory. The Legal Remembrancer has not reported, as requested in paragraph 9 of last year's Resolution, on the desirability of paying nazirs and their subordinates a commission upon realizations. The Board of Revenue issued a circular calling upon officers to show more energy in the realization of decrees, too late, however, to affect materially the returns for 1887-88. The Legal Remembrancer's report shows that in some instances Collectors allow themselves to be far too easily baffled in enforcing Government claims.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs for information and submission of the report referred to in paragraph 3.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution, with a copy of the Report, be forwarded to the Revenue Department, with reference to the remarks contained in paragraph 4 of the Resolution.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. WARE EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE GOVERNMENT CINCHONA PLANTATION AND CINCHONA FACTORY IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 9th November 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Government Cinchona Plantation and Cinchona Factory in Bengal for the year 1887-88.

The Report is submitted by Mr. Gammie, the acting Superintendent.

2. The weather during the year under review was favourable for the planting of young cinchona trees. Rain fell abundantly during the months of April and May, and the seedlings, which had been planted out at the best season of the year, prospered in an unusual degree.

The policy of replacing the red bark, or cinchona febrifuge-yielding plant, by the ledgeriana and hybrid varieties, which yield quinine, was steadily adhered to: 375,092 trees, chiefly of the former kind, were uprooted for their bark, and 424,200 seedlings of the latter were put out in the plantation.

3. The number of cinchona plants, including the nursery stock, at the Government plantations on the 1st April 1888, was 5,335,504, of which 2,182,000 were of the kind known as succirubra, or red bark, and 2,950,200 were hybrid and calisaya ledgeriana. The crop of the year amounted to 290,410lbs. dry bark, of which 221,090lbs. were red (succirubra), 62,410lbs. were calisaya, and 6,910lbs. were hybrid bark. With the exception of 855½lbs., which were supplied to the Medical Department and to the public, all the bark was made over to the factory as usual. The attempts to naturalize the species of cinchona which yield the hard Carthagena and cuprea barks have hitherto been unsuccessful; but the three new varieties—verde, morada, and zamba morada—which were procured from South America and sent out to this country by the Secretary of State in 1883, have been cultivated with success. The quality of the bark yielded by these plants is not greatly inferior to that of the calisaya ledgeriana, and the introduction of these varieties is considered to be one of the most important and promising experiments which have ever been made at the plantation.

4. The year was marked by the discovery of a process for the manufacture of sulphate of quinine, which is expected to produce a permanent reduction in the price of the article. The details of the method have been published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 28th March 1888, and further experience has confirmed the opinion which was then expressed that by this process quinine can be obtained in a form undistinguishable, either chemically or physically, from the best brands of European manufacture.

5. The outturn of medicine at the factory, which is regulated by the demand, was 6,916lbs. of ordinary cinchona febrifuge, 1lb. of crystalline febrifuge, and 331½lbs. of sulphate of quinine. The issues during the year were larger than those in 1886-87 by 2,20½lbs., as will be seen from the following table:—

	1887-88.		1886-87.

7. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. King, F.R.S., for the efficient working of the Department. His Honour has himself inspected the factory and the plantation and observed the working of the new process, and he has much pleasure in bearing testimony to the evidence which was afforded to him of the remarkable efficiency of Mr. Gammie's administration. Sir Steuart Bayley will take an early opportunity of bringing Mr. Gammie's services to the notice of the Government of India.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, and of the Report referred to, be submitted to the Government of India, Home Department, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution, and of the Report, be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Cinchona Plantation; the Government of Madras; and the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CORPORATION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 12th November 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Calcutta Municipal Corporation for the year 1887-88.

This report is preceded by an introductory chapter of considerable interest, in which the Commissioners have instituted a comparison between Calcutta as it was in the year 1876, when the present Municipality was created, and as it is now in 1888, which is the last year of its corporate existence. It is pointed out that such a comparison is the more instructive because, unlike most cities, the circumstances of Calcutta are such that its boundaries and population have remained stationary. It is shown that during the last 12 years the drainage scheme has been completed, the filtered and unfiltered water-supply doubled, and the roads much increased in length and better lighted and watered. Tanks have been filled up, bathing platforms constructed, bustees cleansed, and the value of land has been doubled without any increase on account of debt.

2. Over 2½ lakhs of rupees have been spent yearly on drainage works. The total number of premises connected with the sewers on the 31st March 1888 was 23,849; the number similarly connected up to the end of 1876 was 7,214 only. In 1876 there were 47 miles of pipe sewers, in 1888 there were 144 miles. The enormous improvement effected by the obliteration of the old open drains or elongated cess-pools, as they have been called, can only be appreciated by those who remember Calcutta in former days; but it may still be partially realised by a visit to the Suburbs of the Town, where open drains still exist. Arrangements have also been made for drainage inspection, and improvements have been effected in flushing and in the system of cleansing the sewers.

3. In 1876 the average quantity of filtered water supplied to the Town per diem was 6,541,154 gallons, and of unfiltered water 721,675 gallons. During the past year the average supply had increased to 10,326,601 and 2,501,830 gallons respectively. A comprehensive scheme of extension has been sanctioned by the Commissioners, which will not only increase the supply of filtered water to the Town to 16,000,000 gallons, but will also provide an additional four million gallons for the Suburbs. The capital sunk in the water-works up to the end of March 1876 was Rs. 71,56,986: this amount had increased by the end of the past year to Rs. 1,22,86,485.

4. The roadway of the Town has been augmented during the past 12 years by about 10 per cent., and the area of roads watered by 33 per cent. The lighting of the Town has increased from 3,418 lamps to 4,761. About 240 impure and insanitary tanks—cups of poison as they were described in a previous report—have been filled up, and tanks other than those in private enclosures are now very rare in any part of the Town except the extreme north. In the place of the tanks, the Town has been studded with 86 bathing platforms for the use of the poorer inhabitants. Five public squares have been constructed and laid out at considerable expense, to the great advantage of the people living in the neighbourhood. A sixth has lately been sanctioned, and the land is now being acquired. For the first time, an attempt has been made to deal with the almost insoluble difficulty of bustee reclamation. It is through the personal exertions of the Chairman, Sir Henry Harrison, that organised measures have at last been adopted to reconstruct and arrange these bustees, to ventilate them by roads, and to remove refuse from them daily.

5. It was observed by one of the late Health Officers of Calcutta, in a published address, that "Calcutta has to sight and sense within living memory undergone a revolution," and it may be added that during the past 12 years the changes effected have been more rapid and decisive than in the twenty years which preceded them. The evidence of improvement is not wanting. Dividing these twelve years into three quadrennial periods, it is found that during the first of these periods the number of deaths was 54,263, during the second 48,174, and during the third 47,827. The decrease is principally in fever mortality, and is directly due to the completion of the drainage system, the consequent obliteration of the surface ditches, the greater dryness of the subsoil, and to the work done by the organised mehter service. It is true that the cholera deaths show a converse tendency to increase, but if the deaths from cholera, diarrhœa and dysentery are combined together, in consequence of the imperfect medical diagnosis in such cases, the figures of the three periods, 12,866, 12,294 and 12,133, will be found to show a slight, but very slight, inclination to decrease As the Commissioners, however, point out, the improvement is most decisive in its effect upon the wealth of the Town. It is stated to be, on the whole, a very moderate estimate, that the value of land in Calcutta has doubled since 1876. The value of buildings has increased but little; yet the official valuation of the Town, which was Rs. 1,23,32,344 in 1876, had increased to Rs. 1,43,75,673 in 1888. The same rate of taxation yields therefore 15 per cent. more in taxes; and whereas it took a 6 per cent. rate in 1876 to meet the interest charges at that time, a 6 per cent. rate now would cover the parallel charges and leave a margin

6. The Lieutenant-Governor has perused this portion of the Commissioners' report with much satisfaction, and it is a source of unqualified gratification to him to know that these results have been attained without irritation or friction. The wrangling and strife which marked the early days of municipal life in Calcutta have long since passed away, and the relations between the Commissioners and their official Chairman are now of the most friendly and cordial character. The action of a Municipal Government, as has been well said, must address itself to the instincts, intelligence and co-operation of the governed and the conciliatory spirit which, for many years past, has moulded the policy of the Calcutta Corporation has amply justified itself, if justification were necessary, by the successful record of work done. At the same time Sir Steuart Bayley avails himself of this opportunity of saying, as he will not fail to say on all suitable occasions, that the principal value of such a retrospect as the Commissioners have now made, is to be found in the strong encouragement and inducement it affords them to persevere in the path of improvement. While fully acknowledging the importance of the work which the Commissioners have accomplished, it is not possible for the Lieutenant-Governor to be blind to the magnitude of the work which has been left undone or only partially done. The arrangements for the drainage of the Town have still to be perfected. The water-supply, even after the present extensions have been carried out, will still be insufficient for the needs of the people. The removal of refuse and rubbish is far from complete. The arrangement of upper storey privies, of which the present Health Officer gives so graphic a description in this year's report, is deplorably defective. The system of sanitary inspection, on the improvement of which the Government of India have lately laid so much stress, is still very deficient. Schemes for large model dairies and an establishment for washing clothes, such as have proved so beneficial in Bombay, are in abeyance. The Municipality has not yet identified itself with the completion of a new large street in any portion of the city. Although new squares have been opened out and new roads have been constructed, what has been done is altogether insufficient for the requirements of the metropolis. The structural condition of the city has been almost entirely neglected in past days, and there is no department of municipal administration in Calcutta which needs so much attention in the future. The new Central Road from the Howrah Bridge to Sealdah, which is now in contemplation, is a beneficial scheme which, if carried out, is likely to prove of inestimable advantage, and it is with great regret, therefore, that the Lieutenant-Governor has learnt that the Government of India do not feel themselves at liberty to sanction the contribution by the Howrah Bridge Commissioners of their surplus revenue of two lakhs of rupees so as to enable the Corporation to meet the initial interest on the loan which it would be necessary to raise to meet the cost of the road. But it will be a grave misfortune if the Municipal Commissioners allow the project to be abandoned on this account. It must be remembered also that the action of the Commissioners must extend in the future not only to the Town, but to the insanitary Suburbs. The Suburbs of the Town will, under the new Act which has lately been passed, be amalgamated with Calcutta for municipal purposes, and when the whole of this area is united under one active sanitary administration, the duties and responsibilities of the Corporation will be largely increased. To improve the Suburbs a heavy outlay of expenditure will be necessary, and the unremitting exertions of the Commissioners will be called for for many years to furnish to the suburban residents an adequate water-supply a proper system of drainage, continuous cleansing, and other measures of immediate sanitary necessity.

7. Turning now to the work done during the year itself, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to observe the regular attendance of Commissioners both at the General Meetings and at the Committees and Sub-Committees. No less than 14 Commissioners attended more than 50 times, and there are five Commissioners who attended 100 times and upwards. No less than 39 Commissioners attended more than 50 per cent. of the meetings and Committees to which they were invited. This degree of interest taken by the Commissioners in their work is one of the most satisfactory features of municipal government in the metropolis.

8. The total income of the Municipality was Rs. 31,18,625 against Rs 30,01,636 in the previous year, and the disbursement Rs. 30,33,567 against Rs. 29,96,189. With the sanction of Government, a 5 per cent. loan was raised for the following purposes:—

	Rs.
Water-supply	7,05,500
Bustee and town improvement	2,50,000
Extension of drainage	1,60,000
Repayment of 6 per cent. loans of 1867 ...	4,39,000
Total ...	15,54,500

Having regard to the amount represented by transfer into new debentures, a sum of twelve lakhs only was advertised for by the Commissioners. The total amount of tenders was Rs. 37,10,000, of which Rs. 34,15,000 were at and above par. Tenders at and above Rs. 101-1 were accepted: the average rate of successful tenders was Rs. 101-10-11, and the loan is now quoted at a high premium. The Lieutenant-Governor congratulates the Commissioners on this very successful financial position. The total loan liability of the Corporation at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 1,77,79,182.

9. The expenditure actually incurred under the head of town and bustee improvements was Rs. 3,33,416 against Rs. 2,03,244 in the previous year; 18 tanks were filled up by the Corporation, and 10 by the owners after notice had been served on them. The report furnishes a lucid account of the water-works extension scheme, and of the delays which have hitherto prevented its completion. It is stated that the delay in completing the works is solely due to the condition of the money market, and that ever since funds have been plentiful the works have been pushed on as fast as circumstances admitted. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot, however, accept this explanation without some qualification. It was said by Mr. Kimber in his evidence before the Sanitary Commission in 1884 that it was possible to complete the extension in three working seasons or even less; but this period has passed, and the works are still in progress, and it is now stated that "by February at latest the Town ought to be enjoying its full supply of 16 million gallons properly distributed by the aid of the engines at Halliday Street." His Honour trusts that the steps now being taken will ensure the fulfilment of this anticipation without any risk of failure. The remaining four millions are intended for the Suburbs, and it will be left for the amalgamated Municipality to make arrangements for receiving this supply. In regard to drainage works, it is reported that the Hastings drainage has been completed, and that of Bagh Bazar is rapidly approaching completion. The total expenditure from capital on drainage during the past year was Rs. 2,14,843. As soon as the amalgamation comes into force, fresh drainage operations will have to be taken in hand for the new area. The Lieutenant-Governor will await with much interest the effect of drainage in the Hastings' ward, which for many years in the past has shown a higher death-rate than any other ward in the city. Not in drainage only, but in other respects, it is believed to have been brought into a better sanitary condition during the past two years.

10. The report of the Health Officer, annexed to the Commissioners' report, is again a very valuable paper, and worthy of Dr. Simpson's high reputation as an earnest and able sanitarian. The year 1887 was the healthiest on record, the mortality being 10,979, or only 25·3 per mille. Not only was the cholera mortality lower than in any year since 1880, but the year was also marked by a further fall in the death-rate from fever. The result of Dr. Simpson's investigations is to show that 70 per cent. of the mortality from cholera is among the poorer population who live in tiled huts. His special report on this disease will prove of the greatest interest to persons specially engaged in investigating the phenomena of cholera.

11. The Commissioners report favourably of the working of the executive departmental officers of the Corporation. The collections made by Mr. O. C. Dutt, the able Collector of rates, amounted to Rs. 23,79,122, and exceed the amount received by the Municipality in any previous year. The new License Officer, Baboo Romoni Mohun Chatterjee, has begun well both in improving the collections and reorganising the department. The Assessor and Surveyor, Baboo Mahtab Chunder Mullick, whose invidious duties expose him to much hostile and unfair criticism, is highly spoken of as enjoying the entire confidence of the Commissioners. Mr. Jones, the Superintendent of the Market, discharged his duties with his usual efficiency. Messrs. Wintgens and Dickson, the Assistant Engineers, and Mr. Cooper, who is in charge of maintaining roads and sewers, gave satisfaction during the year. The resignation of Mr. Turnbull, who had been the valued Secretary to the Corporation for thirty years, was referred to in last year's report. The Vice-Chairman, Baboo Gopal Lall Mitter, remained in charge of his office throughout the year. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison, the Chairman of the Corporation, was on leave for six months. During his absence Mr. Cotton officiated as Chairman.

12. Upon the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the administration of the Town of Calcutta by the present Commissioners, who are now about to lay down their office, merits the favourable opinion of Government and the commendation of the rate-payers: although the success attained is not unqualified, the result is one of which the Commissioners need not be ashamed: although much is still wanting, it must be acknowledged that much has been done: in the future it will be more easy to overcome difficulties of which the nature of the solution has already been indicated: the defects of system which experience has brought to light have been to some extent remedied by recent legislation, and with the increased powers which the new law bestows on the municipal authorities, it may be anticipated with confidence that the Corporation of the amalgamated Town and Suburbs will continue with even greater success to discharge the heavier duties and responsibilities which will devolve upon it.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Patna Div. 26	Patna „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—fair; mornings and evenings cool. Rabbi sowings progressing, but retarded in many places for want of sufficient moisture, and the young plants are suffering from the same cause. The sub-divisional officer of Barh reports that paddy has almost all dried up in his sub-division, and that there may be one anna outturn. Prices of food-grains are almost stationary.
27	Gya „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—cool. Outturn of paddy expected to be eight annas. Sowing of poppy proceeding. Sowing of rabbi still going on where the land can be irrigated.
28	Shahabad „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—bright and clear; getting cool. Paddy crop is suffering for want of rain except on canal-irrigated lands. Rabbi is still being sown, but much retarded owing to absence of moisture. Rain badly wanted. Poppy sowings have made good progress, but owing to high temperature the plants which have germinated have suffered to some extent. Prices very high.

29	Durbhanga „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—occasionally cloudy; getting cool. Harvesting of paddy has commenced. Rabbi sowings almost at a standstill for want of rain. Prices stationary.
30	Muzufferpur „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—cool and bright. Rain wanted for rabbi. In the Sitamarhi sub-division paddy in the high lands reported lost, that in the low lands very poor; rabbi plants suffering for want of sufficient moisture. In Sudder and Hajeepur paddy will be not less than half a crop; rabbi sowings are still going on, and are germinating fairly. Prices of food-grains not so high as last week.
31	Saran „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—getting cool. Prospects unchanged. Prices rising.
32	Chumparun „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—cold, with variable wind. In the Bettiah sub-division rabbi is coming up well, and the seed in more than half the poppy cultivation has germinated. Prospects of aghani better than at first estimated. In the Sudder sub-division no alteration to report in prospects of aghani dhan. Rabbi has not germinated in many places. Rain much required. The poppy seed has germinated only in about one-sixth of the area engaged for according to the latest reports.
Bhagulpore Div. 33	Monghyr „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable and clear. Winter rice on low lands doing fairly well and expected to be 8 annas on the whole. Rabbi sowings slowly going on where there is moisture in the soil. Prices stationary.
34	Bhagulpur „ 17, '88	Nil	Weather—fair and rather hot. Prospects continue unchanged. In Supool affairs look rather better, and prices have slightly fallen. From Madehpura no change in the state of things is announced. In Banka rice has risen somewhat in price, but the coarser food-grains are cheaper. In the Sudder sub-division there are still hopes for the rabbi if rain should fall; but insects are damaging the plants. Rice in the Sudder will be at the outside an 8 to 10-anna crop.
35	Purneah „ 17, '88	Rainfall not shown.	Weather—seasonable. There has been no rain to speak of since last week's report, and therefore no improvement in the prospects of the crops. Winter sowings, however, are doing fairly well, and the price of common rice has a downward tendency.

	Arrareah ..	0·06
36	Maldah „ 17, '88	0·22	Weather—clear and cool, but occasionally cloudy. The showers have done some good to the rabbi crops, which generally promise fairly well; but little or no good to the winter rice, the yield of which will not to be more than 8 annas on the whole. Prices are easier; common rice selling at an average of 17½ seers per rupee.

37	Sonthal Perghs. „ 17, '88	1·20	Weather—cloudy all through the week, now clear. Fair reports of rice crop from nearly all the sub-divisions except Rajmehal, where only 8 annas crop expected. Rain in the week has done some good to rabbi crops which promise well. Prices beginning to fall.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period of the last ten years
The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number re the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 31 hours in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 16th of November 1888.

CALCUTTA, the 20th November 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 16TH OF NOVEMBER 1888.

At the close of the previous week conditions in Bengal were distinctly abnormal for the season. The cyclonic storm which had passed over Madras on the night of the 31st of October had caused a wave of moisture-laden winds to advance northwards up the west coast of the Bay, and heavy rainfall had been received in Orissa; while over the remainder of Bengal this wave had only caused skies to cloud over very heavily, and up to the 9th practically no rain had fallen in any division except Orissa. At this period it also almost appeared that the moist winds would retreat from Bengal or disperse without giving rise to any rainfall of importance, and on the 9th, skies were generally clearing. This gradual retreat, however, of the disturbed conditions did not continue, and for the first two or three days moist winds, and in many cases southerly and south-easterly winds, were still reported at the western and south-western stations in the province. Apparently at this time also there was a rather strong northerly wind current setting in from Northern India, and this commenced to interact with and drive back the more or less moist winds. As the result of this interaction, pressure commenced to rise rapidly, and rainfall also commenced on the 12th in Chutia Nagpur, and on about the 13th in the western and south-western districts, and it then gradually extended to East and North Bengal on the 14th and 15th Rainfall has thus been almost general in all districts except Behar, though the amounts received have been very variable, and in some cases extremely heavy falls have been reported, though at the majority of stations the falls have been light. Even in Behar a few showers have been received in the Purneah, Shahabad and Gya districts, and moderate to heavy rain in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, but the remaining districts in this division have been almost absolutely rainless. The strong northerly current having thus driven back the variable but moist winds, the previously disturbed conditions were rapidly replaced by fine settled weather of north-east monsoon character, when skies quickly cleared, humidity and temperature rapidly decreased, and rainfall entirely ceased Pressure.—The pressure variations during the first half of the week were not very large, though pressure generally fell slowly, but during the second half of the week a rather rapid increase took place. For the whole week the mean pressure variation from the normal has only equalled a few thousandths of an inch, and nearly half the number of stations show very slight defects, and the remainder slight excess pressures.

Temperatures.—During the continuance of the disturbed conditions in the first half of the week, temperature remained decidedly high, but for the last two or three days it became comparatively low. The average mean temperature in East and North Bengal and North Behar has been slightly below the normal; but in South-West Bengal, South Behar and Chutia Nagpur, it has been from two to two and a half degrees above it, and in Orissa the mean temperature has been no less than 3·6° above the normal For the whole province the mean variation is an excess of 1·3°.

The variations of the average temperature during the week from the normal can be seen from the following table, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts in the province are given, compared with the normal means for the same period. It will be seen that the day temperatures have generally been not very far removed from the normal, while the night or minimum temperatures are rather largely above it at almost all stations :—

Rainfall.—The rainfall during the week has been very important. An average fall of no less than 1·26 inches has occurred at the stations in South West Bengal, one of 0·55 inch in Orissa, one of 0·44 inch in North Bengal, one of 0·36 inch in East Bengal, one of 0·27 inch in Chutia Nagpur, and one of 0·21 inch in South Behar. North Behar, as previously stated, has been practically rainless. At some stations particularly heavy falls were reported, and at Contai, Aliporo, Serampore, Culna, Ranaghat, and Narail, falls exceeding two inches were received within twenty-four hours.

The rainfall of the province, district by district, taking into account all the rainfall-recording stations in each district from which complete rainfall returns for the week have been received, is as follows :—

The following districts have received an average amount of from one and a half to two inches :—Howrah, Hooghly, Burdwan, Nuddea, and Jessore. The following from one to one and a half inches :—24-Pergunnahs; from three quarters to one inch :—Cuttack, Balasore, Midnapore, Beerbhoom, and Furreedpore; from half to three quarters of an inch :—Rungpore, Bogra, Moorshedabad, Maldah, Mymensingh, Dacca, and Bankoora; from a quarter to half an inch :—Tipperah, Manbhoom, Khoolna, Pubna, Darjeeling, Dinagepore, and Sonthal Pergunnahs; from a tenth to a quarter of an inch :—Backergunge, Noakhally, Rajshahye, Shahabad, Bhagulpore. * No equal census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the native population as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the returned population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Comparative statement of the principal commodities carried over the Eastern Bengal State Railway during the month of August 1888.

Increases.

Rice ... ... Tons, 332
The Northern Bengal State Railway contributed principally to this increase, for which no special reason can be assigned.

Grains 497
Principally from Kooshtea, Pangsa and Sara.

Jute, screwed 637

Jute, unscrewed 601
The increase during the month was small, owing to the rise in ocean freights, the looseness of demand from London, and the imperfect telegraphic communication with New York.

Oilseeds 669
Due to improvement in the London market.

Railway plant and rolling-stock 837
For repairs and renewals.

Decreases.

Coal 449
Sufficiency of stocks for Railway and Flotilla purposes.

Cotton piece-goods 2,150
This decrease is due to the Poojahs having fallen earlier in 1887 than in 1888.

Salt 714
Falling off in despatches from Dacca and other hide-curing stations.

Comparative Statement of the principal commodities carried over the Bengal Central Railway during the month of August 1888.

Increases.

	Tons.
Coal	271
For railway and flotilla purposes. The increase in weight of coal carried being influenced by the increase in number of train miles run.
Sugar	196
The increase was principally in the exports from Jhikargacha.

Decreases.

Rice	354
Singhia and Khulna shew large decreases, the result of a congested market.
Jute	420
This decrease was induced by a combination of unfavourable circumstances, viz., the advance in ocean freights, the looseness of demand from England, and the unsatisfactory state of telegraphic communication with New York.
Betel-nuts	121
There was a slight increase in the weight brought to the railway by the Bengal Central Flotilla, but Khulna shews a considerable decrease during the month.

AFRICA—EAST.

RED SEA—EASTERN SHORE.

Kamarán Bay—Reef off Southern Entrance.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (Notice to Mariners No. 318 of 1888) that information has been received through the Board of Trade that on the 1st August 1888 the British steam vessel Bussorah, when entering Kamarán Bay by the South Channel, struck on the southern side of the entrance:—

The bearings given for the position of the vessel when aground in 3 fathoms water, are as follows:—

Northern extreme of Ras-el Bayádh—N. 61½° E.
Southern extreme of Ras-el Bayádh—S. 8¾° W.
South-west extreme of Kamarán Island—N. 47½° W.

As the southern entrance to Kamarán Bay has previously been reported to be narrower than shown on the plan, it appears probable that the shore reef outside Ras-el Bayádh is wider than given on the chart, and Mariners should use caution in entering.

NOTE.—In the caution printed on chart No. 14, the word "not" is omitted from the second paragraph, which should run as follows:—When there is any wind the reefs are not easily seen.

(The bearings are magnetic. Variation 3¾° Westerly in 1888).

This hospital shall contain not more than six bunks, and shall have a superficial deck area of at least 144 feet and not less than 864 cubic feet of air space. It shall be lighted and ventilated to the satisfaction of the surveying officers, and shall be provided with a raised floor or platform at least four inches off the deck. (2). A proportion of such privies, in any case not less than one, if there be any females among the passengers, shall be set apart for the exclusive use of females, such proportion corresponding, as nearly as may be, to the proportion of female to male passengers.

V.—Every such ship shall be provided with, and have available for the use of the passengers, not less than two places for washing sufficiently screened from public view, whereof a full proportion, as described in Rule IV, shall be set apart exclusively for females. Cooking on board in the passengers' own stoves is prohibited, and any passenger so cooking or attempting to cook shall be punished with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

(2). The crew of the ship shall not be allowed to use the cooking ranges set apart for passengers during the period passengers are on board, but shall be provided with a separate cooking range.

(3). In the case of ships engaged in the coasting trade and carrying passengers on short voyages from port to port, who do not ordinarily cook food on board, the number of cooking ranges may be reduced to such number, not being less than two, as may seem adequate to the requirements of the passengers.

VIII.—The master of any ship omitting to keep any privy, washing place, or cooking range available for the use of the passengers, or any cattle securely penned in, or allowing the crew of the ship to use any cooking range set apart for passengers in breach of the foregoing rules, shall be punished with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, and when the breach is a continuing one with a further fine of twenty rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday, if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots; provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1887-88, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1887.

RESOLUTION.

POLICE.

Darjeeling, the 20th November 1888.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Police Department for the year 1887.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1885 and 1886, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

GENERAL.

1. Mr. Veasey's report was submitted a few days after the date on which it was due. He explains that the Chota Nagpore Report was more than a month late owing to the revised rules for the preparation of the report not having been attended to in the first instance. During the last three years it has always been the last, or the last but one, to come in, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that similar delays in its submission may not occur in future.

2. Cost and numbers of Police Force.—The actual expenditure for the financial year 1887-88 was Rs. 40,27,968 against Rs. 40,33,658 in 1886-87. The total strength of the police, including Railway Police, was 23,356. The cost of the police employed on purely police work is approximately estimated at Rs. 26,05,943, or 7·6 pies per head of population. The proportion of police to area and population is shown in the following table:—

Provinces.	Number of police.	Area in square miles.	Population.	Proportion of police to square miles.	Proportion of police to population.
Bengal	11,9[illegible]9	70,956	34,831,373	1 to 5·9	1 to 2,904
Behar	5,953	44,139	23,127,104	1 to 7·4	1 to 3,844
Orissa	1,418	9,762	3,780,694	1 to 6·8	1 to 2,672
Chota Nagpore	1,388	26,966	4,225,989	1 to 19·4	1 to 3,044
Total ...	20,747	151,823	65,964,160	1 to 7·3	1 to 3,179

Batta allowance of one rupee a month, which was first introduced in 1880 in 5 districts, has, since the beginning of 1888, been granted in 13 districts, besides being temporarily allowed to the lower grade constables of the Dacca Special Reserve while on duty in Darjeeling. An increase of Rs. 5 has also been sanctioned to the third and fourth grade constables of this Reserve when at Darjeeling. The difficulty in getting recruits in Bengal near the Metropolis is steadily increasing, and in Mr. Veasey's opinion a further extension of batta to all men upon town duty will become inevitable before long.

3. Town Police.—The reports show how distasteful town duty is to the police. In Howrah there were 62 resignations among 309 men in the town police, while there were only 16 out of 247 in the district. In Dacca the town supplied 100 out of 113 resignations for the whole district. In Nuddea the number of vacancies which could not be filled up was so great that in some municipalities the number of men on duty was as much as 50 per cent. below the sanctioned strength, without, however, any serious outbreak of crime occurring. The Inspector-General urges that this bears out his contention that the expensive agency of regular police is altogether in excess of what is wanted for the rural or semi-rural tracts which form a large part of most Bengal municipalities. He also states that in many municipalities the town police are taken from their regular duties and employed in a more or less irregular manner. This is illustrated by the case of Noakholly, where four men out of a strength of fourteen have been detailed to look after tanks. He has promised a special report on the possibility of replacing the regular police in municipalities to some extent by a cheaper and more contented body. This report is awaited. It is evident that the subject is one which cannot be adequately dealt with in an annual report and the resolution upon it.

4. Rural Police.—It is difficult to draw any definite conclusions on this subject from the extracts from divisional and district reports, strung together without much method by the Inspector-General. It is alleged that in some districts of the Presidency and Dacca Divisions the chowkidars are too independent of the police to be of much assistance in investigations. There seems indeed to be a general complaint that the rural police are still far from being such useful auxiliaries of the regular police as they ought to be, and the Commissioner of Chittagong is of opinion that the amending Chowkidari Act has effected no improvement in this respect. The Lieutenant-Governor does not, indeed, wish the chowkidars to become a component and subordinate portion of the regular police, but it is very desirable that the two bodies should be more closely associated, and that District Superintendents of Police should have more control over the former. His Honour is prepared to consider any measures permissible under the existing law which may seem likely to bring this about, and he agrees with Mr. Veasey that one very effectual and easily adopted way of securing this would be that chowkidars should be punished by the Magistrate on the recommendation of the District Superintendent. This would also tend to insure more uniformity in discipline, and to prevent the violent fluctuations which now occur in many districts, as for instance in Bhagulpore, where the number of punishments rose from 83 in 1886 to 1,249 in 1887. A new system of chowkidari parades, which should lead to better reporting, has been introduced, under which men belonging to the same village no longer attend on the same day; so that a man going on Tuesday, for instance, cannot be certain how much information has been given by another chowkidar belonging to his village who went on Monday. The subject of getting better reporting from chowkidars is one to which the efforts of district officers may usefully be directed. It is by keeping the regular police fully informed of the movements of criminals and bad characters, and of the occurrence of crime, that chowkidars can best fulfil their functions as the lowest link in the chain required for the repression of crime, and Colonel Ramsay has shown formerly in Patna and of late in Monghyr how much can be done by systematic attention to place the system of reporting on a better footing, and how useful such reporting may be made. No measures, however, can effect much good unless the chowkidars are regularly paid. There has indeed been some change for the better in this respect, as on the last day of 1887 only 8,183 chowkidars were in arrears for four months and over, against 9,002 in 1886; but there is still, in many places, great room for improvement, and District Magistrates should devote the utmost attention to securing the punctual payment of their chowkidars. It is satisfactory that the use of police agency in the payment of chowkidars has not been carried to such an excess as in 1886, though it is still abused in some districts, as in Tipperah, where orders were issued that station officers were to carry about the money for distribution to chowkidars. Such a use of the police takes them away from their proper work: it is also very likely to lead to embezzlement, as large sums of money have to be distributed by men on small pay under circumstances in which it is impossible to keep any effective check on them. These disadvantages more than counterbalance any possible gain from the closer association between the rural and regular police brought about by such measures. Again, the desired improvement in the working of the chowkidars, and in their relations with the regular police, is not to be secured by dressing them up in comparatively expensive uniform, as has been done in Pubna, Mymensingh, and other districts. It is reported that in Pubna the regular police have been actually employed to distribute uniform among the chowkidars and to collect the cost, Rs. 3-8, for each suit of uniform, or something over a month's pay, from each chowkidar. The Inspector-General will be requested to convey to the officers concerned an expression of the Lieutenant-Governor's displeasure at these practices. The chowkidars remunerated by the tenure of service lands are very unfavourably reported on, and, according to Mr. Veasey, there is probably not a dacoity in Hooghly or Midnapore (where chowkidars holding such tenures are very numerous) in which one or more chowkidars do not have a hand, while in almost every case they failed to give information of the occurrence to the police. In some districts the number of chowkidars holding service tenures are excessive, and in Burdwan, where there are 11,062 such men, those who were dismissed and who resigned last year were very properly not replaced. In Chota Nagpore a thorough reorganization of the whole system of rural police seems to be required. In Hazaribagh, for example, the chowkidars are said to be practically the zemindars' or ticcadars' menials; while in Singbhoom the men are paid yearly, or even at longer intervals, and one chowkidar has 40 villages to look after.

5. Miscellaneous.—In this paragraph some disconnected facts are brought together, which, while deserving of brief mention, do not call for separate notice and may be conveniently brought under one head. In Darjeeling an improved scheme for patrolling the Nepaul frontier has been carried out since the close of the year, and in Singbhoom outposts to be held by ghatwals were in course of construction on the Midnapore-Chyebassa road. Three parties of punitive police still remain quartered in Backergunge villages. The men stationed at Ladua in Tipperah have been withdrawn owing to a new outpost at Matlab having rendered their presence unnecessary. The whole available strength of the Dacca Reserve was moved to Darjeeling in September in order to take the guards and set at liberty a portion of the district force required for special duty by the Deputy Commissioner. They subsequently did good service on the Sikkim frontier in services of a varied nature. The police maintained order at 186 fairs attended by about three-and-a-half million of people. Only 144 cases, none of them of a serious nature, were reported. The reports of the inspecting officers show that the drill of the force has been carefully attended to, and that, if there has been no marked improvement in the district reserves, there has been no appreciable falling off. Mr. Veasey remarks on this head: "The difficulty which we have had all along to contend with in not being able to keep even a small body of men together for any length of time on account of the extreme weakness of the reserves still exists, and has indeed been aggravated by the constantly increasing demands for escorts for both prisoners and treasure." The Dumka Company were supplied with Sniders, and the Dacca Company has been similarly armed during the current year. The annual musketry returns show marked improvement in many districts, and a slight falling off in very few; they may therefore be considered on the whole satisfactory. The expenditure on account of police buildings came to Rs. 1,26,648-15-11 for 1887-88. The number of casualties decreased slightly to 13·4 per cent. against 14·7 in 1886, but this is a number which fluctuates from year to year, and the variations are not important. Maldah is a conspicuous example of how sick leave is given without any attempt at discrimination in some districts; while the death-rate was only 1·5 per cent.; the percentage of men received in hospital rose to 107·2. There were 181 escapes from police custody against 197 in 1886. Only 63 persons were recaptured. On this subject the Inspector-General remarks that local officers are apt to treat the negligence of police officers, to whom the escapes are due, as of little importance, and to embarrass the Executive by their recommendations not to dismiss the men in fault. The strength of police escorts furnished during the year came to 27,507 against 26,999 in 1886. They escorted treasure to the amount of Rs. 13,37,25,525-15 and 16,020 prisoners. None of the treasure was lost in transit. The number of accidental deaths decreased from 30,782 in 1886 to 28,510 in 1887. The decrease falls mainly under the heads of drowning and snake-bite, deaths falling from 14,303 to 12,890, and from 9,979 to 9,093 respectively. There was a slight increase under the head of other causes.

6. Special Constables.—A return relating to special constables shows that in Jessore, Pubna and Mymensingh special constables were appointed in far too large numbers. In Jessore the Deputy Magistrate of Narail appointed 262 special constables. In Mymensingh, out of 349 men 261 were appointed in one sub-division, and 112 of them in one case. In Rajshahye special constables were appointed for a term of two years. Mr. Veasey's opinion is that the guiding idea has been to frighten leading residents in disturbed neighbourhoods into good behaviour, and in fact as an easy and expeditious method of binding them over to keep the peace. This subject is under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor, and will be dealt with when the information is complete.

7. Conduct of the Police.—A charge of torture preferred at Contai in Midnapore, in which a man charged with theft complained that the head-constable who investigated poured water, in which chillies had been macerated, into his mouth and nose, and then sat on his chest, is reported to have been grossly mismanaged by all concerned. It is said that the Sub-divisional Officer made over the case to a Sub-Deputy, and then threw it out on the complainant putting in a petition to the effect that his witnesses would not give evidence. The superior police officers appear to have been equally apathetic, and it was only after much delay and confusion that the matter ended by the reduction of the head-constable originally accused. The Lieutenant-Governor has sent for the papers of the case, as if the facts were as stated above the officers concerned are deserving of the severest censure for their culpably inadequate treatment of the matter. At Utterpara a prisoner died of a ruptured kidney owing to ill-treatment by a constable and head-constable who were convicted under section 325, Indian Penal Code, and sentenced to long terms of imprisonment. In Bogra a Sub-Inspector was sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment for the wrongful confinement and ill-treatment of a man. In Balasore a case against a Sub-Inspector and constable broke down. It seemed probable that the witnesses had been tampered with, and both men were dismissed. In a Purneah case, which ended in failure, a Sub-Inspector was accused of employing torture, but the Inspector-General thinks it may have been employed without his cognizance and in order to get up a case against him. In Bhagulpore a Sub-Inspector, constable and three chowkidars, accused of ill-using some Dasadhs, one of whom died, were acquitted at the Sessions, but were dismissed, though the Sub-Inspector was reinstated in a lower grade on appeal to the Commissioner. The case appears to have been true, but to have broken down partly owing to the exaggerations of the friends of the deceased. The principal accused was the nephew of a Sub-Inspector very leniently dealt with the year before by the District Judge in a case in which he was charged with ill-using some bad characters in order to compel them to give information.

There were 15 cases of extortion, but all were petty. The number of judicial punishments fell from 525 in 1886 to 492, while departmental punishments rose from 5,095 to 5,137. The latter number seems high, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Inspector and Deputy Inspectors-General during their tours look carefully into the question of departmental punishments, and check any tendency to take unnecessary notice of trivial or technical offences. The figures, however, are on the whole not unsatisfactory, and Sir Steuart Bayley is pleased also to see that the number of men wearing good-conduct stripes rose from 11,042 in 1886 to 11,255 in 1887. Money rewards were given to 1,727 officers and men and 83 more were promoted. The corresponding figures for 1886 were 1,440 and 71.

8. Personnel.—The appointment of Assistant Inspector-General for the Railway Police has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State. The names of the police officers mentioned by the Inspector-General as having done good service will be noted in the Appointment Department.

CRIME.

9. Criminal Statistics.—The proportion of crime to population and police in various parts of India is shown in the following statement:—

Province.	Police.	Population.	Crime (cognizable) vide columns 4 and 6 of statement A, Part I.	Proportion of police to population.			Proportion of police to crime (cognizable).			Proportion of crime (cognizable) to population.

Bengal	23,655	66,964,160	107,180	1	,,	2,788	1	,,	4·5	1	,,	615

The incidence of cognizable crime to population varies from 1 case to 556 persons in the Burdwan Division to 1 case to 822 persons in the Chota Nagpore Division. Next but one to Burdwan comes the Presidency Division. These divisions contain a large urban population, and have consequently more than their share of nuisance cases and other petty offences, and they are also well supplied with police. In Dacca, where these conditions are absent, the proportion of cases to population is only 1 to 790; but there is no division where serious offences against the person are more common.

The total reported crime for the province has decreased compared with 1886, as will appear from the following table :—

	1886.	1887.	Decrease.
Cognizable	105,793	101,969	3,824
Non-cognizable	112,664	109,254	3,410
Total ...	218,457	211,223	7,234

The Burdwan, Presidency, Chittagong and Bhagulpore Divisions all show a considerable decrease. Patna is the only division which shows a large increase. The proportion of cognizable crime to non-cognizable changed very little. Chittagong again shows the smallest percentage of cognizable crime, only 27·2, while the largest proportions are as usual to be found in Patna and Chota Nagpore, which show 58·8 and 63·8 per cent., respectively, of cognizable cases. This is no doubt mainly due to the comparative poverty of the people in the latter divisions and their wealth in Chittagong. While in the Dacca Division generally the percentage of cognizable cases is 40·7 and that of non-cognizable cases 59·3, in Mymensingh the two classes of crime are exactly balanced, an indication of the fact that the police are undermanned and under-officered there. A proposal to increase the police force of that district has been sanctioned by Government.

The decrease of cognizable offences as compared with 1885 and 1886 is almost entirely under the head of cases against property. There were 63,174 such cases in 1887 against 71,746 in 1885 and 67,550 in 1886. There has been an increase from 24,904 in 1885 to 27,839 in 1887 under the head "Other cases." This, however, means nothing more than increased attention to conservancy, while the decrease under the head of offences against property, which are now lower than in any year since 1882, seems to show that bad characters are better known to, and watched by, the police, as there is no reason to suspect a falling off in the manner in which crime is reported.

10. False cases.—The percentage of cases declared false increased slightly from 5·5 in 1886 to 5·8. The percentage declared false was 13·4 in 1877, and the decrease continued without a check till 1886. The slight increase is possibly due to the following remarks which were made in paragraph 7 of last year's Resolution:—"But it should be borne in mind by magisterial officers that if they consider a case to be false, they should not hesitate to show it as false, even though there may not be sufficient grounds for the institution of a prosecution under section 211 of the Penal Code; it is obvious that any other procedure would lead to fictitious entries, and give a very false impression as to the real percentage of false cases." The variations noted in the report from 16·6 in Chumparun to 1·9 in Palamow must in great part, at all events, be due to difference in procedure, and in the case of Chumparun and Palamow the results are equally unsatisfactory in opposite directions. Chumparun has now headed the list four years running, and the percentage of cases declared false has risen from an average of 11·4 for the years 1880—84 to 17·2 for the years 1885—87. The District Magistrate considers that a large number of the cases returned as false were really true, and that they were shown as false through the desire of lazy and incompetent police officers to cloak their own failure to investigate the cases successfully. But if this theory is correct, the magisterial officers are open to blame for having accepted the reports submitted by the police without further examination. In Palamow and other districts, with a very small percentage of false cases, there can be little doubt that the Magistrates have far too often accepted reports by the police that cases were true, and it is to be feared that some times they have done this to save themselves the trouble so often entailed by an order to enter a case as false. How largely this, in many cases, operates to induce Magistrates to accept cases as true is shown by the returns in Burdwan, where the percentage of cases reported false has risen from 2·7 to 4·6, owing, it is stated, mainly to the discontinuance of a monthly return from Subordinate Magistrates showing their action in connection with cases declared to be false. In Singbhoom, the percentage of cases declared false has risen from ·5 in 1884 and 1·6 in 1885-86 to 6·7 in 1887. Mr. Veasey attributes it to the improved condition of the people, and the increased facilities for vexatious litigation, but it seems more likely that it is due to the varying procedure which has so much to do with the variations in the district figures. Sir Steuart Bayley appreciates the difficulty of dealing satisfactorily with such cases; but he looks to District Magistrates to use their utmost efforts to prevent the entry of an excessive number of cases as false with a view to cloak bad work by the police, while at the same time Subordinate Magistrates must not be allowed to save themselves trouble by entering cases indiscriminately as true. Care must also be taken that cases are not too readily excluded from the returns as false through mistake. In Backergunge and Furreedpore, which head the list, this seems to have been done far too largely.

11. Prosecution for false charges.—The percentage of prosecutions in cases declared to be false was 22·4 against 23·6 in 1886, while the percentage of convictions in cases prosecuted rose from 29·7 to 30·2. The divisional percentage of convictions varies from 12·6 in Dacca to 47·3 in Chittagong. The following table shows by divisions the percentage of prosecutions to cases declared false, the percentage of convictions in the cases brought to trial, and the percentage of cases prosecuted as false to cases instituted:—

	Percentage of prosecutions to cases declared false.	Percentage of cases prosecuted as being false to cases instituted.	Percentage of convictions to cases brought to trial.
Burdwan	13·7	1	12·7
Presidency	35·1	1·3	35·1
Rajshahye	21·5	1	32 9
Dacca	32·6	1·7	12·6
Chittagong	10·6	0·9	47·3
Patna	16·2	1·2	37·8
Bhagulpore	36·6	1·7	29·4
Orissa	38·1	1·4	42·2
Chota Nagpore	28	1·3	36·9

This table shows that the percentage of prosecutions to the number of cases instituted varied comparatively little in different divisions, while the variations were very great in the percentage of prosecutions to cases declared false. This is another indication of the great differences which exist in procedure regarding the more doubtful cases, which some Magistrates classify as false, others as true. The result of prosecutions appears to be very unsatisfactory in Burdwan and Dacca. The satisfactory results in the Presidency Division were largely due to the result of trials in the 24-Pergunnahs, where 41 prosecutions were instituted and 23 convictions obtained out of 52 cases declared false. In connection with this subject, Mr. Veasey points out that in order that a prosecution may succeed, its progress must be watched and any tendency to delay at once noticed. Care must also be taken that preliminary enquiries in which the complainant is called on to show cause why he should not be prosecuted are not allowed to expand into a trial. Mr. Veasey believes that an opinion obtains very generally that it is enough to declare a charge false, and a work of supererogation to push the matter further; but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that few officers hold such a mistaken view. Sir Steuart Bayley must again repeat what has already been so often stated in the Annual Resolutions on the Police Report, that while cases should not be instituted, where it is obviously impossible to obtain a conviction, yet in every case where there appears to be a fair chance of success a complainant who has brought a false case should be prosecuted, and if convicted should be severely punished. Such a sentence as a fine of ten rupees, which a Subordinate Magistrate in one district considered a sufficient punishment, is useless as a deterrent.

12. Refusal of enquiry.—The remarks in the Resolutions on the Police Reports for 1885 and 1886, which were supplemented towards the close of 1887 by a circular from the Inspector-General of Police, have produced a marked effect. While the percentage of cases not enquired into under section 157, Criminal Procedure Code, was ·6 in 1884, ·7 in 1885, and ·4 in 1886, it rose in 1887 to 2·5. The divisional variations are even greater. Thus, in the Presidency the percentage of refusals has risen from ·1 in 1886 to 1·9; in Rajshahye from ·5 to 6·5, in Bhagulpore from ·4 to 4·2. The increase has been least in Patna, Orissa and Chota Nagpore. The figures for Orissa are ·8 in 1886 and 1·1 in 1887, and for Chota Nagpore 1·1 in the former and 1·7 in the latter year. In Patna the percentage of cases not enquired into was only ·6. The views of the Lieutenant-Governor on the subject appear not yet to be fully understood in some districts. In Julpigoree, for instance, the Deputy Commissioner withdrew altogether the discretion given by the law, and ordered all cases to be investigated. In passing such an order he exceeded his powers, and Sir Steuart Bayley desires to point out that the discretion is one which must be exercised. It requires to be carefully controlled, as it is liable to serious abuse, but its judicious exercise may relieve the police of much useless work. No general orders should be laid down in any district that particular classes of cases are not to be enquired into. Attempts at burglary, for instance, may sometimes be cases which it is extremely desirable to inquire into, though the majority of such cases may not require to be taken up The Magistrate of a district is not exempt from responsibility on the plea that the orders on this head have not been properly explained to subordinate officers, as the remedy lies in his hands.

13. Convictions and arrests.—Deducting cases not enquired into or declared to be false, the police enquired into 85,196 cases. The percentage of convictions to true cases enquired into by the police is 39·9 against 38·8 in 1886 and 38·3 in 1885. The total number of persons arrested by the police was 75,118, of whom 51,290 were convicted, or 68·2 per cent., the same proportion as last year. The percentage of convictions to men brought to trial varies from 83·1 in Darjeeling to 41·4 in Khulna. As the Inspector-General points out, a percentage of convictions much under the average means bad work, though the converse is not always true.

14. Result of Sessions trials.—The percentage of convictions fell to 56 from 57·8 in 1886 and 56·3 in 1885, which last figure again was lower than any during the five previous years. The remark in last year's Resolution that the figures showed that much depends on the presiding Judge even in jury districts, is again borne out by the figures for 1887. Thus, Howrah and Hooghly jury districts show 58·3 and 54·8 per cent of convictions against 37·8 and 32, respectively, in Midnapore and Beerbhoom.

15. Property stolen and recovered.—Property worth Rs. 10,82,748 is said to have been stolen, of which Rs. 2,75,758, or 25·4 per cent., was recovered. The corresponding figures for 1886 are Rs. 11,39,849 stolen and Rs. 3,26,462, or 28·6 recovered. The figures are not very trustworthy, and so far as they go the indications they afford are not satisfactory.

16. Analysis of crime by classes.—The annexed table shows the number of true cognizable cases for the last five years:—

	1883.	1884.	1885.	1886.	1887.
Class I.—Offences against the State and public tranquillity.	2,639	2,769	2,802	2,891	2,901
„ II.—Serious offences against the person	4,684	4,618	4,484	4,542	4,546
„ III.—Serious offences against the person and property or against property only.	19,009	24,221	24,103	22,803	22,234
„ IV.—Minor offences against the person	2,813	2,580	2,533	2,682	2,427
„ V.—Minor offences against property ...	37,690	42,630	42,206	40,020	36,131
„ VI.—Other offences not specified above...	29,554	28,477	24,819	27,003	27,753

The decrease in class V and the increase, as compared with 1885, in class VI have been noticed in paragraph 9. The other variations will be more conveniently noticed when dealing with each class separately.

17. Class 1, offences against the State and Public Tranquillity.—The total number of coining cases rose from 111 to 127, of which the largest numbers are reported from the 24-Pergunnahs, Midnapore, and Howrah. In the 24-Pergunnahs some members of a gang mentioned in last year's resolution were committed to the Sessions and sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

There was an increase of seven cases under the head of rioting. There was a considerable decrease in the Presidency and Rajshahye Divisions, from 409 and 318 respectively in 1886 to 273 in each division in 1887. In the Dacca Division there was an increase from 391 to 435, and in Patna from 263 to 349. How few of these cases are really important is shown by the fact that out of 10,562 persons brought to trial, only 305 appeared before the Sessions. The Magistrate of Bhagulpore complains that the number of cases is needlessly swelled because the police constantly send up the party attacked without making any allowance for the right of private defence. But the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Mr. Veasey that the plea of private defence is in most cases one which it should be left to a judicial officer to decide. Mr. Collier's remarks on the subject of the large number of trivial offences entered under the head of riot are to the point:—"I am of opinion that a large number of cases are improperly entered as riots and unlawful assemblies. If two old women have a squabble in front of their houses, a few neighbours join so as to make up the number of five on either side, and a few slaps or kicks are exchanged, the occurrence is solemnly entered under section 147 as a riot. In England a constable would order them all to move on, and there would be an end to the matter." While the returns are swollen by a number of purely technical riots which it is impossible to forestall, there can be no question that in its more serious forms there is no offence more easily kept in check by timely preventive measures. The great majority arise out of disputes of some standing, and of the existence of which the police should be aware. Where the dispute is about land, a summary inquiry regarding possession will often prevent its coming to a head. In other cases the principal parties should be bound down to keep the peace under section 107, Criminal Procedure Code. Such riots are inexcusable, as one which is reported from Hooghly, where the Hindus and Mahomedans fell out about kine-killing, and the police, although they had timely notice of the existence of the dispute, failed to take measures to avert a breach of the peace. It is also necessary, to check the offence of rioting, that punishment should be exemplary where a conviction is secured. Some Magistrates are still far from appreciating this. In Backergunge there were seven cases attended with loss of life, besides five in which persons were more or less hurt, and where the extreme lawlessness prevalent is shown by the fact that 3,511 persons were bound down to keep the peace against 258 in Mymensingh and the same number in Furreedpore; yet the Joint-Magistrate of the district thought it sufficient in an aggravated case of riot attended with loss of life to sentence the leader of one of the parties, who was armed with a gun, to one month's rigorous imprisonment and Rs. 200 fine. Apparently the reason for the leniency shown in this case was that the accused had kept out of the way for a year. In such a case, lapse of time does not diminish the heinousness of a crime, and it is no reason for passing a light sentence that the offender has been able for a long time to evade capture. It is very desirable that in cases of serious rioting every offender should be brought to justice, and the police ought not to be discouraged to hunt up absconders, as they must be if such light sentences as that just noted are inflicted. Another case of apparently inadequate sentence is reported from Tipperah. In this case there was a riot accompanied with loss of life. The principal accused was sentenced to a year's imprisonment, and his accomplices to a month each. In Manbhoom in a rioting case, in which a man was killed, a sentence of fine was considered sufficient. As Mr. Veasey gives no details, it is impossible to say whether or not the sentence was inadequate, but the Lieutenant-Governor has called for a further report both in this and in the two preceding cases. In the Patna district three cases of rioting resulted in loss of life, and in all three cases the jury refused to convict. The Magistrate remarks on this head that the more serious the charge, the more disposed is a jury to acquit. The generalization is a sweeping one, but the Lieutenant-Governor fears that the action of juries in many grave cases affords some justification for it.

In Bettiah three Punjabis and a Brahman dressed in uniform attempted to levy contributions from the people, giving out that they were officers appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces to enquire regarding the routes leading to Nepal, the state of the camping grounds, and the amount of contribution each zemindar was willing to make to Government. They were convicted of the offence of personating a public servant, and sentenced to long terms of imprisonment.

18. Class II. Serious offences against the person.—The total is practically the same as in 1886, the figures being 4,545 against 4,542. The percentage of convictions in cases has slightly improved, and is better than in any year since 1882; but the percentage of convictions to persons tried is 44·6—the same as in 1886. It is satisfactory, however, that at the sessions the percentage of convictions to persons tried has risen from 48·5 in 1886 to 53·7 last year.

There were 250 murders, against 278 in 1886 and 288 in 1885. It is, however, noticeable that while this is the smallest number reported since 1880, the number of cases of culpable homicide is larger than in any previous year since 1880; the number last year was 217, whilst it was 215 in 1886, and less than 208 in every year since 1881, in which year there were 296 cases of murder. There appears, therefore, some reason to believe that the apparent decrease in the latter crime may be partly due to a growing desire to class cases in which death has been caused under a less serious head than that of murder. Sir Steuart Bayley approves of Mr. Veasey's suggestion to direct the submission in future of a separate note in every case in which a death has occurred, however it is shown in the returns. There has been a much needed improvement in the result of trials. Convictions were obtained in the case of 23·5 of the persons charged, against 17·1 in 1886. The improvement is still greater in the percentage of convictions to cases, which was 28 against 21·9 in 1886. There was one case of murder by dacoits, 12 of murder by robbers, and 13 of murders by poison. In the last class only one person was convicted. Out of the 12 cases of murder by robbers, 6 were committed in Patna and 2 in Shahabad.

Mr. Veasey gives a melancholy list of failures in the Burdwan Division. In one remarkable case a man is believed to have murdered his father with the intention of falsely accusing his grandfather's creditor. The accused was acquitted, and the accuser absconded on proceedings being taken agaist him for bringing a false charge. In 28 true cases under the head of "Other murders," only eight persons were convicted in 7 cases, while 32 persons were discharged or acquitted. In the Dacca Division results were even worse, as only 12 persons were convicted against 65 discharged or acquitted. This is mainly due to the result of trials at Furreedpore, where convictions were only got in 10 per cent. of the cases and 6·2 per cent. of the persons tried. Mr. Veasey remarks that the police are in large measure to blame for the very bad results in such cases, and that they are too much in the habit of sending up persons whom they think guilty of the offence, regardless of the fact that there is not sufficient legal evidence for conviction. In the Presidency Division, in Jessore and Khulna, in 8 true cases only 9 persons were convicted, while 51 were discharged or acquitted. In Khulna, in three out of five cases men were murdered by relations of women whom they had seduced, but not a single conviction was obtained. In Eastern Bengal generally, murders are very frequently due to disputes about women. In Mymensingh, for instance, Mr. Veasey reports that "a girl was throttled by one of three men who had come to the house at night to beat her father Madhu, on account of an intrigue he had with the sister-in-law of one of them, named Sabu. A complication in this case is that Sabu had first revenged his brother's honour by attempting to outrage Madhu's wife, and that Madhu had complained against him to the zemindar in consequence. Thereupon, and as a punishment for instituting proceedings, the attack was arranged." Several murder cases are due to husbands kicking their wives for trifling offences. In one case a man was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment for killing his wife, a girl of 12, because she refused to let him have intercourse a second time. He struck her on the mouth with his clenched fist and kicked her in the stomach, from which she died almost immediately.

Another frequent cause of murders is the belief in witchcraft. In Gya an old woman was ordered to leave her village on the ground that she was a witch. On her returning to the village, she was set on and murdered by the villagers. In another case in the same district, a reputed wizard was charged with poisoning a woman who had called him in to cast out an evil spirit, because her servants had offended him by digging up and removing a doll which he had buried to represent the demon which he had been called in to exorcise. In Monghyr a woman was murdered by her brother-in-law, who believed she had bewitched him. He went to Calcutta to escape her influence. Losing his money there, he became desperate and returned home, convinced there was nothing left for him but to remove her. He attacked and killed her with a knife he had bought and specially consecrated to render her spells powerless. A Kol was murdered by a fellow-tribesman for failing to cure him of a disease. In Pooree a reputed wizard was murdered by his neighbours. In Hazaribagh a reputed witch was severely beaten, and a stick was forced up her person completely penetrating the womb. In Lohardugga a woman, suspected of witchcraft, was murdered in the same way, and she was found with her infant child lying dead by her side.

There is a large increase from 102 to 168, under the head of "Hurt by dangerous weapons," in the Patna Division. The result of trials was very bad —49 convictions to 118 acquittals for the division. The figures for Chumparun are 3 convictions to 20 acquittals. Out of 84 cases of exposure of infants in Bengal, 48 were reported from the Patna Division—a decrease of six as compared with 1886—and 28 of these 48 cases occurred in Shahabad and Sarun. There were 40 convictions to 5 acquittals. In Bhagulpore in two out of three cases of kidnapping the boys were taken to Assam, and in one case, an inadequate sentence having been passed, a reference was made to the High Court. The Collector of Bhagulpore remarks that this has had a very good effect.

19. Class III.—Serious offences against the person and property or against property only.—There were 22,234 cases against 22,803 in 1886. The following table shows the figures for the last two years under the principal heads:—

	1886.	1887.
Dacoity	103	109
Robbery	156	148
Serious mischief and cognate offences ...	700	750
Mischief by killing any animal	633	625
Lurking house-trespass or house-breaking ...	20,941	20,366
House-trespass	264	233

Dacoity is most prevalent in the Burdwan, Rajshahye, and Bhagulpore Divisions, which account for 70 out of the provincial total of 109. Bhagulpore heads the list with 24, against 23 each in Burdwan and Rajshahye. The number in 1884 was only eight. Purneah is the worst district with 11 cases, followed by Midnapore with 10 and Dinagepore with 8. The number of dacoities in the Chota Nagpore Division has fallen from 18 in 1886 to 4—a remarkably low number, as the form it took in the division was petty highway robbery; probably it is in part due to the fact that the gang at work in 1886 has been broken up. Out of the 109 dacoities, 63 were professional. That this crime is so well kept down is entirely due to police supervision. Judicial results are extremely bad. The percentage of cases in which convictions were obtained was 20·8, against 30·9 in 1886, while 25·5 of the persons sent up were convicted, against 31 6 in 1886. Mr. Veasey reports that most of the dacoities in the Burdwan Division were committed by up-countrymen and local bad characters, and there can be little doubt that more deterrent sentences would have great effect in checking this form of crime. The maximum punishment is transportation for life or ten years' imprisonment; but according to the Inspector-General the term of imprisonment is rarely more than five or seven years, while to be in possession of the proceeds of a dacoity seems to be regarded as a small matter. In Dinagepore Mr. Knyvett succeeded in unearthing two gangs. In one of the cases committed by one of these gangs, an iron safe, containing cash and valuables to the amount of Rs. 2,000, was taken away, though the gang was so well known that a constable was employed in watching it at the time; his silence was purchased by a bribe of Rs. 24, and it was only a month after that a clue was obtained, when a school pundit who had taken down the names of the men implicated revealed what he knew. This case must have been well known to every one of the villagers, yet none of them thought it necessary to report the facts, and this is a good illustration of the difficulties the police have to deal with owing to the disinclination of the people to bring to justice criminals so long as their own interests are not affected.

The total number of true cases of mischief by fire is 373, one less than in 1886. As many as 121 cases were declared false. The Rajshahye Division is again the worst with 116 true cases, of which 86 were committed in Dinagepore, and were mainly the work of professional incendiaries. This form of terrorism is employed by the professional criminals of that district to overawe villagers and prevent them from reporting crime and giving evidence. The smaller landlords also are believed to make use of it to intimidate their neighbours, while individuals occasionally resort to it to satisfy a personal grudge. Seventeen persons were arrested, but not a single conviction could be obtained. It is certainly—as the Magistrate remarks—a step in the right direction to have ascertained the prevalence of the crime, but this is a very small step towards checking it.

With regard to cases of house-breaking, the only point to be noticed is the very large increase in the number of cases not enquired into, from 106 in 1886 to 1,254 in 1887. A too liberal use of the power to refuse enquiry in such cases must be guarded against.

20. Class IV.—Minor offences against the person.—This class of offences calls for no remarks.

21. Class V—Minor offences against property.—The total number of cases fell from 40,020 in 1886 to 36,131 in 1887. Including burglaries, which, for purposes of comparison, may be conveniently grouped with offences of this class, the number of cases fell from 61,225 to 56,730. This last number is still greater by 1,300 than the total for 1883, when offences under these heads began to increase, but as allowance has to be made for improved reporting, there is reason to think that a decided check has been given to this form of crime.

Rajshahye and Chota Nagpore are the only Divisions from which more cases are returned, and in the former Division the apparent increase is explained by the improvement in reporting in the district of Dinagepore, where there had been formerly much concealment of the crime. The result of this improvement has been an increase of over 50 per cent. in the crime reported, which has risen from 1,543 to 2,320. Nearly half the cases of cattle-theft, 115 out of 253, came from this district, where it would appear that this form of crime is closely connected with that of incendiarism, referred to in paragraph 19. For it is reported that incendiarism is resorted to by cattle thieves to "intimidate and prevent witnesses coming forward, or complaints being made." Connected with cattle-stealing is a system of black-mail, by which the owner is directed to the spot where his cattle has been taken on paying a consideration. The increase in Chota Nagpore is small, from 2,965 to 3,107, and is not accounted for.

In Patna there has been a further decrease from 12,640 to 12,285, a little under the figures for 1883, after which crime began to increase. In Gya the number of burglaries has decreased from 2,632 in 1885 to 1,456. In this district the worst gangs have been broken up, and though it would be Utopian to expect professional burglars to reform, yet on coming out of jail they now have to form new connections, and a more serious obstacle to their operations is that they find they are known and watched. In Sarun, out of 346 burglaries 206 were reported as without theft. In half of these cases fresh enquiries were held, but in 2 cases only was it found that property had been stolen, and in these cases the property taken was of very trifling value. Mr. Pughe, the District Superintendent there, gives good reasons for his belief that a very large proportion of burglaries are and must be unsuccessful. In Monghyr credit for a decrease of cattle-theft by 50 per cent. is given to the chowkidars, who, as has been remarked in a previous paragraph, are fully utilised by Colonel Ramsay, and who have, as Mr. Veasey remarks, far better opportunities for detection than the police.

22. Other offences not specified above.—There were 27,753 cases against 27,003 in 1886. The following table shows the figures for the last two years under the principal heads of this class:—

Heads of this class.			1886.	1887.
Vagrancy or bad character	...	...	1,210	1,570
Offences against Excise Laws	...	...	2,836	3 184
„ Opium Act	...	...	390	335
„ Railway Act	...	...	350	248
„ Salt and Customs Laws	...	...	359	399

It is satisfactory to find that more use has been made of the bad livelihood sections of the Code of Criminal Procedure, but Sir Steuart Bayley would desire to see more uniformity of practice in different districts than is at present the case. Such variations as now exist between adjoining districts, as, for instance, 2 cases in Khoolna against 30 in Jessore, 2 in Julpaiguri against 49 in Rungpore, 19 in Chumparun against 98 in Sarun, 1 in Lohardugga against 32 in Manbhoom, must in many cases lead to bad characters moving from districts where the law is properly utilised to neighbouring districts where they are left to carry on their war against society undisturbed by vexatious police interference. Sir Steuart Bayley has nothing to add to his remarks of last year, in which he pointed out that, while he does not advocate a return to the policy of indiscriminate prosecution in force before 1876, yet he would have Magistrates bear in mind that about fifty times as many persons are proceeded against in England on suspicion under the Vagrancy and Prevention of Crime Acts as are prosecuted under the corresponding sections of the Indian Procedure Code. The Lieutenant-Governor desires again to impress upon Magistrates the importance of disposing of such cases as quickly as possible. In Mymensingh the average duration of 109 cases was 12·4 days, and in Sarun of 98 cases only 7 days, while in Backergunge the average duration of 187 cases was 59·6 days, owing apparently to too literal an observance of the generally valuable rule that such cases should be tried in the village in which they occur. One case in that district lasted 223 days. Delay only lessens the chances of conviction, while it is unfair to the accused to let them have charges hanging over their heads for months. In Purneah the rule as to local enquiries has been allowed to become almost a dead-letter, as there were only 5 local trials in 90 cases: notwithstanding this the average duration of cases was 30 days. In Dinagepore it is reported that the bad characters have given some trouble by starting a false charge against the police the moment they find a report has been sent in about them. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees in the remark of the Magistrate quoted by Mr. Veasey, that it is useless to bind down a budmash on the security of two other budmashes in sums of Rs 25, and that there should be some condition as to the respectability of the sureties.

The continued decrease in the number of cases under the Opium Act is probably mainly due to the restrictions imposed on the prosecution of opium cultivators who retain small quantities of opium in their possession. The small number of prosecutions in Bhagulpore, Durbhunga and Purneah, all districts bordering on Nepal, show that in those districts, at all events, there must be much undetected opium-smuggling, as it is impossible to believe that the cases detected form at all a fair percentage of those occurring There has been a slight increase in the number of cases under the Arms Act, but the only serious offences reported are from Dinagepore, where, through the negligence of the Inspector, the vendors of arms and ammunition were able to falsify their accounts for months in order to conceal sales to Nepaulese.

23. Railway Police.—The number of cases reported was 2,780, and 2,268 persons were convicted out of 2,707 brought to trial. Some excellent work was done on the East Indian line, especially in detecting and arresting railway pick-pockets; one constable specially told off for this got hold of three old offenders in as many days. In one case, where the trying Magistrate is said to have refused to grant any remand, the accused, who only got three months' imprisonment, was afterwards found to be a well known Calcutta thief with four previous convictions against him, the last of which was for six years' imprisonment inflicted in 1880. Mr. Veasey gives, as an instance of the care with which enquiries are made, if facilities for doing so are given, the case of an old offender caught at Somastipore picking pockets, who was taken over the whole length of the line between Cawnpore and Calcutta and exhibited at every jail of any size before he was identified at Benares.

24. Non-cognizable crime.—There is a net decrease of 3,410 cases following an increase of 6,668 in 1886. The details are shown in the following table:—

In class I, offences against public justice increased from 4,713 to 5,390. Cases of petty assaults (class IV) decreased by 1,868, and cases of mischief (class V) by 852, showing that litigation as a luxury was less resorted to, probably mainly owing to the fact that on the whole the crops were not so good in 1887 as in 1886. In the 24-Pergunnahs there has been a decrease of 422 in cases under special laws, and as it is accompanied there by a decrease in cognizable nuisance cases, it is to be feared that it points to a diminution in the interest taken in sanitation. Balasore, Manbhoom, Lohardugga, Gya, Chumparun, Darjeeling, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts show in the returns that every person summoned attended, while in the last four districts the number who attended was apparently in excess of those summoned. It is not creditable to the officers concerned that they should have sent up figures which are clearly incorrect.

25. Proceedings under the Criminal Procedure Code.—The number of cases under Chapter X fell from 597 to 553, while there were 341 cases under Chapter XII (disputes as to immoveable property), against 307 last year. These figures seem to indicate that Magistrates do not make sufficient use of their powers under these Chapters. The Inspector-General is unable to furnish complete figures for 1887 of cases under section 107 owing to the instructions in last year's Resolution not having been complied with by Magistrates. The Lieutenant-Governor desires all District Magistrates to attend to this in furnishing returns for the current year. As was pointed out in last year's Resolution, serious riots may often be prevented under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code noted above by the institution of judicious proceedings.

26. Remands.—Altogether 35,353 A forms were sent up. They were disposed of as follows:—

		Percentage.
At first hearing	12,062	34·2
Remanded once	7,236	20·5
Ditto twice	5,353	15·1
Ditto thrice	3,503	9·9
Ditto four times	2,315	6·5
Ditto five „	1,516	4·3
Ditto six „	929	2·6
Ditto more than six times	1,640	4·6

There is a slight improvement as compared with 1886 under the heads of remands six times and more than six times, but all the other figures are worse.

27. Reconvictions.—1,451 persons were reconvicted, against 1,442 last year; but as there were 1,600 fewer convictions for cognizable offences, the percentage of reconvictions has increased considerably. It is very satisfactory that in 152 cases, as against 108 in 1886, men were proved to have been convicted three times or more. This shows that a partial knowledge only is not accepted, and that the registers are better kept. Monghyr is first with 93 cases, followed by Patna with 84.

28. Criminal tribes.—It is proposed to establish settlements similar to those of the Mughya Domes in the case of the Tutea Mussulmans of North Midnapore, a tribe of professional burglars. The Dharees of Monghyr are reported to be hemmed in so closely as to be unable, as formerly, to commit their depredations all over Behar. Only 67 out of 1,010 adult males were unaccounted for on the last day of February. Burwars, though always deported when caught, under the Criminal Tribes Act, continue to arrive in considerable numbers from Gonda. 49 Mughya Domes were arrested and sent up in Sarun, where they are a constant source of trouble. As the local officers submit separate reports on the efforts made to reclaim them, it is unnecessary to deal with the matter here.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Police and the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution and extract paragraph 51 from the report be forwarded to the Appointment Department of this office for information.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

The cutting of the rice crop has begun, and the outturn is better in the Sudder and Dinapore sub-divisions than was expected. Rabbi already sown has germinated and generally promises well, but destruction of 15,000 bigahs by caterpillars reported from Barh. Sowing of rabbi still in progress. Rain urgently needed. Prices stationary. Prospects of poppy favourable.
Patna Divs. 27	Gya „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—cool. Kartika rice is being harvested. Sowing of rabbi and poppy going on. Rabbi crops that have germinated are doing well.
Patna Divs. 28	Shahabad „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—fine and getting cool. Paddy is being harvested. Rabbi sowing in progress, but retarded for absence of rain, which is badly wanted in almost all parts of the district. Prospects have somewhat improved in the Sasseram sub-division on account of the rainfall of 12th and 13th instant. Poppy cultivation progressing favourably. A few young plants suffered from high temperature. Prices continue high except in the Buxar sub-division, where they have slightly fallen.
Patna Divs. 29	Durbhanga „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—cool and bright. Harvesting of aghani rice has commenced in several places. Rabbi sowings stopped. Those sown early are germinating slowly for want of moisture Rain is wanted for rabbi. The estimated yield of the aghani and rabbi crops is 7 annas. Labouring classes are at present finding labour in harvesting rice. Prices almost stationary.
Patna Divs. 30	Mozufferpur „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—cool and bright. Harvesting of paddy has commenced. Rabbi sowings going on, but considerably retarded, especially in Sitamarhi, for want of sufficient moisture. Poppy sowings progressing favourably. In north of Sitamarhi high land paddy lost. In the low land in the north of that subdivision the yield will be fairly good. Prices of common rice falling slightly.
Patna Divs. 31	Sarun „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—fair; getting cool, but still warm for the time of year; occasional clouds. Sowing of rabbi almost completed. Poppy sowing in full progress. Rain urgently wanted. Harvesting of paddy will shortly commence. Paddy being cut for fodder in some places. Common rice and wheat falling a little in price, Indian-corn rising.
Patna Divs. 32	Chumparun „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—cold and foggy. Harvesting of paddy commenced. The crop will yield an outturn of 8 to 9 annas in the Bettiah sub-division. Rabbi and poppy germinating freely in that sub-division. Prospects remain unchanged in the Sudder sub-division. Prices stationary.
Bhagulpore Divs. 33	Monghyr „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of winter rice on low lands continue fair. Rabbi sowings are coming up fairly well. Prices of food-grains have a downward tendency.
Bhagulpore Divs. 34	Bhagulpur „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—too hot for the season. Harvesting of late rice commenced. Rabbi sowings not yet complete, but there is yet time for wheat and barley. What has been sown is not doing well on high lands, except where irrigated.
Bhagulpore Divs. 35	Purneah „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—bright and cool. No rain. Aghani crop half of average yearly outturn. Prospects of rabbi good.
Bhagulpore Divs. 36	Maldah „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—fine, cool and dry. Some of the winter rice is ripe, and the harvest has begun. The yield is expected to be between 8 and 10 annas. Kalai is thriving very well; the prospects of mustard vary in different places from 8 to 14 annas, and the other rabbi crops (wheat, barley, &c.,) have been improved by the late rain, and mostly promise very well, but hail has done some harm in the north. Common rice selling at an average of 17½ seers a rupee.
	Chanchal ...	1·02
Bhagulpore Divs. 37	Sonthal Pergha. „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—bright and cool. Harvesting of winter rice has commenced. An outturn of from 10 to 12 annas anticipated except at Rajmehal, where it is only 8 annas. Rabbi prospects on the whole fair.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divs. 38	Cuttack „ 23, '88	Nil	Weather—cold and fair. Laghu sarad is ripening and is being cut. Guru sarad in ear. Prospect of the crop is improved. Common rice sells at 18 seers 6 chittacks per rupee in town.
Orissa Divs. 39	Pooree „ 22, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Late sarad is in ear. Early sarad is being harvested. Miscellaneous crops doing well. Common rice 17 seers 7 chittacks per rupee in the Sudder sub-division and 15 seers 9 chittacks in the Khoorda sub-division.
Orissa Divs. 40	Balasore „ 23, '88	Nil	Cold weather seems to have fairly set in. Recent rain came too late for the rice on the highest lands, which had already withered, but where it extended (chiefly in south and centre of district) it materially benefited the plants in lower lands, and has enabled the ryots to sow their small patches of rabbi. Prices show a tendency to fall.

	No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather and state and prospects of the crops.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
CHOTA NAGPORE DIVN.	41	Hazaribagh Nov. 23, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospect of rabbi crops hopeful, but rain is needed in some parts of the district. Rice is being harvested; 12 annas outturn expected. Poppy cultivation doing well.
	42	Lohardugga „ 24, '88	Nil	Weather—clear and cold. Cold weather appears to have set in. Prospect of rabbi bad. Paddy being reaped. Prices of rice falling at head-quarters.
	43	Singbhoom „ 23, '88	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The yield of the rice crop is not less than 12 annas, and in some places 14 annas. Rabbi prospects not very good, and worse in Dhalbhum than elsewhere. There has been a slight rise in prices during the week.
	44	Manbhoom „ 24, '88	Nil	Sky clear; weather cool. Winter rice being reaped; outturn expected to be 10 annas all round. Prospect of rabbi not good; the rain of last week did not fall in all parts of the district. Coarse rice selling at Purulia at 20 seers per rupee.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period of the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means of reports of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 24 hours in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 23rd of November 1888.

CALCUTTA, the 27th November 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 23RD OF NOVEMBER 1888.

THE conditions which prevailed in Bengal at the close of the previous week were those of ordinary north-east monsoon or cold weather character. These conditions have continued almost unaltered in Bengal throughout the week, and beyond the usual slight variations and oscillations of pressure, temperature and humidity, there have been no changes to comment upon. Almost cloudless skies have prevailed nearly throughout the week, and the whole province has been absolutely rainless for the period. In the Bay conditions became slightly disturbed from the 17th in the Andaman Sea, and the disturbance appeared likely at one time to give rise to an influential storm. So far as the land observations show, the squally, or more probably stormy, weather which set in near the Andaman Islands on this date did not concentrate to a definite cyclonic storm as is usually the case, but the weather, after remaining in a very disturbed state for several days, gradually improved; the slight barometric depression which had at first formed also steadily filled up, and the cyclonic circulation of winds which had commenced at the coast stations disappeared; while wind velocities, which on the 17th and 18th were very high on the Pegu coast, became normal, and on the 22nd weather again was of ordinary character in the Bay.

Pressure.—The variations of pressure during the week have been of the ordinary oscillatory character noticeable during fine settled weather. On the 17th there was a slight general rise; usually not exceeding one or two hundredths of an inch. For the following three days pressure fell steadily, the fall equalling in this period about a tenth of an inch. A more rapid rise then set in for the last three days of the week, which equalled nearly a sixth of an inch, and thus neutralized the previous fall. For the whole week the pressure of the entire province has been below the normal, the defect usually equalling about 0·03 inch or 0·04 inch.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature during the week have not been large, and the general mean temperature has been distinctly below the normal. The defect in the mean temperature in East Bengal has equalled no less than 2·3°, while in South-West Bengal and North Behar it has been nearly two degrees. In Orissa and in North Bengal the defect has been about one degree. In South Behar and Chutia Nagpur, on the other hand temperature has been slightly in excess of the normal. Some fairly low minimum or night temperatures have been registered during the week, the lowest recorded being 49·8° at Purneah and 50·2° at Motihari; the lowest registered at Calcutta was 59 3·

The variations of the average temperature of the week from the normal can be seen from the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are given, compared with the normal means for the same period. Temperature has been below the normal both during the day and during the night in almost all cases except Darjeeling:—

The total fall from 1st January to 24th November 1888	69·71
The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, S. G.'s Office ...	65·15

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives enumerated, as follows, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans before alluded to cannot be employed as a means of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorised form of age classification.

The 30th November 1888.—The following rules, framed under section 9 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, for regulating the weighment and removal under bond of non-duty paid salt from shipboard at Calcutta to a licensed private warehouse at Khoolna and for the clearance of the salt from the warehouse, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information, as required by section 204 :—

Rules for the weighment and removal under bond of non-duty paid salt from shipboard at Calcutta to a licensed private warehouse at Khoolna, and for the clearance of the salt from the warehouse.

Collector to make arrangements for weighment of salt.

1. On receipt of an application under section 91, Act VIII of 1878, for the admission of salt into a private warehouse at Khoolna, and after the due execution of a bond under the provisions of section 92, Act VIII of 1878, the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, shall make such arrangements as he may deem necessary for the proper weighment of salt during its discharge from the vessel, for the purpose of being conveyed to the licensed warehouse.

2. The weighment shall be conducted in the presence of the Preventive Officer on board, and the expense thereof shall be charged to the bonder at a rate of Rs. 3 per 1,000 maunds, if weighmen are not supplied by the bonder.

Weighment charges.

3. No salt for which the full duty has not been previously paid shall be taken from any vessel save in bags and in a lighter provided with hatches, which are capable of being securely fastened down, and it shall be the duty of the Preventive Officer on board to satisfy himself that such lighter is in a serviceable condition before permitting such salt to be placed therein.

Description of boat to be used.

4. As soon as the bonder or his agent or servant shall notify to the Preventive Officer that he desires to proceed with any boat-load of salt, he shall obtain a boat-note, in which the name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the quantity of salt contained therein, and the warehouse wherein it is to be deposited, shall be specified. The mouths of the bags shall be securely fastened, and the tying sealed with a stamp specially provided for this purpose, and the hatches shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the Preventive Officer. The lighter shall then be allowed to proceed in charge of a native officer or peon deputed for the purpose by the Custom House authorities, accompanied by an agent on the part of the bonder.

Procedure on despatch.

5. The boat shall be made fast to the bank nearest to the place where the railway wagons by which the salt is to be conveyed to Khoolna may be in waiting; otherwise at the moorings nearest to such ghat. It shall on no account be permitted by the native Custom House officer or peon on board to anchor anywhere else.

Place of anchorage.

6. Notice of the arrival of such salt shall at once be given by the Custom House Officer to the Preventive Officer deputed by the Calcutta Customs authorities to superintend the storage of the salt in the railway wagons, who shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector of Customs, examine and compare the boat-note delivered by the Preventive Officer to the bonder, his servant or agent, and the cargo of salt, and superintendent its removal to, and storage in, the wagons.

Procedure on arrival.

7. The bonder's agent and native Custom House officer or peon shall remain on board of the boat in charge until the seals and hatches are examined and all the cargo landed and put in wagons.

Duty of peon and bonder's agent.

8. After the salt has been put in the railway wagons, the wagons shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the Preventive Officer, who shall endorse on the boat-note the quantity landed from the boat and placed in the wagons. The boat-note shall be made over to the railway guard to be taken to Khoolna with the salt as a protective document.

Wagons to be closed and sealed.

9. Immediately after the arrival of the wagons at Khoolna, notice shall be given by the bonder or his agent to the officer authorized by the Collector of the district to supervise the transit of the salt to the warehouse. This officer shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector, examine the seals, and if they are found intact, compare the boat-note delivered by the Preventive Officer to the railway guard, and the cargo of salt, and superintend its removal to the appointed warehouse, where it shall be stored in bulk, the bags being returned to the bonder. The door of the warehouse shall have two locks, the key of one lock (which must be a Chubb's lock) shall remain with the daroga and the key of the other with the bonder's agent.

Procedure on arrival at Khoolna.

10. The bonder will be held responsible for any departure from these rules on the part of his agent.

Responsibilities of bonder.

11. All expenses connected with the removal and storage of the salt shall be borne by the bonder, who shall also pay to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, and to the District Collector, Khoolna, such fees as they may respectively fix for the services of the officer or peon in charge of the salt from the time of its discharge from the vessel's side to the completion of its storage in the warehouse.

Bonder to defray all charges.

12. If the officer referred to in rule 6 or in rule 9 shall have reason to believe that the salt has in any way been tampered with during its transit, he shall at once report the circumstance to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, or to the Collector of the district, as the case may be, who shall direct the salt to be re-weighed, and such re-weighment shall be made at the expense of Government.

Procedure when salt has been tampered with.

13. If there be found any unexplained deficiency in the salt on board the cargo-boat or in the railway wagons as compared with the quantity specified in the boat-note, the whole of the salt contained in such boat or railway wagons shall be confiscated, and the bond under which the salt is in course of being stored shall be cancelled.

Penalty when salt is deficient.

14. Salt relating to different bonds shall be stored separately and distinctly. Any admixture of salt specified in different bonds shall render those bonds liable to cancelment, and the holders to immediate payment of the full duty payable thereon.

Salt under different bonds to be stored separately.

15. On salt bonded in the licensed warehouse, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity delivered on weighment from the side of the ship in which it was imported, less an allowance on account of wastage, which shall not in ordinary cases exceed 2½ per cent. on the quantity bonded.

Calculation of duty on delivery from private warehouse.

16. In any special case the Board of Revenue, as Chief Customs authority of the Presidency, is competent to direct that an increased allowance for wastage shall be granted in accordance with the provision of section 122, Act VIII of 1878.

Increased allowance for wastage may be allowed.

17. If the Collector of the district has any reason to believe that any fraud has been perpetrated by the bonder or owner of the salt, or any person in his employ, he shall refuse to make any allowance on account of wastage, and shall demand the full duty payable on the entire quantity received into bond.

But not if any suspicion of fraud.

18. The weighment of salt on ship-board shall be carried on subject to such charges as may be in force, and under such subsidiary arrangements as may from time to time be made by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, in respect of salt intended to be bonded in the Government golahs at Sulkea.

RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF SALT.

20. All deliveries of salt bonded in the warehouse under the provisions of Act VIII of 1878 shall be supervised, as required by section 99 of the above Act, by the darogah, who shall give proper security, the amount of which will be determined by the Collector of the district, subject to the approval of the Commissioner and the Board.

Procedure on delivery from bond.

21. The working hours will be with regard to all deliveries from 7 to 11 A.M. and again from 2 to 5 P.M.

The bonders are required to make their own arrangements for cutting and removing their salt from the warehouses, as well as to supply their own tools for cutting the salt, such as sabools, kodalies, &c.

Bonders to provide their own labour and tools.

23. The duty of the darogah will be to keep in a book, provided for the purpose at the expense of Government, a correct tally of the bags as they are weighed and taken off the scale by the bonder's people, as well as to see that each bag contains neither more nor less than the prescribed quantity of salt, viz., two maunds. He will be held personally liable for any excess or deficiency that may be discovered. Both the darogah and the bonder's agent will be required to certify at the end of each day's weighments the correctness of the tally-book for that day's work.

24. Should any dispute arise between the darogah and the bonder or purchaser of the salt under delivery, the former will stop the weighment and at once refer the matter in dispute to the Collector.

The expense of such re-weighment shall be borne by Government.

Check to be exercised by Superintendent.

27. Whenever the bonder or purchaser is desirous of removing his boats or carts from the premises, the darogah shall satisfy himself on every point before, and shall also see, even where the accounts agree, that the boat-load or cart-load represents the exact quantity entered in the rowannah.

in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1887-88, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S REPORT ON THE ROAD AND PUBLIC WORKS CESS OPERATIONS FOR THE YEAR 1877-88.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—ROAD CESS.

Calcutta, the 26th November 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The report from the Board of Revenue on the Road and Public Works cess operations for the cess year 1887-88.

The present report succeeds that which was submitted for the six months ending on the 31st March 1887, and is the first in which the cess year under review has corresponded with the financial year.

2. During the year 1887-88 the cesses continued to be levied at the maximum rates in all the districts in which Act IX (B.C.) of 1880 is in force, except Backergunge, where the Public Works cess was levied at full rates and the Road cess at half rates. The current demand for the year amounted to—

	Rs.
Road cess	37,60,722
Public Works cess	38,52,424
	76,13,146

3. The following table compares the results of the year with those of the four preceding years, leaving out the period of six months which intervened between the conclusion of the cess year 1885-86 and the commencement of the year 1887-88:—

	Demands.			Collections.	Remissions.	Balances.	Percentage of balance on gross demand.
	Current.	Arrear.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1882-83	73,10,811	11,42,296	84,53,107	72,84,240	37,940	11,68,760	13·7
1883-84	74,75,607	12,60,272	86,35,879	69,78,960	26,998	15,93,981	18·4
1884-85	74,36,450	15,63,317	90,00,147	75,38,278	23,857	14,38,631	15·8
1885-86	74,97,608	14,65,317	89,62,925	75,38,825	39,151	13,85,098	15·4
1887-88	76,13,146	16,61,553	92,74,699	75,35,113	16,498	16,98,409	18·3

The gross demand for both cesses was Rs. 92,74,699, of which Rs. 75,35,113 were collected and Rs. 16,498 remitted, leaving a balance of Rs. 16,98,409 outstanding at the close of the year. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Board of Revenue that these results are not satisfactory. Since the year 1882-83 the current demand has increased by Rs. 3,02,335, while the balance of arrears outstanding at the end of the year has increased during the same period by Rs. 5,39,629. At the same time it is only just to district officers to recognise, as the Board have done, that the change in the period of the cess year will always affect unfavourably the balances outstanding at the close of the year. The latest day of payment is on the 28th of March, only three days before the close of the year, and the statutory allowance of 15 days of grace for cess payments will invariably result in the greater part of the payment of cess due in the last quarter of one year being postponed into the next. This result ought not to affect the aggregate annual collections each year during an average of years, but it must increase the balances at the end of every year. It must be remembered also that the two last days of March during the past year were close holidays. Even, however, making every allowance for these considerations, the collections were indifferent, and in some districts it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that this department of work has been unduly neglected by the Collectors concerned. Looking to the large balances, it is not satisfactory to find that the total collections on current demand amounted to only 98·9 per cent. the arrear collections on arrear demand to only 77·6, and the current collections on current demand to only 81·8. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that in all these respects, and especially in the realization of the arrear demand, the collection of the present year will show considerable improvement.

4. The following statement shows the percentage of collections on the arrear and current demands in the eighteen districts in which the arrear collections fell short of 90· per cent.—

	Percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand.	Percentage of current collections on current demand.		Percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand.	Percentage of current collections on current demand.
Burdwan ...	22·	86·6	Shahabad ...	79·7	80·6
Bankoora ...	44 9	73·2	Midnapore ...	80·8	76·1
Durbhunga ...	58·5	83·5	Bhagulpore ...	81·3	91·9
Hooghly ...	65·2	68·9	Nuddea ...	82·6	80·7
Cuttack ...	69·	95·9	Balasore ...	82·9	82·7
Moorshedabad ...	70·9	92·7	Khulna ...	83·	81·3
Jessore ...	73 4	73·	24-Pergunnahs	84·8	78·8
Mozufferpore ...	77·5	73·6	Patna ...	86·2	81·1
Sarun ...	77 6	80 4	Gya ...	88 7	80·9

It is observed that, with the exception of Midnapore and the 24-Pergunnahs, where the percentages of current collection are 76·1 and 78·8, all the districts above mentioned collected above 80· per cent. of the current demand. But this statement shows clearly that in many districts arrear collections do not receive the attention their importance demands. This year, as in the two previous years, the percentage of arrear collections is lowest in the district of Burdwan, owing principally to the difficulty which is felt in realizing the demands from rent-free holdings. It is said that a large proportion of the arrears in this district is irrecoverable, either as barred by limitation, or as representing double assessment. If this is so, no time should be lost in according the necessary remission and adjusting the demand. A re-valuation of the district has been sanctioned, and it is anticipated that the amalgamation of the lakhiraj holdings with the estate or tenure within which they are situated will greatly facilitate the collection of the arrears in future. At present the collections in this district are very unsatisfactory. In regard to the other districts also the Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept the explanation of the indifferent collection as sufficient. Sir Steuart Bayley must again repeat that the percentage of arrear collection on arrear demand is the best test of successful collections.

5. In the following districts, though the arrear collections were not less than 90 per cent., the current collections fell below that amount :—

	Percentage of current collections on current demand.	Percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand.		Percentage of current collections on current demand.	Percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand.
Manbhoom ...	51·3	99·5	Rungpore ...	81·6	90·6
Furreedpore ...	62·8	90·1	Pubna ...	82·2	94·3
Monghyr ...	73·6	91·3	Backergunge ...	82·5	97.
Hazaribagh ...	75·7	100·	Pooree ...	83·7	90 8
Dacca ...	77·8	91·3	Maldah ...	85·7	99·9
Chumparun ...	80·	100·	Dinagepore ...	85·7	100·
Tipperah ...	80·5	91·4	Noakholly ...	85·8	98·5
Rajshahye ...	81·5	99·5	Chittagong ...	86·4	96·3
			Julpigoree ...	87·8	99·2

It has been reported, in the case of Pooree, that the percentage of collections on the arrear demand cannot be relied upon as accurate owing to the fact that the accounts have been thrown into confusion by the amlah in order to cover their embezzlements. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that a full account of the defalcations is promised, and relies on the Commissioner and the Board to adopt without delay the necessary measures for clearing up the accounts of this district. He regrets to notice that the Cess Department has been inefficiently supervised, although the present Collectors are not responsible for the neglect, in more than one district of this division.

6. In the following nine districts the collections on both the current and arrear demand exceeded 90· per cent:—Lohardugga, Bogra, Singbhoom, Darjeeling, Beerbhoom, Mymensing, and Purneah. Of these Lohardugga, Manbhoom, and Darjeeling show the best results, the rate of collection of the current demand in Lohardugga reaching 100· per cent.

7. The number of certificates filed for the recovery of cess arrears during the year was 80,179, which, with the 33,054 pending on the 31st March 1887, gave a total of 113,233 for disposal during the year The number of certificates disposed of was 82,021, leaving 31,212 pending at the end of March 1888. The smallest number of certificates (850) was filed in the Chota Nagpore Division, and the largest (19,165) in the Burdwan Division. The sale of moveable and immoveable property was resorted to in 39,682 cases, but it is reported that actual sales took place only in 563 cases. The number of objections filed was 3,508, of which 2,302 were disposed of. In 509 cases the certificates were cancelled and in 416 cases the amount certified was reduced.

8. The reports which have been received by the Board of Revenue show that partial valuation and re-valuation operations have been completed in the districts of Dacca, Tipperah, Bankoora, Moorshodabad, Khulna, Darjeeling, and Pubna. The additions to the valuation of these districts aggregated Rs. 6,37,980, and the cess demand was increased by Rs. 38,459.

9. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Board of Revenue for their efficient supervision during the year over this branch of administration. The names of the officers favourably reported by the Board will be communicated to the Appointment Department of Government.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution and of the Board's report be submitted to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, and copies of the Resolution and of the Board's report to the Appointment and Revenue Departments of Government for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT FOR 1887-88.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—EXCISE.

Calcutta, the 27th November 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Board's Report on the Administration of the Excise Department for 1887-88.

In accordance with the instructions contained in paragraph 5 of the Government of India's letter No. 4417, dated 23rd August 1887, a concise account of the various systems of excise, which are in force in Bengal, has been prefixed to this report. Maps have also been inserted for the first time, showing the area in which the sudder distillery system is in force, the incidence of the total excise revenue, and that of the revenue from country liquor per head of the population in each district.

Revenue.

2. The total revenue from excise during the year under review exceeded that of the year 1886-87 by Rs. 7,39,269, or 7·3 per cent. of the total receipts in that year. Out of a gross demand of Rs. 1,08,77,906, Rs. 1,08,62,055, or 99·8 per cent., were realized. The increase was distributed over all the exciseable articles except rum, bhang, and miscellaneous; but it is mainly due to the rise in the receipts from country spirits, ganja, and opium. The following table shows the receipts under the different heads as compared with those of the preceding year and with the average of the previous five years:—

In every division the total receipts from excise have increased In the Presidency Division the revenue rose from Rs. 27,13,756 in 1886-87 to Rs. 29,64,783 in 1887-88, chiefly owing to the large increase of Rs. 1,91,835 in Calcutta.

In the Patna and Bhagulpore Divisions the revenue increased by Rs. 2,02,551 and Rs. 1,00,685 respectively. The receipts from the several divisions, as compared with those of 1886-87, are shown below—

Division.	1886-87.	1887-88.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Burdwan	10,64,387	11,41,125	76,738

Orissa	5,29,512	5,30,250	738
Chota Nagpore	6,00,683	6,07,899	7,216

Charges.

3. The charges for the year exceeded those for 1886-87 by Rs. 45,883. Of this amount, Rs. 37,314 represents the cost of that portion of the establishments of Excise Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors employed on income-tax work which was debited to excise when the post of Income-tax Assessor was amalgamated with that of Excise Inspector in twenty districts under Government order No. 2085, dated 13th May 1887.

Current settlements.

4. The settlements for the current year show a net increase of Rs. 3,24,708 as compared with those of the year under review. The improvement is chiefly under the head of country spirit, and is shared by all the divisions, except the Presidency and Chota Nagpore.

Country spirits.

5. The sudder distillery system was in force in the district of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, parts of the districts of Hooghly, Howrah, 24-Pergunnahs, Moorshedabad, and Dacca, and the towns of Burdwan, Calcutta, Lalbagh, Berhampore, Hooghly, Howrah, Dacca, Patna, Gya, Durbhunga, Chupra, Bettiah, Arrah, Mozufferpore, Monghyr, Jamalpore, Bhagulpore, Cuttack, Pooree, Balasore, and Giridih. The outstill system remained in force in the rest of the province.

The number of shops under the sudder distillery system fell from 655 in 1886-87 to 570 in 1887-88, owing principally to the introduction of the outstill system into the rural portions of Hooghly (including Howrah). The number of shops under the outstill system was reduced from 3,608 to 3,535, while the amount of the license fees rose from Rs. 29,61,752 to Rs. 31,91,384. This result is attributed by the Board to the breaking up of combinations among vendors, the employment of greater care in the conduct of settlements, and the increase of the upset prices of shops in relation to the working capacity of stills.

The outstill system, and the result of Mr. Westmacott's enquiry.

6. The result of the special enquiry which was made by Mr. Westmacott under the orders of Government into the effect of the introduction of the outstill system into Hooghly and Howrah has shown that the extension of the system to this tract has had deplorable results, and that it would probably have been better to have accepted the recommendations of the Excise Commission for the closure of two of the five sudder distilleries, which then existed, and to have relied on the three remaining distilleries to supply the wants of the locality. But the action then taken, recommended by the Board and confirmed by Government, was based on the best information and advice available. The result was not foreseen; and all the local officers were in favour of the experiment. With the light of the experience since acquired, the Lieutenant-Governor is, however, disposed to think that it is probably a sound principle that, in the metropolitan districts at least, outstills should not be substituted for distilleries, and it remains for the Board to consider whether, in the face of all the facts elicited by this special enquiry, it would not be wise even now to revert to the distillery system in these districts.

But the most valuable conclusion to be drawn from Mr. Westmacott's report is that to which the Lieutenant-Governor has already drawn attention in the Government Resolution of the 13th October last, that if the outstill system is to be maintained, the regulation of the outturn is the main point to which all efforts must be directed. If this has to be given up, the system must be abandoned. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad, therefore, to notice the evidences which are furnished by the Board's Administration Report that the importance of this duty is fully recognized by the Board of Revenue. Under the Patna system,—so called because it was first introduced into that district,—the size and capacity of each still, and the number and capacity of the vats in which the yeast for distillation is prepared, are regulated by the local demand, and it is upon this demand that the upset fee is calculated. The difficulty of this process is obviously very great; but it ought not to be impossible, and the object aimed at is one which it is necessary to attain irrespectively of revenue considerations. The Patna system was extended in 1887-88 to ten other districts, and in the current year to seven more. In regard to the local demand in these districts, the Collectors have reported that they believe the statistics furnished by them to be correct and trustworthy for all practical purposes. It is also said that there was not much difficulty in limiting the capacities of stills and vats in conformity to the local demand. The abkars made no other complaint than that the restrictions entailed additional labour and expense in distilling liquor; but this is so far satisfactory that it leads directly to the price of liquor being raised. The local officers are unanimously of opinion that the system has worked fairly well. This is a very encouraging report; and though the Lieutenant-Governor fears it is somewhat more sanguine than the circumstances altogether warrant, it indicates the determination of officers concerned to give a fair trial to the recommendations of the Excise Commission with which the Government has identified itself.

The following figures, showing the aggregate capacities of the stills allowed in all districts, are taken from Appendix C to the Board's Report:—

	Number of outstills allowed.	Liquid capacity of outstills in gallons.
1886-87	3,598	111,538
1887-88	3,560	74,784
1888-89	3,444	62,363

These show that the capacities of the stills have been very materially reduced during the past three years.

7. A further question, of almost equal importance, and from the nature of the case closely connected with the regulation of the outturn, is the maintenance of the price of outstill liquor, so that it cannot be unduly reduced. With this object, it is of the greatest importance to obtain the highest possible fees from shops. The price at which the outstill-holder can afford to sell must, after he has recovered the cost of manufacture, depend upon the amount of monthly fee paid for his shop. Rules have therefore been laid down by which the upset prices of shops might be calculated with reference to the liquor produced therein and the profits derived from its sale; and although it has not been found possible to insist on their observance in all cases, the average amount of license fee paid has steadily improved, as the following figures will show:—

	Number of outstills.	Total revenue.	Incidence of annual fee from outstills.
		Rs.	Rs.
1886-87	3,598	29,61,752	820
1887-88	3,560	31,91,384	902
1888-89	3,444	34,82,584	1,011

8. Notwithstanding the improvement shown by these results, there is evidence to show that prices have not only often been fixed too low, but that they have been too readily lowered when a shop has not been taken at once. The pressure which is put on the Board by local officers to diminish the upset prices is difficult to resist, and the Lieutenant-Governor must again draw attention to the necessity of firmness in dealing with such applications, even although their rejection involves some temporary loss of revenue. The wisdom of such a course is shown by the result of the action taken by the Board in the past year in regard to Chittagong and elsewhere. The cost of liquor is maintained not only by the imposition of upset prices, but also by an attempt which has now been made in no less than 19 districts, where both distilleries and outstills are in force, to fix a minimum price for the cheapest kind in each district. This was one of the recommendations of the Excise Commission, and as an experiment is said to have succeeded fairly well. Whether, however, any real effect is likely to be produced by the orders, under which there is not only a minimum price, but a graduated minimum price varying in different but conterminous localities, such as has already been accepted for Hooghly, and has been recommended by Mr. Westmacott for other places, can only be determined by the test of longer experience.

9. These are some of the principal improvements effected in the excise administration of these Provinces in accordance with the policy indicated by the Excise Commission. There are many minor matters on which orders have from time to time been passed by Government and the Board, such for instance, as the selection of sites for outstills, the material and the working of stills, barters, and sales to children, the time of closing, and the keeping of accounts. But the main features of the new system of outstill administration consist in the regulation of the outturn of spirit manufactured, and in measures devised for the prevention of the undue cheapening of liquor. The Board observe in their report that the Excise Commission's recommendations have now had a fair trial, and that their feasibility has been amply demonstrated. The application of the system has not been uniformly successful, and in some localities, where special enquiries have been made, it is shown that it has failed. Looking to the vast area to be watched, the varieties of locality and climate, the amount of detailed and constant inspection and supervision required, and to the existing imperfection of establishments, it must be admitted that the inherent difficulties in carrying it out are great. But the success already attained shows that the difficulties are not insuperable, and the Lieutenant-Governor relies on the Board and all officers concerned to use their utmost efforts to correct deficiencies and remedy faults where they are found. It may be expected that Mr. Westmacott's further deputation under the orders of the Board for the supervision of next year's settlements, and the additional attention which district officers are now bestowing to the subject in connection with his report, will materially facilitate further improvement.

Rum.

10. The number of licenses for the wholesale vend of rum was 21, against 20 in 1886-87. The number of retail licenses fell from 72 to 65, and the total quantity of country rum passed for consumption diminished from 15,160 gallons in the previous year to 6,691 in 1887-88. The total revenue collected from this source amounted to Rs. 88,936, as against Rs. 1,08,111 in 1886-87. This serious decrease is attributable partly to the large quantities of rum which were passed into consumption during 1886-87 in anticipation of the enhancement of duty which took place after the close of that year, and partly to a real decline in the trade, owing to the competition of cheap spirits imported by sea.

Imported spirits.

The revenue from license fees for the sale of imported spirits and wines rose from Rs 2,09,754 in 1886-87 to Rs. 2,33,041, though the number of licenses decreased from 955 to 921. The increase occurred in the Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, and Bhagulpore Divisions.

Tari.

There was a small decrease of 420 in the number of licenses issued for the sale of tari, but the revenue from license fees rose from Rs. 6,89,311 in the previous year to Rs. 7,27,829.

Pachwai.

The revenue from license fees for the sale of pachwai was Rs. 2,01,216, as against Rs. 1,78,263 in 1886-87.

Ganja.

The amount of ganja estimated to have been produced during the year was less than the outturn of the previous year by 105 maunds, but the amount exported from Rajshahye rose from 7,881 maunds to 8,224 maunds. The number of shops licensed to sell ganja diminished from 3,046 to 2,949, but the quantity of ganja consumed increased from 6,264 to 6,550, and the total receipts from Rs. 20,75,679 to Rs. 22,44,972.

Charas, bhang, and majum.

11. Owing to the separation of Howrah from the district of Hooghly for excise purposes, the number of districts in which charas was sold increased from 10 in 1886-87 to 11 in the present year. The revenue derived from this drug amounted to Rs. 2,772, of which Rs. 2,285 was collected in Calcutta. The consumption of bhang increased from 964 maunds to 1,010 maunds, and the revenue from Rs. 37,948 to Rs. 42,066. There was a slight diminution in the number of licenses and the fees for the sale of majum.

Opium.

12. The number of licenses for the sale of opium was 2,319, as against 2,040 in 1886-87. The proceeds from license fees and from the sale of opium both improved, and the total increase in the revenue amounted to Rs. 79,165.

There was a decrease in the consumption of opium in Hooghly, probably owing to the smuggling of contraband opium into Chandernagore. Three important cases of opium smuggling were detected, in two of which it was ascertained that the contraband opium was imported from Nepal. The amount of opium seized amounted to 53 maunds. In each case the offenders were convicted and sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

Miscellaneous.

13. The number of arrests for offences under the excise law was 4,739, against 4,372 in the previous year. Of these, 4,201 were other than licensed vendors, and the remainder were vendors who had committed breaches of their licenses. Of the persons arrested, 87·4 per cent. were convicted, as against 88· per cent. in 1886-87.

14. At the close of the year, Mr. C. E. Buckland, Officiating Senior Secretary to the Board, was deputed to study the systems of excise revenue which obtain in the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay, with a view to introduce into Bengal any improvements which an examination of the subject might suggest. The valuable report submitted by him, which is likely to exercise considerable influence in the future excise administration of these Provinces, is now under the Board's consideration.

Mr. Buckland's deputation to Madras and Bombay.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his appreciation of the manner in which the Board have continued to supervise the working of this important branch of revenue. The names of the officers selected for special mention will be communicated in the usual way to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—CUSTOMS.

Calcutta, the 28th November 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1887-88.

The following statement shows the gross and net customs duty, including the duty on imported salt, collected in Bengal during the last five years:—

	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Import duty (excluding duty on salt)	15,13,500	16,25,389	13,99,392	15,05,764	14,86,057
Ditto on salt	1,75,13,887	1,91,86,114	1,80,55,154	1,94,85,102	1,85,30,935
Export duty	19,92,100	16,24,288	18,10,621	15,80,440	21,87,248
Total gross duty ...	2,08,19,277	2,21,35,741	2,12,45,167	2,25,71,306	2,21,84,260
Refunds and drawbacks—
Imports	2,10,991	2,43,336	2,29,064	2,48,993	2,46,759
Exports	1,20,091	64,539	62,203	40,363	81,742
	3,31,912	3,07,877	2,91,566	2,89,355	3,28,501
Total net duty ...	2,04,87,365	2,18,07,864	2,09,53,601	2,22,81,951	2,18,25,759

In the year under review, the net receipts fell off by Rs. 4,56,192, or 2 per cent., notwithstanding that the rate of duty on salt was raised by eight annas per maund with effect from the 19th January 1888, and an import duty on petroleum was imposed at the rate of six pies per Imperial gallon from the 10th February 1888. The whole of the decrease has been under import duty. The receipts on account of general merchandize diminished by Rs. 20,798, or 1·4 per cent., and the duty realized from salt declined from Rs. 1,92,79,733 to Rs. 1,83,28,910.* The great falling off in the salt duty is said to have been caused by the operations of a single dealer in salt, who raised the price of the article by making heavy speculative purchases, and consequently checked the clearances during the latter part of the year. The increase in the duty on exports, amounting to Rs. 5,15,420, or 33 per cent., is due to the large shipments of rice after a favourable harvest.

* These figures allow for refunds.

2. The total value of imports into Bengal by sea, including both free and dutiable articles, rose from Rs. 29,79,29,855 in 1886-87 to Rs. 30,09,51,420 in 1887-88 owing to the increase in the imports of merchandize from Indian ports from Rs. 4,13,77,846 to Rs. 4,47,53,243. These figures are the highest recorded in any of the years under comparison, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the coasting trade has recovered from the depression which was so marked in 1885-86. An increase of twenty-one lakhs in the value of treasure imported from foreign ports was counterbalanced by a corresponding diminution in the amount imported from other parts of India. There was a slight decrease of four lakhs in the value of foreign merchandize imported.

3. In the export trade of Bengal there was an increase from Rs. 43,39,80,426 in 1886-87 to Rs. 45,96,6[illegible],935. Of this increase nearly 1½ crores is due to the expansion of trade with foreign ports after the heavy falling off in the year 1884-85. There is also a satisfactory increase of one crore in the coasting trade with Indian ports Taking imports and exports together, there was an increase in the trade of the province of Rs. 2,87,10,074, or 3·9 per cent. The figures are higher than those of any of the four previous years.

4. Calcutta, Foreign Trade.—The value of stores imported on behalf of Government declined from Rs. 96,78,007 to Rs. 79,18,900, chiefly owing to the decrease in the indent for articles required for railways. The value of stores, both foreign and Indian, exported on behalf of Government, rose from Rs. 1,503 to Rs. 36,380, and from Rs. 1,01,316 to Rs. 3,23,861 respectively. Excluding Government transactions, the value of the imports of Calcutta increased from Rs. 24,34,59,221 to Rs. 24,52,69,130, and of the exports from Rs. 34,63,63,512 to Rs. 35,80,04,675. The percentage of the foreign trade of Calcutta, carried through the Suez Canal, declined by 1·6 per cent. The proportions in which the whole trade of Calcutta is distributed among foreign countries did not vary considerably. The trade with the United Kingdom fell from 65·94 to 63·61. There were small increases in the trade with China and the United States, the countries which stand next on the list, and also with the Straits Settlements, Australia, Austria, Ceylon, and Mauritius. The proportions taken by France, Italy and "other countries" have slightly decreased.

5. Imports.—There was a decrease in the importation of cotton piece-goods, due to the reaction on last year's imports, which were the largest on record. The falling off, amounting to 83 lakhs of rupees, occured principally in coloured, printed, and dyed goods. The figures for the year amount to Rs. 12,62,81,472. The participation of native houses of business in the direct trade with Manchester still continues, and has a tendency to increase. The import trade in metal recovered a little after a continuous decline in the three previous years. The increase in the imports of machinery and mill works amounted to 26·4 per cent. Steam-engines were imported to a large extent for the steamers constructed for inland trade; and the flourishing condition of the jute and paper mills created a large demand for other sorts of machinery. The total value of the imports of metals of all kinds rose from Rs. 1,87,52,632 to Rs. 2,00,46,793. There was a further increase in the import of mineral oil, on which duty has been imposed since February last, the value of the oil imported in 1887-88 being Rs. 74,12,509 against Rs. 61,86,288 in 1886-87. Russian oil from Batoum was for the first time imported into Calcutta, and it is reported by the Collector to be quite as safe, free from smoke and suitable for lighting purposes as the American oil.

6 There has been an increase in the import of malt liquors; the receipts rose from 569,714 gallons in 1886-87 to 717,648 gallons in 1887-88, or from Rs. 12,90,773 to Rs. 14,47,306 in value. Mr. Armstrong writes.—"There is a keen competition now in light beers of all kinds due to the rivalry of the brewers who try to secure a share of the Indian trade. Pilsener, which started the taste for light beer in this country, still heads the list with 168,611 gallons, but a new English light beer, Younger and Co's., is running up and stands for the past year at 47,614 gallons, against 46,653 for the previous year. Bass' beer has fallen to 107,750 gallons from 130,560." There was a decline in the importation of spirituous liquors from 311,856 to 295,032 gallons in quantity, and from Rs. 25,05,083 to Rs. 23,41,402 in value. The importation of whisky was 126,603 gallons against 80,901 of brandy. In wines and liqueurs there is a slight increase, but the tendency in recent years has been towards a reduction in quantity.

7. Exports.—The proportion which the value of the principal articles exported bore to the whole export trade during 1887-88 is as follows:—Jute (raw and manufactured), 19 per cent.; opium, 16·75 per cent.; tea, 14·25 per cent.; seeds, 10·5 per cent.; indigo, 7·5 per cent.; rice, 7 per cent.; hides and skins, 5·75 per cent.; wheat, 4·75 per cent.; cotton, raw, 4 per cent. Owing to a favourable season; the exports of raw jute increased, in spite of the high prices obtainable in India from the Calcutta mills, from 7,003,740 to 8,226,688 cwt., or 17·4 per cent. The export of gunny-bags likewise advanced 14·1 per cent., though there was a considerable decline in the exports to the United Kingdom, owing, it is said, to the competition of the Dundee mills. The rice trade also, owing to an abundant crop, showed an advance from 5,113,416 to 6,762,544 cwt. in quantity, and from Rs. 2,02,87,384 to Rs. 2,48,69,992 in value.

8. The export of wheat during the last five years is shown in the following table:—

	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.
Cwt.	7,611,414	2,561,677	4,189,531	7,035,276	4,332,809
Rupees	3,04,27,244	99,91,067	1,52,96,583	2,62,81,636	1,67,90,729

It will be seen that during the year under review the export of wheat declined in quantity by 38·4 per cent. This is ascribed to short outturn owing to blight and insufficient rain. The Collector of Customs observes under this head :—"The wheat crop in Russia and a part of the United States was a very full one, so that the short yield in India had no effect on prices. I had to report for 1884-85 the average price of wheat in England at 35*s.* 8*d.* per quarter, a price which had not been touched since 1780, but the average price for the past year was 32*s.* 7*d.* per quarter. This has of course tended to further decrease the area in which wheat is grown in the United Kingdom."

9. Of the other articles, tea, indigo, cotton, hides and skins, and saltpetre need only be noticed. The export of tea increased last year by 8,639,878lbs, or 11·1 per cent., and the average price, if reliance can be placed on the figures, diminished from 9 annas 6 pies to 9 annas 5 pies. The bulk of this amount was taken by the United Kingdom. The exports to the United States declined, owing, it is said, to the preference given by the Americans to China tea over Indian. The total exportation of tea from Calcutta during the year was 86,049,674lbs. The quantity of indigo exported was 87,335 cwt., against 87,942 cwt. in 1886-87; but there was an increase of 4 6 per cent. in the price realized. The average price per maund was Rs 231 against Rs. 219 in the year preceding. This valuable dye continues to hold its own against all rival chemical preparations.

The exports of raw cotton, owing to the poorness of the crop, diminished from 770,940 cwt. to 618,426 cwt., or by 19·8, and those of raw hides and skins also decreased by 19·4 per cent. and 6 per cent. respectively. The trade in saltpetre has continued to decline owing to the fact that the natural saltpetre, which is found only in India, has to compete with the artificial salt now being manufactured for the markets of Europe.

10. Treasure.—The steady decline in the imports of gold, which began in 1881-82, has continued during the present year. But although there was a decrease in Calcutta, the imports of gold into the whole of India are known to have largely increased. The silver imports increased in Calcutta as well as elsewhere.

11. Coasting trade.—The year 1887-88 shows an increase of Rs. 16,95,201 in the imports to Calcutta from other British Indian ports. Of this improvement 5½ lakhs come from Bombay, 2 from Madras, and 4½ from British Burmah. The import trade with other Indian ports, not British, also shows an improvement. The total value of the trade with all Indian ports taken together increased by Rs. 17,84,133, or Rs. 5·7 per cent. The exports from Calcutta to British Indian ports likewise increased by Rs. 68,99,687 in Indian produce and by Rs. 11,61,644 in foreign merchandize. There was a slight falling off in the export trade with Indian ports not British. Taking the export trade of all the ports together, there was an increase of Rs. 80,53,880, or 14·6 per cent.

12. Chittagong.—The improvement in the trade of Chittagong, noticed in the last year's Resolution, was maintained in the year under review. The value of the foreign trade rose from Rs. 90,95,506 to Rs. 1,25,69,987, and that of the coasting trade from Rs. 1,83,77,807 to Rs. 1,65,12,828.

The exports of jute rose from Rs. 81,71,095 in 1886-87 to Rs. 98,40,670 in 1887-88 and the value of rice exported also increased by nearly 12½ lakhs.

13. The Orissa ports.—The following statement compares the trade of the Orissa ports in 1887-88 with that in the previous year :—

	Balasore.		Cuttack.		Pooree.
	1886-87.	1887-88.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1886-87.	1887-88.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sea-borne	1,09,83,563	1,12,75,928	18,73,288	14,75,152	2,53,194	2,69,154
Coasting	1,07,29,190	1,07,08,942	2,80,945	2,37,257	1,51,084	1,39,358

It will be seen that the trade of the Balasore ports and of Pooree revived a little during the year, while that of Cuttack decreased largely. Taking all these ports together, the value of the trade decreased by Rs. 89,811. The net duty realized at Balasore last year was Rs. 19,121 in excess of that realized in 1886-87. In Cuttack it was less by Rs. 11,409, while at Pooree there was a slight increase of Rs. 1,580.

14. Naraingunge.—The trade of Naraingunge, a port for coasting trade only, improved during the past year from Rs. 87,96,605 to Rs. 1,04,21,184, or 18·4 per cent. This improvement is almost entirely due to the increased export of jute.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to the Board of Revenue and to the Collector, Mr. Armstrong, for their efficient administration of the department during the year, and for the interesting and complete reports they have submitted. The names of the officers favourably noticed by the Board will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period on the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

or the week ending Friday, the 30th of November 1888

CALCUTTA, the 4th December 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 30TH OF NOVEMBER 1888.

CONDITIONS in Bengal at the close of the previous week were those of normal north-east monsoon character. Pressure was high, and temperature and humidity comparatively low, while the sky was either cloudless, or lightly clouded, and the whole province was rainless. At the commencement of the present week pressure commenced to fall in North-Western India, and on the 25th the changes showed that pressure was in an unsettled state, and a distinct barometric disturbance or depression existed near Agra, and between this station and Delhi. At the same time also slight disturbances set in along the line of the hills. On the 26th the slight depression had travelled southwards, and was near Saugor, and it was giving unsettled weather and rain to parts of the North-West Provinces and South-East Punjab. Weather was also on this day very unsettled in the hills, where hail and rain storms were reported. On the 27th and 28th the depression gradually filled up or became more diffused, and on the latter date a new depression appeared over parts of the hill districts. The disturbed conditions which had accompanied the depression in the Central Provinces, or which had been brought about by the stormy weather in the hills, appear to have gradually extended on about the 28th to parts of South Behar, and on the 29th to almost the whole of Behar and North Bengal; and the disturbance was sufficiently developed to give moderate general rain to the greater part of this area On the 30th, also, a few light showers were received at some stations in the west of the province; but on the whole the rainfall on this day was unimportant, and it was clear that the disturbed conditions were gradually passing away again, and that they would shortly be replaced by normal north-east monsoon conditions of a pronounced character. With the existence of these disturbed conditions over parts of the province, the sky generally clouded over considerably in Bengal, while humidity and temperature rose; but except in the divisions above named, rainfall was almost absent from the remainder of the province, though a few showers were reported in Chutia Nagpur.

Pressure.—The movements of the barometer have been rather considerable during the week. For the first three days there was rather a sharp rise, amounting in the period to nearly a tenth of an inch, and on the following day there was a sudden drop, amounting in some instances to about a twentieth of an inch. For the following two days the changes were small, and on the last day of the week pressure had again commenced to increase. For the whole week the general pressure for the province has been above the normal by about 0·065 inch, the excess being usually largest in the east and north of the province.

Temperature.— It is usual during the cold weather months when conditions become disturbed in Bengal, that temperatures, and more particularly the night temperatures, become decidedly high. The past week has been a good example of this fact, and the average mean temperature of the province for the period has been 2·3° in excess of the normal; the excess equalling no less than from 4° to 5° in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur. That this excess has been to a great extent confined to the night temperatures is also shown in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are given, compared with the normal values for the same period. At these nine stations the day temperatures have only been in excess of the normal by an average amount of 1·3°, while the night temperatures have been in excess by 2·9°. At Patna the excess in the minimum temperature has been no less than 7·4°, and at Gya 5·6°:—

Rainfall.—As previously stated, rainfall has been mainly confined to Behar, while it has been less general and in smaller amounts in North Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. The general fall in Behar is equal to about two or three-tenths of an inch, and the falls have been very fairly general except in parts of the Chumparun and Sonthal Pergunnahs districts. Average falls of rather more than half an inch are reported from the Gya and Patna districts, and average falls of about a quarter of an inch from the districts of Bhagulpore Monghyr, Shahabad, Sarun, Mozufferpore, and Purneah. Very light falls only have been received in Chumparun, Durbhunga, and Sonthal Pergunnarh districts. In South Bengal the Julpigori and Cooch Behar districts have received geneals rain, averaging about a fifth of an inch, and in the Rungpore district falls of about a tenth of an inch are recorded. A few showers have fallen in Dinagepore, but elsewhere in this division it has been rainless. In Chutia Nagpur the only moderate falls are at a few stations in the Lohardugga district, which average from one to two-tenths of an inch.

Elsewhere the whole province has been rainless.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 30th of November 1888:—
